VICINITY CHIPS

No Advance next week.

Mrs. W. W. Trimble returned on Friday from a ten weeks' visit with her daughter at Cadilac, Mich.

Died—In New Zealand, on Sept 3rd, 1915, John Flesher, eldest son of the late W. K. Flesher of Flesherton.

Call in and see the Columbia cabinet Grafonola, which sells at $60 to $65, according to finish. At the Advance office.

Hallowe'en passed off very quietly in town. Absolutely nothing occurred worth recording to mar the beauty of an ideal autumn evening

The first snowstorm of the season arrived Tuesday of this week. It melted as it fell but it was a gentle reminder that winter is upon us.

Mr. Sam. Squire and son and daughter, Wilfred and Eva, of Derby, called on the Advance Saturday while on their way to Stayner.

Mr. Eph. Shaw, Mrs. R. Green, Mrs. J. LeGard and Mr. Mervin Wright, motored up from Heathcote and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. LeGard and other relatives here.

Mr. Bert Magee has moved his family from Priceville this week. Owing to Mr. Magee's health he has had to give up the blacksmithing and is moving to a farm on the eighth of Osprey.

The Young People's Society of the Methodist church held a Hallowe'en social Monday evening when a very delightful time was spent with a program, contests and luncheon.

Mrs. Archie McLean of town received word Saturday of the serious illness of her son's wife at Freeport, Ohio and left the same evening for Freeport, accompanied by her daughter, Violet.

A credit auction sale of farm stock, implements and household furniture will be held on lot 6 con. 17, Proton, on Friday of this week, Nov 5, at 1 p. m. the property of Councillor Wm. Aldcorn. See bills. D. McPhail, auctioneer.

Chalmer's Church pulpit will be supplied next Sunday afternoon by Rev. Mr. Phalen of Markdale, who will also conduct anniversary services at Eugenia. Rev. Mr. McVicar will preach at Markdale.

James White of Proton Station and Samuel Baines of Markdale were each fined $5 and costs last week by Magistrate McMullen, the former on a charge of using indecent language and the latter with assault.

A credit auction sale of a valuable lot of farm stock and implements will be held on lot 16, con. 14, Osprey townline, on Tuesday. Nov. 9, the property of Mr. Hugh Thompson, who is obliged to give up farming on account of ill health. Wm Kaitting, auctioneer.

According to custom we will not publish The Advance next week. Other papers take their holiday in midsummer but we find fall the most convenient season, when job work is at its lowest ebb. The office will remain open for business as usual, however.

Credit where credit is due. We inadvertently made an error in giving the names last week of the young lady collectors for the Red Cross. Miss Rita Buskin and Mrs. Mark Wilson Jr. should replace the names of Agnes Henderson and Olive Henry.

Fifty farmers of Gleichen district, Alberta, gave an acre of grain each to the war fund. We notice heading the list the name of G. H. Walter, formerly of Flesherton. When the collectors in this section of country have appealed for funds they found men who would not give anything and others who thought they were going to stop the war, kill the Kaiser and bankrupt themselves by devoting twenty-five cents to the cause—just about the value of one chicken leg. All kinds of men go to make up a world, but it would be a mighty poor world to live in if all were of the 25 cent variety.

The following is a report of the amount collected toward Artemesia's Trafalgar Day contribution to the Red Cross fund for the relief of our wounded soldiers and sailors who have been bravely fighting our battles at the front: Mr. Cameron $198.85, Mr. Graham $69, Mr. Aldcorn $188, Mr. Brown $76.15—total $714.

We have sent out a large number o accounts this week to subscribers owing for more than one year. There are several hundred dollars owing us in this way and the want of it is a serious handicap in our business. Will those who do not receive statements, and who owe for more than one year, also kindly remit as the money is needed at once.

The annual business meeting of the Presbyterian Guild took place on Tuesday, Oct. 26, when the following officers were elected for 1916: Pres., Frank Duncan; 1st Vice, Geo. McTavish; 2nd Vice, Miss Holmes; 3rd Vice, Mrs. McVicar; 4th Vice, Muriel McTavish; Organist, Reta Buskin; Treasurer, Mary Wilson; Rec. Sec., Donald McVicar; Cor. Sec., Geo. Stewart.

Mr. Thos. Bentham completed the cement wall under Mr. J. Stinson's 75 foot barn a week ago. Mr. Stinson says he is proud of the job and recommends Mr. Bentham to any person wanting cement work of that nature. Mr. Bentham is also a carpenter and did the carpenter work in connection with this job as well. The owner was so pleased that he came in and requested us to give Mr. Bentham the praise that is his due.

Dundalk has certainly done the handsome thing in war donations. On Trafalgar day it raised $3001.07 for Patriotic Fund and Red Cross, and had previously given over $900 in addition to contributions by the Woman's Institute and other societies. One citizen gave $140 and three others gave $100 each while a large number put up $50, $30 and $25 each. Our hat is doffed to Dundalk. We doubt if another town in Ontario has done better when taking its proportions into considerstion.

The Advance is extremely sorry to announce the death of Mrs. C. W. Rutledge of Markdale, wife of our esteemed confrere of the Standard, which sad event occurred on Tuesday of last week after a lengthy illness from heart trouble. Mrs. Rutledge's maiden name was Ada Buggin. The remains were taken to Seaforth for interment on the Wednesday morning train and interred in the family plot at Seaforth. Our heartfelt sympathies are extended to Bro. Rutledge in his sore bereavement. The deceased lady was only 58 years of age.

