Curlers from Fenelon participated in the British Consol event last weekend and memory surged back to the days of yore when curlers from the Cataract village were very formidable. There was Jim Daniels, Charlie Burgoyne, Harry McCallum, G. F. Vicars, Alvin Gould, Alex. Northey, Bert and Art. Robson, Rainey Burke, Dave Gordon, Bill Aldous, Morris Lancaster and others. Many a hard fought game took place in the old rink and Fenelon Falls was hard to beat.

Club, probably had the fastest stone of any Lindsay curler and he was deadly with his fast rocks. He was one of Lindsay's best and his name appears on Tankard banners. Brother Art Carew was another excellent curler and a past president of the Lindsay Club. He skipped several rinks to the championship of the Club.

Messrs. John Carew and his two sons served at Patrons of the local Club.

History records the yearly battle on natural ice when a match took place for the coveted McDermid - McFadden cup, the donors being F. A. McDermid of the Fenelon club and Geo. McFadden of Lindsay. McDermid was a lawyer and McFadden of Lindsay was known as the "wall paper king" as he was an expert wall paper hanger. Incidentally Mr. Herb McFadden is a son of the aforesaid gentleman.

Lindsay curlers owned their own curling stones and it was the custom to take them to outside rinks as the home club did not boast of extra stones. Home and home games resulted in the cup moving from club to club. Where is the McDermid - McFadden cup today? — a good question.

The Carew - Drew cup was also played for annually between Lindsay and Oshawa clubs. Frank Carew was President of the John Carew Lumber Co. of Lindsay and Drew operated a lumber business in Oshawa. Frank Carew, one time president of the Lindsay
