Eugenia Paragraphs

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hislop and children have gone on a visit to Rochester, N. Y.

Fred Graham's little daughter, Loreen, aged 3 years, fell off a box and broke har leg.

Fred Jamieson's son, Jack, was successful in competing with the children of his age at Markdale contest and carried home the first prize. Jack did the same trick last year also.

John Fenwick and wife and Mr. Lord and wife of Chesley motored over to visit J. E. Fenwick the past week.

Mr. Rainey was working on the head gates wiring for lights and the telephone rang for him to open the head gates. He obeyed orders. It was gradually opened to about five inches, and in about twenty minutes he had another call to open it more, and in 10 or 15 minutes more the water came back from the surge tank in the pipe. At this time Mr. Rainey and Mr. Frazer were working on a scaffold over the man hole in the head gates, about twelve feet high. The water flew up the iron gate, bending it in a couple of different shapes and knocking both men off the scaffold. They fell on the cement floor, receiving some painful bruises, but scrambled up and turned off the water, and went to the boarding house for the rest of the day, thankful that they were still alive to tell the tale.

Mrs. D. Jamieson, accompanied by her sons, from Toronto, arrived at Mrs. McMaster's last week. We are glad to know that Mrs. Jamieson has improved in health and is able to come home again.

E. A. Graham motored over to visit friends at Heathcote.

Ella Lawrence of Kimberley was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Thompson.

C. Stewart and wife and Mrs. McTavish of Flesherton were guests of friends here recently.

A couple of young men started off for Owen Sound on a motorcycle one day recently. Owing to the speed and bad roads they capsized and broke their motor and were obliged to hire a car to return and send their machine through to Owen Sound for repairs.

Mr. Glass and son, Royce, are about to remove to Guelph, where the former has a good position awaiting him.

Mr. Ward and family are moving back to their home in Collingwood. They have spent the summer here, Mr. Ward being employed on hydro construction.

The ladies of this part are doing their part toward raising funds for an ambulance as a voice from the county of Grey, also recognizing Trafalgar Day, Oct. 21

Mr. Archie McCurry of the East Hill has a crab apple tree this year which produced a crop of apples that have no seeds. The apples are fully formed and matured but there is not a trace of a seed in any of them. The apples grown on the same trees other years had seeds but by strange freak of nature this year, not a seed can be found in any of the apples.—Owen Sound Sun.

Threshing operations are well on in this neighbourhood. The yield of grain was especially good while the quality is up to the standard.—Bulletin.

A pet dog owned by Mrs. Thos. Blair, of Allandale, formerly of Beeton, is probably the smallest member of the canine tribe in the county. Though twelve months old, it is no larger than a red squirrel. A Beetonian who is an old friend of Mrs. Blair states that he was in Allandale last week and met Mrs. Blair. She was carrying a small hand satchel and in it was her tiny pet. She told her friend that she always takes him with her when she goes out and he is eager to go when he sees his mistress ready to start, for as soon as she opens the satchel he jumps into it and settles down cosily for his jaunt with evident satisfaction.—Beeton World.

Teachers' Convention

The Annual Institute meeting of the Public School teachers of East Grey, met in Thornbury on October 7 and 8. The sessions were well attended and proved highly instructive and interesting.

The opening exercises and words of welcome were given by Rev. S. H. Jamieson. Miss M. Soul and Mr. G. H. Jolly, delegates to the O. E. A. gave concise sketches of the ideals and proposals of the Association. Details of business occupied the remaining part of the morning.

The afternoon held a special feature of interest. Mr. Wm. Scott, B. A., Principal of the Toronto Normal School, addressed the Convention. Mr. Scott is an ideal among not only the teachers of East Grey, but of Ontario, and his words which were concerning, "The factors of a good school," were highly appreciated.

Mr. E. W. Ward, Principal of Meaford Public School and President of the Association, in his address brought before the Convention such questions as "Rural School Boarding Houses," Inter-School visiting and the need of active committees.

A concert in aid of the Red Cross Society was held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening. The expenses of the concert amounting to about $30.00 were paid by the Institute, leaving a gross receipt of over $90.00 for the Red Cross Fund.

Following the opening exercises by R. S. W. McBrien, on Friday morning, Principal Scott addressed the Convention on the proposed Superanuation Bill. The discussion by Messrs. Holland, Ward and Petch proved intensely interesting. Clause by clause was dealt with until finally satisfaction was secured by the embodement in the Bill of several proposed amendments. In a brief address Mr. S. Huff, P. S. I., cleared away many indefinite parts and showed how essential it was for every teacher to sign in favor of the bill.

A paper was given by Dr. Moore concerning factors of school life, and sanitation. Owing to the limited time "The round table talk" was restricted to a very few minutes.

The last feature of the session was the presentation of a wrist watch by the members of the Institute to Mr. Chard, who had enlisted a few days before. Mr. Chard in the capacity of a teacher was very successful and will be missed greatly.

The convention proved one of exceptional interest. In course of time when Superanuation falls due the teachers shall still have in mind the session of 1915.

Dundalk

Geo. Green was so unfortunate as to break his leg in two places near the ankle Saturday night by falling down the steps in the barn at his home in Melancthon.

Mrs. Geo. Nixon, of this place, has been an invalid for nearly three years through breaking her thigh bone by falling on the sidewalk. Rheumatism developed shortly after the fall which has been giving much pain. Her sufferings are now increased by an attack of inflamation of the lungs, bordering on pneumonia.

After a lingering illness John Jordon, a highly respected resident of Dundalk, passed to the silent majority on Friday afternoon at the age of 66 years. The deceased came to Dundalk twenty-four years ago purchasing at that time the saw-milling business of Peter McGregor, which was conducted for a number of years.—Herald

A Farmer from Violet Hill neighborhood was on trial before Magistrates Falconer and Hall, Shelbourne, last week, charged with being drunk. As he had previously been fined for a like offence, the Magistrates had no option but to send him to Orangeville jail for a three-month stay.

Albert Dean, keeper of the local option house at Orton and also caretaker of the Merchants' Bank at that village, ended his life by shooting himself thru the head. Dean had been talking of going to the war, but his son who lives at Marsville, had told him he was too old. Deceased had since informed his son that if he ever got a hurried call to Orton to be on hand at once. Dean was in good financial circumstances and apart from his strange conversation with his son, no motive is known for the suicide.
