Letter From A Soldier

Mr. W. R. Hanley of the money order branch of the Post Office department, Ottawa, and well known in Flesherton, sends us the following letter which he has received from his son, Fred A. Hanley, in the 2nd battery, 1st brigade, divisional artillery. It is dated March 8th, the writer stating that he had been in France then since the middle of February:

"We have been in this country since the middle of February and giving the Huns lots of excitement these days and taking the same ourselves. It's great to get on the sunny side of some buliding and watch the German shrapnel bursting (quite close sometimes when we are walking on the road). The most interesting place is on the telephone with the forward observing officer at the Canadian trenches and it was there yesterday that I was first under fire. For the first half hour I felt like taking no chances against the German snipers and kept ducking as the bullets went past my head or the machine gun opened on the road. The only time to get into the observing station is at night along a road swept every hour or so by German machine guns and lit up by star shells and an extremely powerful search light. When this occurs everyone piles for the ditch or drops flat. Many of the infantry have been hit on this road. From one observing station to another is about forty yards which is done in about five seconds with the ping of the snipers' bullets trimming the hedge over head. They dropped thirty four shells into a place about fifty yards from us a couple of days ago. One Tommy heard one coming and dropped. The shrapnel landed 10 feet from him and didn't hit him, but the snipers are worse than the shells. To expose oneself in the open is straight suicide. We have funk holes, or dug outs near the guns which are made as comfortable as possible with straw on the floor and little coal stoves, where the gun crew live. I am on the line of communication taking my turn on the telephone. About my arrival in France and our trip of a week in a box car there is nothing exciting to relate except that it was a big night when we left Devizes. It is very cold at present, a light snow falling today. There was a blizzard when we left for the firing line.

"The Germans knew immediately we were here for they shouted to the infantry, "Come on you Canadians with your rusty Ross rifles." How's things in Montreal?' We are nearly surrounded here as this is the apex of the British wedge into the German lines and if they only feed us better they can prolong this war for a couple of months. I am going to find some place to live where the rain fall is zero per annum and when I reach that Utopia I'll have beef-steak and onions for every meal."

In Memoriam

In Memory of James Chard.

Some day, sometime, our eyes shall see
The face we loved so well;
Some day our hands shall clasp in his
And never say farewell.

The flowers we lay upon the grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for him who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.

Removes to Sunderland

Mr. Harold Mitchell, son of the manager, who has been teller in the Standard bank here for some time, is being removed to Sunderland, and on Friday night last about fifty people, young and old, held a farewell reception for him in the high school, when a very enjoyable time was spent. During the course of the evening he was presented with a valuable club bag and the following address:

Dear Friend,—We have learned with regret that you are about to remove from our midst, and feel that we cannot let your departure pass unnoticed.

Many of us have known you since childhood, and therefore feel more keenly your removal. We are well aware that you will be missed, particularly in social circles, but our loss will be others' gain.

We trust that your success in the future will be as marked as in the past, and all join in wishing you many happy and prosperous days.

Please accept this club bag, not for its intrinsic value, but simply to remind you of the friends left in Flesherton Signed—H. H. Sullivan, Fred G Karstedt, G. A. McTavish.

Address and Presentation

A few of the friends of Miss Etta Thompson, met at her home on Monday evening of last week, prior to her marriage, and presented her with a biscuit jar and the following address:

Dear Friend—We, your friends of Chalmer's Church Sunday School and Guild, have assembled here for the purpose of spending a social evening with you before your departure from our midst. You have been amongst us for some time and will be greatly missed, not only in the social circle but also in the Sabbath School and Guild, where you have done such earnest and faithful work.

We felt that we could not let you depart from our midst without showing you in some way our keen appreciation of all your kindness and faithful service among us, so we ask you to accept this little gift and trust that you may sometimes think of your many friends here.

We wish you much joy and prosperity in your new sphere of life and sincerely hope that you may enjoy many years of happiness in your new home.

Signed on behalf of your friends,—Thomas Chard, Amanda Stewart, George Stewart.

Sheep Husbandry

Under the title of "The Great Neglect in Sheep Husbandry", which constitute Pamphlet No. 9 of the Sheep and Goat Division of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Messrs. T. Reg. Arkell and Norman Stansfield, two well-recognized authorities, explain the necessity for the early castration of ram lambs intended for slaughter and the value of docking in the maintenance of health. They consider that both these operations are beneficial and cannot see that, while they are practised in other animals, there should be any hesitancy in performing them on sheep. Ram lambs treated develop in flesh and command a better price in the market, while female lambs being docked escape disease and insect pests by reason of increased cleanliness. Illustrations are given of the methods employed and advice furnished of the desirable age and the advantages that accrue. Farmers would be serving their own interest by sending to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, for the Pamphlet.
