Durham

Three weeks ago the Review voiced the opinion that there would be no Model school in Hanover this term and this was exactly what would have happened if Hon. Dr. Jamieson, M. L. A. had not got in touch with the Educational Department at Toronto with the result that the decision has changed.

A citizen of a nearby municipality was fined $20 last week for being drunk in a local option town. An expensive lesson but a salutary one and a warning to others. Constable Arrowsmith has a goal in his mind's eye and that is a clean town and if council courts and community back him up we'll all see it accomplised.

It is not often five generations come together in town but last Saturday one was recorded. The senior member of this group is Mr Robt Aljoe Sr. who is a nonagenarian in years and a great, great grandfather of the youngert member. His daughter is Mrs. Matt. Scott who lives with him. Mrs Wm. Watson of McWilliams is next in line and is followed by Mrs Crawford Harrison and her infant child. This babe can also claim great, great grandparentage on the other side of the house. The above group had a photo taken at Kelsey's.

The Annual Convention of the Grey County Women's Institute will be held in the Town Hall, Durham, on Thursday Aug. 26, 1915. Afternoon session at 2.30 and evening session at 7.30. Mrs. J.
