A Chairitable Occasion

Mr. James Ashdown, for twenty years a resident at this station and employee of the C. P. R., was honoured by his fellow employees at Owen Sound on the occasion of his retirement from active service at Owen Sound. The Sun says:

The waiting room of the C. P. R. station was the scene of a somewhat unusual gathering on Wednesday, March 31st, when the employees marked the last day of Mr. Jas. Ashdown's forty-two years of service by presenting him with an oak Morris chair and a rocking chair for Mrs. Ashdown. Nearly all the employees were present and Mr. Porte, locomotive foreman, who was elected chairman, was only the first of several to express the appreciation and esteem felt by his fellow employees towards Mr. Ashdown, who has been section foreman for eleven years. He has been connected with the Owen Sound branch of the C. P. R. or Grey and Bruce, as it was then, continuously since 1873 and probably no man in the service is better known or more respected. He was seven years at Shelburne, four years at Rockford, twenty in Flesherton as foreman and eleven in Owen Sound. His wife, formerly Miss Flora Mitchell of Melancthon, is still his partner in his joys and sorrows and is equally popular with her husband, among his associates.

Your Pocket or the Middlemen's?

Between what you pay the dealer and what you get in fence, there's at least 50% "selling-expense." Which can't add one cent to value—but does add several cents per rod to cost. You put that several cents per rod in the "middleman's" pocket, when you buy fence through the dealer. You put that saving in your own pocket when you buy

Because you buy direct from factory to farm. You pay us only a single small profit over and above the actual cost. You save the 50% "selling expense," in the shape of highest quality fence.

When you're offered "other" fence at Page prices—bear this fact in mind. You must pay "the selling-expense." So that fence, sold through the dealer at Page prices or less,—must be of lower quality, to make up the "selling expense."

Betts---Thompson

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Thompson, on Wednesday, April 7th, when their eldest daughter, Mary Annetta, was united in marriage to William Edgar Betts. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreens, with white bell and roses, by Rev. A. McVicar, in the presence of about forty invited guests, relatives of the bride and groom, who were unattended. The wedding march was played by Miss Louise Lee, of Owen Sound, cousin of the bride. During the signing of the register Mrs. Newell and Miss A. Betts, sisters of the groom, sang a duet The bride, who was given away by her father, was daintily gowned in white voile and shadow lace, with seed pearl trimming. Her veil was arranged in Juliet Cape effect, with wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. The groom's gift to the organist was a signet ring. After the ceremony the guests adjourned to the dining room, where all partook of a dainty wedding dinner. The presents were costly and numerous, showing the esteem in which the young couple are held. Amid showers of confetti and good wishes the happy couple left on their honeymoon trip to Toronto and other points, the bride travelling in a navy blue serge suit with hat to match.

A Key 265 Years Old

A very curious implement dug from the ruins of St. Marie 11, Christian Island, has just been presented to the Penetanguishene Historical Society by H. G. Todd, formerly Indian Agent there. This curious instrument appears to be nothing less than the veritable key which locked and unlocked the gates of the old Jesuit Fortress 265 years ago. It is evidently hand wrought from a strap of malleable iron one and a quarter inches wide, six inches long and three eighths of an inch thick, ending in a circle two and one half inches in diameter forming the ring of the key being hammered down to one eighth inch thick, the width cut away one half, leaving a shoulder at the ring. The portions curiously cut, to fit the wards of the lock, which are five in number are well defined, turning on a central pinion in place of the ordinary barrel and may be an emergency key made to supply the place of one lost. In fact it is a crude imitation and may have been the forerunner of those modern expert fancy keys provided for letter boxes in post offices. However its history and make-up is of great interest. It is in a good state of preservation though somewhat rust eaten.
