Portlaw

The extremely wet weather has greatly hampered harvesting operations, and although the majority have finished there is still considerable grain in the fields.

Mrs. Geo. Hillock is ill at the home of her son, Mr. Geo. McMaster.

During a recent thunderstorm Mr. David Blakey's stable was struck witk lightning. The damage done was only trifling.

Mrs. W. G. Jamieson has been [illegible] with a badly injured ankle for the past three weeks, which is improving.

Miss Crawford of Alberta was a visitor at the home of her uncle, Mr. Wm. Love.

Miss Gladys White goes to Toronto this week to attend McMaster University.

Mr. Lewis Sheardown had the misfortune to lose his young driver by inflammation.

Mr. W. G. Jamieson went down to Toronto recently to see his father and mother, who are both very ill in the hospital there.

Dundalk

Mr. James Lonsway, of the Gravel Road, Melancthon, met with a very painful accident on Wednesday of last week while drawing in grain on his farm. It appears that on entering the barn with a load of sheaves the tongue of the wagon dropped and Mr. Lonsway was thrown suddenly from the load under the horses feet where he was trampled upon when the horses backed off the gangway. Wagon and load toppled over and the team ran away. Mr. Lonsway sustained a broken rib which pressed on his right lung; he was also considerably bruised but is improving as well as could be expected.

Frank Essex, second eldest son of Joseph Essex, of 4th con., S. W. Melanethon, disappeared from home on Friday afternoon last while in a deranged mental condition. For some weeks it was noticed his mind was affected and he was carefully watched by his friends until he had greatly improved and was able for the ordinary work on the farm. He was at work in the fields on Friday when his parents came to Dundalk to do some shopping. It was during their absence that he left his work and when they returned he could not be found. On Monday morning trace of him was found on the townline of Melancthon and Amaranth, where on Saturday he was seen by two or three persons going along the road and in the opposite direction to his home. Since this time the friends have not been able to locate him. He was wearing his rough working clothes and slouch hat. He is a man of medium build, dark complexion, mustache, beard unshaved a couple of weeks. He has always been of a quiet and harmless disposition. Any information of his whereabouts will be gratefully received by his father, Joseph Essex, Melancthon P. O. R. R. No. 2—Herald.

Kimberley Budget

We experienced a terrific rain and wind storm in this vicinity on Sunday morning last.

Miss Elsie Plewes of Collingwood is visiting at present with her mother, Mrs. John Plewes.

The carpenters have completed their work on Jasper Stuart's new residence.

Miss Elvie Bishop and Wm. Hammond left last week to attend Toronto University.

The way the grapes are disappearing from some of the vineyards in our burg it would seem that the sons of rest have still a good membership in this locality. Its too bad that some of them are not a little older so they could enlist and be sent to the front immediately.

Mr. Alfred Hill, one of our most progressive young agriculturalists has recently built one of the latest styles of O. A. C. poultry houses. It is quite evident that there is a great awakening in the poultry industry in these parts.

Messrs. Wm. Flood, John Taylor, Ian Carruthers and Dalton Ferguson motored over to Collingwood on Friday last to attend the exhibition in that town.

Miss Viola Lewis visited recently with her friend, Miss Rena McNiven, of Wodehouse.

Squire Stuart painted his house last week which adds greatly to its appearance.

Mr. Jas. R. Fawcett's corn roast on Wednesday evening last was a huge success, over 100, both old and young being present.

Mr. Ed. Baker of Vandeleur was a caller in our burg one day last week.

Walkerton

The action of the county council in donating $4000 per month to the Patriotic Fund to aid in caring for soldiers' families as long as the war lasts, is being well received by the ratepayers of Bruce. This will mean $49,000 per year or 1½ mills on all the taxable land in the county.

One of the women who accompanied a band of gipsies here on Tuesday got into the toils for working a rather smooth game on Norman Walford, G.T.R. station agent here. Having a weakness for telling fortunes, she accosted her victim at the station and insisted on reading his hand. Part of the game was that his hand be full of money, and not suspecting anything Norman enclosed in his fist several silver quarters and allowed the stranger to fondle over his paw. She went on delineating his character and revealing his future, and when he afterwards opened his fist and counted his change he was just $2.25 short in his finances. As he couldn't understand how she had extracted the coin, he kept adding and figuring away until she got out of sight, when he set out in search of her and came up with his quarry at R. W. Baker's store, where she was apparently trying to pull off the same game on the merchant. On being accused of theft she at first denied the charge, but later handed Norman back the coin. Thinking that she might be fleecing others, Walford notified Chief Ferguson, who arrested her on the street and dragged her screaming and shouting to jail. She was liberated after being in the cells a few hours and allowed to get out of town.

In the death of Dr. Lauchlin Sinclair, which took place at the hospital here on Tuesday evening last, Bruce County loses its oldest medical practitioner and Walkerton its pioneer doctor and one of its best known and most useful and highly esteemed citizens. The deceased, who was in his 77th year, was born and raised in Middlesex county.—Herald.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Fawcett, East Mountain (nee Irene Fawcett of this place) on Sept. 11th, 1915, a son.

Mr. Aaron Birch and sister, Mary, took in the Collingwood fair the past week.

The New Eng'and annual Anniversary and Harvest Home services takes place October 10th. The following evening, the 11th, a fowl supper will be served, followed by a good program. Keep the date clear, come and bring your friend.

Aaron Thompson had the foundation laid on Wednesday afternoon for a strawshed which will be erected next summer.

A large number from here attended the fowl supper at Ebenezer on Tuesday evening which was a bumper success and they are certainly to be congratulated, though fine weather favored them they were amply paid for the work and efforts they put forth to make it a success.

Word was received here early Sunday morning of the death at Thornbury of Mr. William Best. Mr. Best and his esteemed partner have spent the past seven years with their daughter here, Mrs. R. H. Wiley. They both suffered a severe attack of la-grippe last spring and at one time little hope was held out for the old lady, while he seemed to stand the tussel best, and when both after a long seige were able to be up again, the old gentleman then as usual went to Thornbury for a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Knott. Being very frail and feeble the trip was too much for him and gradually getting weaker he was unable to come back, and has for the past month been confined to his bed. He is 82 years of age and has been up till last spring exceptionally smart and healthy and his death is the first break in their family of four sons and three daughters, namely: Will in the West, John of Woodford, George and Ben of Owen Sound, Mrs. —— of Owen Sound, Mrs. Knott of Thornbury and Mrs. R. Wiley of this place. The remains are being brought to the latter's home from which the funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon to New England Cemetery. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones, especially Mrs. Best, who is left in very frail health to mourn her loss.

We understand Mr. Joseph Lanktree of this place and Mr. John Wiley of Maxwell have traded farms; the change to take place next spring. We are sorry to lose Joe and his family, but hope the exchange will benefit both parties, and we welcome Mr. and Mrs. Wiley and Miss Mary back to old home scenes.

Two new corn binders are coming into this neighborhood this week, the purchasers being Mr. William Wiley and sons, Jim and W. L., and T. I. Fawcett, J. Kirkpatrick and E. Wilcox in the second company. The corn and silos are fast coming into favor, and are a real necessity now among our real agriculturists.

Mr. A. A. Thompson has been confined to the house and under the Dr's. care for some time.
