Columbia Note the Notes

Columbia Grafonolas

Records, Needles, Catalogues

The Columbia is the perfect talking machine. Compare all others, then hear this and we are not afraid of the result. We can sell machines on easy terms to responsible people.

All the best appointed city homes have their parlor machines and there is no reason why the farmer should not have the best music of the day in his home, including band music, vocal artists, and performers on all kinds of instruments. You can have it on a Columbia Grafonola, as perfect as the original, and for much less than you would pay for a Common Organ. They range from $20 up.

The Perfect Columbia

Is a marvel of recording instruments and the Columbia records, made in Canada, embrace thousands of selections from which to choose.

While Albert Donaldson, a business man of Mount Pleasant, was pumping an automobile tire, the latter burst. The demountable rim was blown off and struck him on the head, fracturing his skull and causing death within a few minutes.

From a herd of eight Holstein cows, Mr. D. P. McDonald received over $43 at the Grand Valley Creamery for the first 15 days of May. Four were 2-year-old heifers which freshened in October; 3 cows freshened in March and one cow milking over fifteen months. For one can of 79 lbs. the returns were $12.15. The price for May cream was 34 cents.

Harry Burke, a young man who for some time has been working as a farm hand for a farmer near Hillsburg, while fooling with a rifle which he is alleged to have stolen, together with some other goods, from the farmer for whom he was working, accidentally shot himself through the foot Thursday, and is now in Guelph. The farmer with whom Burke was emoloyed, missed his rifle, some clothes and a small sum of money. He also missed Burke. Burke's absence aroused his suspicions and he notified the constable at Hillsburg, and had him arrested on the road leading to Orangeville, and when found had a bullet hole in his foot. He explained that he had been fooling with the rifle and had accidentally discharged it. He was brough to the county jail and later removed to the hospital.

On Saturday, May 15th, about a quarter past six, County Constables McRae and Nutt entered the Queen's Hotel, Collingwood, with the intentions of searching the premises for liquor alleged to be kept there for sale. On entering, they immediately went behind the bar and seized a suit case full of bottles, but the proprietors objected and a scuffle took place, in which, it is said, the suit case was taken away from the Constables. After this a search warrant was produced, and read, but it seemed to be at the wrong time, as all the damage had been done. In speaking to the proprietor, Mr. John Ganley, he states that whether he kept liquor for sale or not, he could not have whoever had the inclination coming in and going over his premises without first producing a search warrant. In this case if Constables McRae and Nutt had produced the warrant, there would have been no trouble. There was only a bottle of wine taken away by the Constables.—Enterprise.

HENRY SHRAPNEL.

Inventor of the Deadly War Missile and His Reward.

Shrapnel was originally the name of a British general who, about a hundred years ago, was begging the board of ordnance of his native land for some substantial recognition in respect of the new and deadly missile he had placed absolutely at their service and was being told that the institution in question "had no funds at its disposal for the reward of merit."

Henry Shrapnel's invention was probably first employed at Surinam in 1804 and was then "favorably reported on," but eleven years later Sir George Wood, who commanded the artillery at Waterloo, declared that shrapnel had won that famous battle. Without it, Wood asserted, no effort of the British could have recovered the farmhouse of La Haye Sainte.

In 1814 the government granted Shrapnel a pension of £1,200 a year for life, but this was interpreted by his paymasters to cover all the inventions Shrapnel had given to the army, including an ingenious gun mounting whereby the recoil was utilized to bring one gun into action at the same time as another was put under cover. Shrapnel was thus placed at a disadvantage, though he had the satisfaction of drawing his pension to a ripe old age. He died in 1842, aged eighty-one.—Argonaut.

THE MALTESE DERBY.

Its Curious Race Course With Go as You Please Rules.

Horse racing is a favorite sport the world over, but it is doubtful whether any nation can boast of such a curious race course or claim more remarkable ideas of the sport than the Maltese.

Once a year the road skirting Sliema harbor is reserved as a race course, and the people turn out in thousands. There is no regulation of the course. The crowd simply clears out of the way as the horses come along.

The jockeys ride without bridles or saddles, and each carries a whip in either hand—one for his own mount, the other to keep back any horse which may try to overtake him. We saw one of the spectators deliberately trip a horse up by putting his leg out, at grave risk to himself.

These things, however incredible as they seem to sportsmen in this country, are taken as quite a matter of course, and consequently hardly a year goes by without a fatality of some kind. All things considered, it is not likely that the "go as you please" rules of this Maltese derby are likely to commend themselves to other turf authorities.—Wide World Magazine.

