—MRS. E. HAWTON.

ERNEST HAWTON PASSES

A prominent citizen of Osprey Township, Mr. Isaac Ernest Hawton, passed away suddenly at his home at Feversham on Saturday, May 19, at 1.30 p.m., from a heart attack. He was in his 62nd year.

The late Mr. Hawton was born on November 17th, 1883, on the 12th line, Osprey. In 1910 he was married to Margaret Ann Stephens of Pretty River Valley and settled on Lot 15, Con. 9. Osprey, where he resided until his death. He was greatly interested in Osprey Township. For the past 15 years he had been a director of the Osprey Milling Company, of which he was president and for a number of years took an active part in the Osprey Agricultural Society.

Besides his sorrowing wife he leaves to mourn, six children. Hazel (Mrs. Jos. Wright) Maxwell; Margaret (Mrs. Elwyn Ferris) Proton Station; Russell, Feversham; Marion (Mrs. Geo. Sled), Feversham; Kathleen (Mrs. Roy McKeown), Duncan; and Carl, at home. There are also ten grandchildren. He also leaves five brothers and four sisters, this being the first break in the Hawton family: Fred, Stayner; Henry, Weyburn, Sask.; Mrs. Robt. Stephenson, Stayner; Edward, Edmonton, Alta.; Mrs. A. N. Brownridge, Stayner; Mrs. Wainman Scutt, Badgeros; Samuel, Nottawa, and Alfred at Feversham. and Mrs. Walter Bristow of Nottawa.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon, May 21, from his late residence, Rev. O. W. Holmes of Maxwell and Rev. Caleb Harris of Indian Road Baptist Church, Toronto conducting the service. Mr. G. Eby rendered a solo "Sometime We'll Understand." Interment was made in Stayner Cemetery.

Among the beautiful floral offerings were tokens of sympathy from Feversahm Ladies' Aid, Osprey Farmers' Milling Co., and Osprey Agricultural Society.

Real Social Security or Rationed Scarcity?

To the political and economic reactionary, Social Security is something to be used as a bribe to win votes — a sop to soothe unrest. Social makeshifts of that kind are actually offered to-day as political substitutes for sound, economic planning for the post-war reconstruction of Canada.

To the State Socialist, on the other hand, Social Security is a bookish theory seeking to prove that poverty would be much more endurable if only it were much more general.

And now, listen for a moment to John Bracken, the forthright leader of the Progressive Conservative Party:— "The State here in Canada, unlike in Germany, is the servant of the people, not its master. Finance, and economic mechanisms associated with it, must likewise be regarded as the servants, not the masters, of our economy. The underwriting of prosperity AND social security is a proper function of the State."

Notice how closely prosperity and social security are linked together.

We are determined that Social Security shall no longer be regarded as a charity but as what it is—a social obligation and national responsibility of the very first magnitude and importance. Social Security must grow with prosperity—because the degree to which social services may be provided is determined by the size of the national income. We are pledged to maintain that income at a high prosperous level. It is against this background of plenty for all, that the Progressive Conservatives see Social Security.

The Progressive Conservative Party is pledged to provide, without delay, a uniform and comprehensive social security programme for all Canadians, including:

√Extended unemployment insurance coverage.

√Adequate payments for the maintenance of unemployables.

√Accident and sickness benefits.

√Children's allowances.

√Maternity benefits.

√Widows' benefits.

√Retirement pensions.

√Increased old age pensions at age 65.

√Increased pensions for the blind.

Where any of these social services are administered provincially, we shall provide grants large enough to ensure adequate standards of social security for all Canadians.

Compare this positive and complete programme with the make-shift expedients of other parties. No other party can equal or even approach John Bracken's guarantee of security for all Canadians.

It's rational security—NOT rationed scarcity.

"small business" ISN'T SO SMALL!

No fewer than 94 out of every hundred establishments in the manufacturing, wholesale, retail and services fields are small, employing less than 15 people. Together they employ 37% of all the workers engaged in these classes of business.

(From 1941 census)

Ordinarily one Canadian in every six gainfully employed, earns his livelihood in a "small business." It may be a farm, a store or a lumber-yard; an architect's office or a service station. Taken together, these individual enterprises provide a very substantial part of Canada's total jobs—must continue to do so after the war.

During the years ahead many people who dropped small business for war reasons will want to return to their accustomed or new ways of making a living. Thus old businesses will be revived. Many new ones will be started by returned men and people now in war industries. The commercial banks will do their part to afford assurance that no sound credit requirement need be left unserved in the field of small business.

As such businesses grow, they create additional job openings; that has been the pattern of Canadian enterprises. Most large companies began in a small way. And practically all could name some bank which played a part in their growth by providing the loans they needed to finance their day-to-day operations.

Your bank stands ready to serve businesses, small or large, well established or just starting out. Banks do not initiate such businesses—but they do furnish necessary working capital and many other forms of banking service.
