A Disgraceful Affair

On Wednesday evening of last week the Mennonite's large tent in Clarksburg was burned to the ground, together with the lumber used for seating purposes. There was no doubt that the tent was deliberately set on fire by some person or persons unknown. Two Mennonite ministers had been conducting special services in the tent for over two weeks previous to the incident noted, and early last week it got rumored about that one of them had stated that Belgium was responsible for the war. Other rumors were also in circulation, and on Wed. evening a large crowd gathered outside the tent and along the approaches leading thereto. Shortly after nine o'clock stones began to fall on the tent when the congregation quickly dispersed. Then the electric wires were cut and soon afterwards the tent was discovered in flames.

It was a discreditable episode, the more so because it occurred in a highly civilized and law abiding community, and because there was not the shadow of a reason for resorting to mob tactics. If the speaker made the statement attributed to him—and we are now assured on good authority that he did not say so—there was a decent and proper mode of legal procedure to follow. Mob law was put down in England and in British Columbia with a strong hand, and it cannot be tolerated in the Valley of the Beaver River.

The damage done amounted to upwards of two hundred dollars, and if the claim should be pressed against the municipality there is very little reason to doubt that it would have to be paid by the taxpayers. Mob law and rowdyism always re-acts upon the community that has been the scene of such disgraceful episodes as the above.—Clarksburg Review.

Walkerton

Robert J. Hornby, who was sentenced by Judge Greig to five years in penitentiary for having carnal knowledge of his eight-year-old step-daughter, was taken to Kingston on Tuesday morning by Sheriff Jermyn and High Constable Robt. Ward of Wiarton. The prisoner, who is 41 years of age, was thoroughly manacled before leaving here.

Wm. Riley, a travelling umbrella mender, was sent up for trial by Magistrate Tolton on the charge of attempting to break into the caboose of the C. P. R mail train here on Saturday night. The men's clothing, tools and some food were kept in the car and Geo. Polley, car inspector, claims to have caught the stranger taking the sides off the window in an effort to get in.

The death of Robert Muir in the House of Refuge here on Thursday last, at the age of 85 years, removes a man who came to the Refuge about three years ago from the vicinity of Eden Grove. His sister, Miss Susan Muir, is still an inmate of the Bruce Poor House, while her brother, James, absconded from the local charity plant about three years ago and later met death in the rocky region of Lion's Head. The father of the trio was one of the big men of Brant township in the early days and was familiarly known and generally referred to as Squire Muir.—Times.

Forty Recruits in Training

There are now 40 recruits in training in Owen Sound, and almost every day the number is increased by young men who have decided to enlist and who have qualified. It is expected that the 50 men required to fill out the present quota will soon be reached, but of course there is no limit to the number which can be taken. Col. Chisholm says that he believes that within a few weeks a large number of young men will respond to the call. He knew of a number who were only waiting until they were through with the harvest before enlisting and he had reason to believe there were many more.—Sun.

Lieut. Willard Malone of Owen Sound now at the front, has sent home as a souvenir a bullet, apparently from a machine gun. In a letter he also gave a list of the present officers of the 15th Battalion. Out of the list of 20 officers only about 10 of them are of the old company.

Grey County W. I. Annual Convention

From the Durham Chronicle.

The ninth annual convention of the Grey County Women's Institute was held in the town hall here on Thursday of last week. Nearly 90 delegates from different parts of the county were in attendance, representing over 20 branches. The hall was well filled at both meetings.

The president, Mrs Long of Meaford, occupied the chair, and the meeting opened with scripture reading by Mrs. J. Graham, and prayer by Mrs. T. McGirr. Mrs. C. Rawage then gave the address of welcome, and the reply was given by Mrs. B. A. Carruthers of Kimberley. After the president's address and a most pleasing instrumental duet by Mrs. Ibbott and Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. J. Hunter of Brampton was called on to address the convention on "Little things that make home happy or otherwise.

She first spoke on the Red Cross work. She said no woman should be idle ; all must work, work and give till we feel it. The time is now past when any woman should stand in the way of any man who wishes to go and help fight for our country and our homes. She then spoke on the beautifying of our public highways. She objected to the townspeople or any one else making the country roadsides a dumping ground for all trash, which they do not have to see again until the next time they come to dump some more, but which the country people have to pass each time they come to town.

Each home should have a vegetable and flower garden and also all the small fruits, and the garden should be made to be worked by the horse as much as possible. More attention should be given to lawns. Many men say they have not the time, when it is really a lack of interest. Too many homes are far too full of useless furnishings and bricabrac, where woman's time, energy and nerves are wasted in caring for these. More attention should be paid to the selection of wall papers and fewer carpets, cushions and draperies should be in every home.

Carefully prepared and well served meats should be given the family every day instead of the all too frequent "spred" made for company. Fresh air, pure food, exercise, rest and recreation are the five thing every woman needs, and the last two are the most neglected. Every mother is to do justice to herself if she is to hold the position that is required of her. A spoiled and indulged child is of no use to itself, its home or its country. Mothers ought to supervise the reading of their family and see that plenty of good periodicals and books are at their disposal.

Mrs. Danard of Kemble gave an interesting talk on "The Country Women and Nature," showing what lessons we may learn from the study of Nature.

A question drawer was conducted by Mrs. Hunter of Brampton, when many interesting and varied questions were discussed.

The following officers were elected : President, Mrs. Easton, Ayton ; Vice-President, Mrs. J. Pearce, Chatsworth : Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. J. Gardner, Owen Sound.

The meeting was closed by the singing of the National Anthem, after which tea was served by the Durham ladies in the Presbyterian church.

In the evening there was a good representative gathering and the free entertainment and addresses were highly appreciated by a large audience. Mr. Calder acted as chairman, and after a pithy address pushed the button and set the machinery in motion. Mrs. (Rev ) Marsh of Holstein gave a very interesting address on "A winter trip to Bermuda," and in doing so reviewed the history of the country, pointed out the manners and customs of the people, as well as the peculiarities of the climate, the scenery of the island, and the floral and other productions of the soil. The address was interesting and much enjoyed.

One of the strongest features of the meeting was the able address delivered by Mrs. Hunter of Brampton. She developed the association motto, "For Home and Country," into a practical address, full of inspiration, and patriotic fervor. Mrs. Hunter has a pleasing personality, and is an easy, fluent and entertaining speaker. The ladies of the Institute will not soon forget her addresses, and those who were present at the general meeting in the evening will be pleased to hear her again.

Patriotic choruses were sung by the audience, a choice duet was given by Mr. Harding and Miss Wilson, and an excellent violin selection by Mrs. Ibbot, to a piano accompaniment by Mrs. Nicholson of Holstein, was a valuable contribution to the musical part of the program.

Wright Telford & McDonald,
Owen Sound, Ont., Soliciters for Executors

An attempt to stea a valuable horse from the farm of Robert Shaw, Kemble, on Tuesday evening, was prevented by the timely interference of Frank Twining, a young man on the farm. About 11.30 o'clock Twining was at the barn and heard a suspicious noise from a neighboring field where several horses were pastured. He went back and found two men leading off a horse which Mr. Shaw values at $250. When they saw the young man coming they immediately let go of the horse and ran. But Twining was too quick for them and tripped one of the men. He had him on the ground when the other man took part and between them they used Twining so roughly that he has been laid up ever since, and the physician had to be called. The men then made a clear "get away." The local police have other complaints about attempts at horse stealing and it would be well if farmers kept a sharp watch on their animals.—Sun.