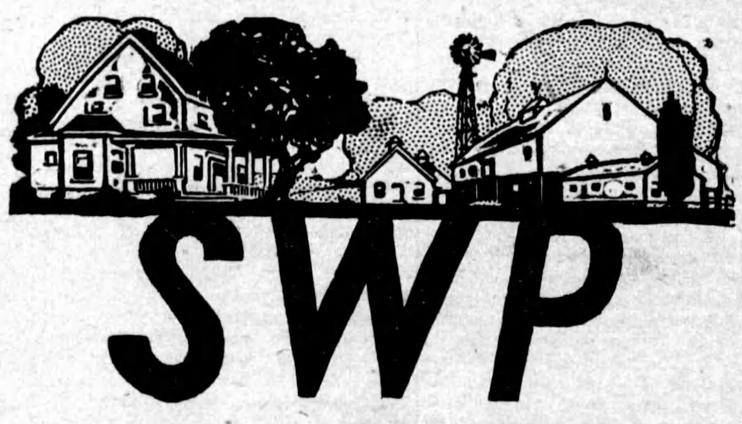
Our Motto—"SMALL PROFITT AND QUICK RETURNS"



SWP means Sherwin-Williams Paint (Prepared). This is the best paint for you to use because it is made of pure materials—pure lead, pure zinc, pure Linseed Oil, and pure coloring pigments which are thoroughly mixed and ground in scientific proportions by powerful machinery.

It is better than the old fashioned hand-mixed paint because the materials are put together according to correct chemical formulae which have been tested out in a practical way. • Its fine grinding makes it cover nearly 50% more surface than hand-mixed paint.

SWP is an economical paint because it will cover the greatest amount of surface, wear longest, and look best.—Ask us for color cards.

Mail Order Craze

The following is from a Vernon, B. C. paper.

It is worth while to stop and think seriously what this sending of money to mail order concerns means locally. It means poorer schools, poorer roads, higher taxes, unemployment. To buy cheaper things cheaply never did and never will mean prosperity.

"There is involved in this thing of sending money to large cities for goods which can be purchased from the home merchant, the question of local prosperity. It is a poor policy to tear down the business stability of the home town in order to swell the prosperity of the large city.

"In the long run there can be no gain to anybody patronizing foreign business concerns at the expense of local concerns. If local merchants cannot get sufficient business to pay the expense of operation, it means that smaller stocks will be carried and the range of selection will be restricted. It means that fewer clerks will be employed; it means that fewer houses will be built or rented; it means that the growth of the local town or city will be retarded. This means that in the long run that the amount of taxes which the rural districts will have to pay will be increased or that the public highway and other conveniences which make for better things will be sacrificed.

"This thing of sending out money in large volume which should be spent at home always strikes back some way or other. The school teacher may send away for her gowns; the boarding-house keeper away for his needs. Then comes the cry that revenues from local taxation because of decreased business are not adequate to meet expenses. Then school boards are confronted with the necessity of cutting salaries; the patrons of the boarding house become fewer; the sign 'for rent' is seen conspicuously posted on buildings.

"The whole question of local betterment is involved in this foolish mail order craze. If a community is foolish enough to spend its money abroad which should be spent at home, then that community must satisfy itself with poorer schools, churches, roads, theatres, mean-looking towns, everybody in debt, mortgages forclosed and general business depression.

"If the people would cut out the mail order nonsence for six months, there would be a local prosperity which would surprise everybody. When all the people learn that their own community is most worthy of consideration, when they learn the folly of building up great cities at the expense of their own local towns, then they can be called rational, and not till then."

For Base Hosbital

At a meeting of the Grey County Old Boys' Association held Thursday evening, the 20th inst., in Forrester's Hall, College Street, Toronto, it was unanimously decided to contribute the entire funds in the treasury, amounting to $200, to the maintenance of Base Hospital No. 4 of the Toronto University Medical Corps.

Owing to the small margin allowed for expenses by the C. P. R. on excursion tickets it was also unanimously decided not to have the usual annual excursion. It was with deep regret that the Association was forced to this decision, as the annual outing was much enjoyed.

Short addresses were made by Messrs. James McBride, Jackson Little, Thomas Masson, T. A. Kirvan and C. W. Chadwick, in which the speakers referred to many pleasant incidents at former meetings.

Killed With a Buzz-Saw

About nine o'clock yesterday morning a sad fatality occurred about two miles north of Holstein on the third concession of Egremont. Mr. John E. Wells was engaged in cutting poles with a buzz-saw, and a few men were assisting him. It was on his own farm, and Mr. Wells himself was operating the saw. As near as we can learn, a tepee of poles was nearby, and in some way, one or more of them toppled over and struck Mr. Wells, pushing him forward on the swift moving saw, which almost severed the head from the body. He was a man of about 35 years of age, son of Mr. Edward Wells, near Dromore, and son in-law of Mr. Isaac Hooper of Egremont. He leaves a widow and three children, the eldest of whom is seven years. The coroner from Mount Forest was called to the scene, but having learned the circumstances, deemed an inquest unnecessary.—Durham Chronicle.

The barn of Wm. Hebden, north-east part of lot 11, con. 5, N. E. T. & S. R., Melancthon, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground during a thunderstorm early Wednesday evening of last week. All of Mr. Hebden's implements, four hundred bushels of grain he had for sale in addition to his seed grain, a cow, two calves, and ten hogs were also burned. The barn was a good one on a stone foundation, and Mr. Hebden's loss over and above the insurance carried will be fully $2,500 —Shelburne Economist.

Two young boys residing at Claude, stoned a passing automobile and shattered the windshield. The driver of the car gave chase, caught the boys, placed them in the car, and after ascertaining their names, took them home and made their parents pay $3.25 for the damage done.
