PROTECT HOGS WITH AN ALL-YEAR CABIN

Profits from hogs, like profits from most other lines, are largely affected by the size of the initial outlay. The hog does not need an expensive house but it must be clean, with the possibility of being kept clean with the least amount of labor. On a farm where a few hogs are reared or even where a herd of 100 sows may be kept, the necessary housing can be provided by cabins and box stalls for the farrowing sows built on the plan of what is known as the "All Year Hoy Cabin". Such a cabin is useful 365 days in the year, no matter how small or large the herd may be.

By its construction, the all year-cabin gives efficient protection in winter and summer. It is inexpensive, and is built on runners so that it may be removed to fresh ground at any time. In summer, lack of shelter from the intense heat is more injurious to young pigs than the cold of winter. By the use of hinged doors, comfort both in summer and winter is assured. Specifications for making the cabins are contained in the revised circular 131 (Publication) 618) "The All Year Hog Cabin", which may be obtained free from the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

WIDE HEADS

The old idea that cattle with wide heads and muzzles make the best gains in the feed lot is not founded on fact. Some wide-headed cattle do, and some do not, say veterinary authorities. The surest way of making gains in cattle, they say. is to observe which animals make the best gains, then follow through to keep others of the same breed.

Said the instalment collector:
"Look here, what do you mean? You've never made a single payment on your piano!"
"Well, the company advertised 'Pay as you play'."
"What has that got to do with it?"
"I don't play."

When is a Dollar Not a Dollar?

When it won't buy a dollar's worth of goods! For instance, compared to present-day standards, your dollar of the last war was worth, not a dollar ...but sometimes less than 50¢.. Housewives, who went marketing in 1917, had to part with $1.60 for a four-pound jar of jam which you buy to-day for 69¢... Dad's winter underwear set him back $4.98 then, as compared to the $2.98 he could buy it for to-day. You get a lot more for your money NOW ...because price ceilings and other anti-inflationary measures have kept the value of your dollar HIGH! That's why it will pay you to see that selfish spending $50 never undermines price control in Canada. Remember, you protect your dollar's worth when you use your money wisely VICTORY BOND. when you pay off debts BILL ... refuse to buy needless luxuries... give black markets a wide berth .. and don't hoard goods.

Make This Pledge Today!

I promise to give my support to keeping the cost of living down. I will buy only what I need. I will observe the ceiling whether buying or selling goods or services. I will pay off old debts, save for the future, invest in Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates. And I will support taxes which help lower the cost of living.

Keep Your Dollar Value High!
