A NOTE TO BRITAIN

President Wilson of the United States spends most of his off time writing notes—when the White House babies do not require Grand-Dad's attention.

His latest attempt is said to be a note to Great Britain, which will be prepared shortly, and will demand a relaxation of the strictness of the British blockade of neutral ports.

The note is said to be prepared, not so much because Great Britain has been an offender, but because it would convince Germany that Britain is not being favored by the United States.

When the note is despatched it will be interesting to see whether the British diplomats are as smooth customers when it comes to side stepping as the Germans have proved to be. Of course, a second note would then be despatched, full of loopholes for the British to slip through—or else Germany would have been discriminated in favor of.

NOTES

The headlines in our daily papers these days make the reader more than ever proud of his country says the Winnipeg Telegram. They do, except when one reads the headlines of the Manitoba graft scandals.

Letters From a Warrior

The following letters were received here last week from Bert Jamieson, who is in a hospital in England, by his mother and sister here.

Exeter, England, May 26, 1915.

Dear mother—Arrived in England all O. K., and am in the hospital here getting along fine—able to get up and walk, but not very far. It is just one month today that I have been in bed. They sure use the Canadians fine over here, they can't do enough for them. The gas that the Germans use is a terrible thing. Lots of our fellows died that were along with me. I had charge of a section of nine men. I don't know where any of them are now. The fellows sure showed what kind of stuff they were. They gave the crack Prussian Guard of the Germans all that was coming to them.

As far as I could find out there was only 240 left out of our Reg't. of 1100. It was the French that got us cut up so bad. They ran when they saw the Germans coming. It just rained bullets around where I was and the shells dropped like hail. I had some close calls, but didn't get hit. The fellows told me I was not born to be shot—I guess they are right. I don't expect to be able to do much for a month or two, anyway. I think the war will be over by that time. There is bound to be a lot of fever, as dead Germans and Frenchmen are lying all over.

I was up yesterday for a while. My legs are awfully weak, they refused to hold me up. But I will be able to get out in a couple of days. I suppose you got all the news in the paper of how we made out, so not much use of writing it here. Best regards to all the people. As ever,

—T. A. Jamieson.

Exeter, England, May 27, 1915

Dear May—I guess it's about time I am writing to you. I told mother to let you know I was in the hospital. I am getting along pretty good, but don't expect to be able to get out for some time. I am just able to get up, and my legs are awfully weak. They refuse to hold me up. I got an awful dose of the gas. It pretty near put me under. I would rather have a dozen wounds than get the gas again. It's terrible stuff. I suppose you saw in the papers all about us. The Canadians are some scrappers when they get started. You should see the Germans run. They are worse than savages. They can't fight square. They are about the biggest cowards you ever saw. The only way they fight is in a massed formation. Well May, I am getting the best of treatment here and the sisters and nurses can't do enough for us.

There were a lot of Canadians came in last night. They have been in another fight and got cut up pretty badly. We only had 240 left out of the 48th. I have not heard of Fred Smith. I don't know how he made out. I just had a parcel from the Canadian Red Cross in London. They sent me a pair of socks, a box of Candies and some cigarettes, and if I want anything just let them know. They look after us pretty well. My hand is getting shaky. I am not very strong yet. As ever,

—Lance Corp'l. T. A. Jamieson.

Shelburne

Mrs. Samuel Moore of Shelbure, when she went to milk her cow in the pasture field early on Tuesday morning, was attacked by a Jersey cow, owned by R. S. Jackson, and badly injured. The cow knocked her down and tramped on her, inflicting severe bruises. Mrs. Moore was rescued by Jonah Allen or the results might have been more serious. Dr. R. E. Davis attended to her injuries.

Frank Bettschen of Shelburne, who lives opposite the cemetery, met with a bad accident on Sunday. He and his wife and child started for his father's at Mt Zion with a horse and buggy. When near his destination the harness broke and the horse began to kick and Mr. Bettschen was kicked on the right arm, which was fractured in two places. The other occupants of the buggy escaped injury.—Free Press.

BASEBALL

The Rock Mills Baseball team played a return game with the locals here on Thursday night last and were again defeated, the score being 15-11. Although the score was rather large there was some good baseball, running catches by Smith for Rock Mills and White for the locals being two of the features. The last innings was played in darkness and the visitors scored seven runs in this period. Rock Mills played a good game, considering the fact that they played a game in Proton the night before. This game makes four straight wins for the locals and if they continue playing the same brand of ball displayed to date, they will win many games before the season is over. McAuley and Beattie were in the points for Flesherton, while Akitt and Allston performed for the visitors. H. Sullivan and F. McTavish acted in the capacity of umpires in a very impartial manner.

Duncan, account for supplies for crusher, $3 63; The Municipal World, account for blanks, 75c.; The Reeve and and Mr. Cameron report as committee, re townline Artemesia and Osprey.

Graham—Brown—That the Commissioner division No. 2 is authorized to procure sufficient six inch tile to drain a pond on highway on deviation at lots 24, concessions 13 and 14.—Carried.

Aldcorn—Graham—That Mr. Cameron be paid $5.00 for services inspecting Valley Road and meeting Osprey Committ on Townline, and the Reeve be paid $2 50 for services on Committee re Osprey Townline.—Carried.

Cameron—Aldcorn—That the following parties be paid for sheep killed by dogs, being two thirds of loss in each case: F. Pedlar, $22.00, and William Walker $4 00, the claims being certified to by Inspector Robt Plantt.—Carried.

Council adjourned.

COURT OF REVISION

H. W. Walton appealed against his assessment on lots N. parts 26 and 27, con. 14, as being too high. The Court reduced the assessment $50.00.

The Hydro Electric Power Commission appealed against lots 32 and 33, con. 8, and lot 31, con. 10, being placed on the Roll for taxation. The Court thought that these properties were liable to assessment on account of being occupied by tenant or lessee and sustained the Roll.

The Court adjourned to Monday, June 14, at 4 p. m.

Fisher--Lyons

The marriage of Islay Muriel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lyons of Port Law, to Samuel Wesley Fisher, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Fisher of Rock Mills, took place at the bride's home, the Rev. R. C. Kerr officiating. The bride wore white crepe de chine and a bridal veil caught with orange blossoms, her father giving her away, and Miss Pearl Lyons playing the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. Miss Mildred Lyons of Proton wore a brides-maid's frock of white voile. Mr. L. F. Lyons was groomsman. After the wedding breakfast a pleasant time was spent in the home. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher will reside at Rock Mills.
