THE ENTRANCE EXAMS.

At time of writing, the newspapers of this county have not been authorized to publish the result of the Entrance examination, although the results in other counties were published one and two weeks ago. We want an explanation of the delay, and the public want an explanation and are entitled to it.

There appears to be something wrong about the regulations, or the officials, when a delay of this kind is possible. There is an examining board for each inspectorate, consisting of three qualified teachers, who read and mark the papers. It is simply the names of successful pupils that are submitted to the Department for endorsation—or something. The papers do not have to be submitted. Just why the Department should hold these names for four or five weeks before releasing them for publication is what we want to find out.

If some of the happy-go-lucky officials looking after these matters were obliged to answer forty or fifty telephone calls every day for a fortnight they would at least know what the newspaper offices have had to put up with this year.

Will the inspector for East Grey kindly rise in his place and give us an explanation ?

NOTES

The Enterprise says "Collingwood needs industries and needs them badly." Granted. Automobilists travelling through that town this summer have noticed that they needed something, and we take it for granted that the Enterprise knows what's wanted. In the meantime the rake is out for five dollar bills. All autoists will hope they may soon get their industries.

Where Cows Give No Milk

Americans who travel through the interior of China greatly miss "Cows' milk and her butter," as a Japanese sign puts it. The people of the Orient use little of either. Mares' milk is sold to invalids at a high price because the Chinese believe that it is a source of great bodily strength. But the natives use cows solely for draft purposes, and, having earned her living for years in this manner, bossy stands upon her dignity when Americans demand milk of her. To her offspring she will give it, but not to man, if by any possibility she can avoid in.

With three coolies to hold the little cow and another to hold the calf, her owner succeeds in getting a cupful once in a while, but the struggle is too exhausting to be kept up every day, and he soon sells the cow.

In Japan there are now a few American-bred cattle, owned by foreigners, that make the native cows look like goats. One of these cows was imported into Korea by a missionary, but he had difficulty in getting his coolie to tend the beast. The servant was fresh from his country home, where he had heard little and seen less. He took the cow for an elephant, and fled before her. In Korea the little native cow is a petted darling that has been indulged to such an extent that, incredible as it seems, she refuses to eat grass unless it has been boiled. It is not unusual in very cold weather to see a pet cow clothed in a thick, warm blanket, while the children of the family shiver in their cotton garments—and often very few of them.—Youths' Companion.

An unusual fish was taken from a night line set out by Mr. Allan Leslie in the bay in front of their cottage on Tuesday. The unusual piscatorial specimen was about the size of an ordinary trout, but it was almost pure white and had a flat shaped head. It created considerable interest among the shore cottagers none of whom recognized it as belonging to any species known to them. —Times.

Military Camp at the Exhibition

Every branch of war activity to be vividly portrayed at Toronto Fair

Every branch of war activity to be seen in Europe to-day will be vividly portrayed at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto. Aeroplanes will land at the Military Camp after taking observations in mid-air ; miniature battleships will be blown up in the lake ; there will be bridge and sheltered trench building, armored cars, hospital autos, field ambulances with stretcher bearer sections, field bakeries and cookeries, ammunition columns, bomb throwers, signal corps, observation masts, etc. The Camp will be occupied by several hundred officers and men now training for overseas service at Niagara and other camps for the infantry, cavalry and artillery units.

How to Help a Town

The man who has the welfare of his town at heart should remember that level-headed practical business men comply in a code of words which are called to mind by the following crumb dropped by Horace Greely in an address delivered in an ambitious western town :

Order your goods from New York.

Buy of peddlars as often as possible.

Go to some other place to get your job printing done.

Contribute what news you have to any but home papers.

Glory in the downfall of some man who has done much to build up the town.

Patronize out of town papers to the exclusion of your own and denounce them for not being as large and as cheap as city papers.

Attend the services of some minister who lives in a bigger town and has a bigger salary and let the home preacher live on sawdust and fine needles. It's fashionable, you know.

The name of Campbell is familiar in the records of military heroism, says the Vancouver News-Advertiser, but Lieut. Campbell of Western Ontario, who was wounded while supporting a machine gun on his back so that the corporal could fire it into an enfilading hostile force, deserves a place in the honor roll. Lieut. Campbell's home is in Mt. Forest.

Explosion at Orillia

Orillia, July 23.—One girl, Miss Myrtle Beach, lost her life, and two men, George Fraser and a man named Tregaz, received severe injuries in the fire which followed a heavy explosion of gasoline and completely destroyed Walker's garage here today. The outbreak followed the filling of the gas tanks underneath the building and completely wrecked the whole property, destroying as well the fifteen motor-cars in the garage at the time.

Very little damage was done to the adjoining buildings. Geo. Walker, one of the proprietors, was the only one on the premises who succeeded in escaping.

THOS. BENTHAM,
1 July Flesherton.

Attempts have been made recently to do the burglar act at several places in town. First McKay's blacksmith shop was entered and the safe opened, but the would-be thieves didn't get anything for their trouble. At Gilpin's barber shop a box of cigars was secured. This week an attempt was made to enter the store of the Norton Fisher Co., but the marauders were scared off before they accomplished anything. It is evident that nothing short of the jail or reformatory will satisfy them.—Shelburne Economist.

Frank Deuvall of Shelburne appeared before Magistrates Falconer and Hall on Thursday last, on the charge of selling liquor, Inspector Robinson of Orangeville being the complainant. Crown Attorney Island of Orangeville conducted the prosecution, and Deuvall was defended by Mr. Wilkinson of Toronto. After hearing some witnesses, the trend of the evidence being against the accused, an adjournment was made to Wednesday afternoon of this week. As this is a second offence, Deuvall having been fined for selling liquor before, conviction this time will mean a four months in jail.—Shelburne Economist.