Sid Rand, C. P. R. agent at this station, had a busy day Saturday making out hunters' tickets and dog express tags, it being the occasion of the annual exodus of nimrods for the deer country There was not the usual number of hunters from town, however. There are only three representatives from here—Geo. Mitchell, Geo. Richardson and R. Irwin. The usual number have gone from Rock Mills, Eugenia, and from the surrounding country, something like twenty tickets altogether being sold here to deer hunters.

We had a brief call last Thursday from Lance-Corporal Jamieson of Flesherton, one of our Canadian boys who was engaged in the battle of St. Julien. He was a victim of the German gas poisoning, and with an honorable discharge, returned home to recuperate. He is a modest young man, but when properly drawn out can tell some awful tales of the horrible war now devastating so much of Europe and affecting the whole world. He is not in good fighting condition now, but would like to return to the scene of action if sufficiently recovered to do so. He is now the hero of his own neighborhood and his friends may well idolize him.—Durham Chronicle.

Mr. Sam Squire of Derby, who called on us Saturday, informed us that one of his neighbors has fifteen hundred bags of first class potatoes this year, and this when half or two-thirds of his neighbors' potatoes rotted. This was done by spraying with bluestone during the growing season. This fifteen hundred bags was the product off fifteen acres, and proves conclusively the value of spraying the crop to prevent rot. It looks as though we would all have to get out the sprayer if we want to raise potatoes. The man referred to above will get at least a dollar a bag for his crop, which means a small sized gold mine to produce off fifteen acres.—$100 per acre is good going for any farmer.

Constable Cock, who is always alert to violators of the Liquor Act, went over to Priceville, accompanied by Inspector Halbert, last week and got after a man who had purchased a bottle of liquor in Markdale. At first he denied getting it but later admitted he had bought and paid for one, which he thought was nobody's business. The constable thought differently and insisted on getting the seller's name, which was finally given. Inspector Halbert will now prosecute.

"One of the most influential agricultural paper in the Dominion," is the way others refer to the Weekly Sun of Toronto. It is a paper which appeals to the wide-awake farmers. Independent and fearless, it has always guarded the best interests of Canadian agriculture. Aside from that, its accurate and carefully compiled market reports and summaries give the reader a practical grasp of market conditions. "You have saved me dollars," is the repeated recommendation of hundreds of its readers. The sun is on the ground, it is the paper for the farmer who rolls up his sleeves, and to those who are farming for profit, its market reports are worth many times the subscription price.

A letter received from Sergt. T. Davis from England describes the manner in which he was wounded. The wounds, however, were not so serious as the shock. Sergt. Davis had gone into a large dugout which had just been completed and not yet occupied, to write a letter. This dugout was covered with steel girders, oak plank and five feet of brick and sank bags, but this did not prevent a high explosive German 6-inch shell from blowing it to smithereens. When Tom came to he found himself some little distance away. His face was cut, supposedly with the debris, but he was able to walk back and examine the ruins. The shock was the severest part of his injuries. Tom seems to bear something of a charmed life. He has been in the trenches since February 4th last, and this was his first serious experience. At Langemarck he had three bullet holes through his clothing, and since then a sniper put an air hole through his cap. Tom is in England now recovering from the shock, but is not in the hospital. May his good angel continue to attend him.

We beg to draw the attention of the Owen Sound press to the injustice they are doing Flesherton in failing to credit us with the many volunteers we have sent up. Not only do they fail to credit Flesherton with these recruits, but actually give Markdale the honor justly due us. We beg to point out to the Owen Sound papers that Flesherton has sent fifteen soldiers to the war. The Markdale company has sent no officers to Owen Sound with the men. Recently ten recruits were secured at Markdale, but we are credibly informed that eight of them got cold feet and refused to go to Owen Sound to train. Nobody blames them especially, under the circumstances, but we wish to point out that Markdale is the town that filched our armory three years ago, and got Major Hughes to build them an armory and dance hall at the expense of the country at large. Their military fervor was at a white heat at that time. Judging by the evidence of certain facts it is at a somewhat lower temperature now when the testing time is here. This paper has no desire to kick up a row at the present juncture, but we want whatever honor is due us, and we don't want and will not have it benevolently handed over to Markdale by those who have not the giving in their hands, without registering a kick. Of course the Owen Sound papers are not to blame. This sneak news is handed out to them as genuine.

In Loving Memory

Of William Fisher, who passed away October 9th, 1914.

We shall meet again on the other shore,
We shall clasp each other's hand once more;
We shall walk and talk as in days of old
And meet the loved one there once more.

A young Brampton farmer who had recently become possessed of one of those beautiful, smooth running, rakish McLaughlan sixes, was wondering for several days what was the matter with his pet which seemed to have developed a case of heaves. The six would run all right for spells and then she'd stall. When Mr. Sam Mitchell's expet tested the machine with his stelascope what do you suppose he found. Well, some damphool, who had probably never seem a McLaughlin before, must have thought it was a horse, for he had poured two quarts of oats into the gas tank.

By Order-in-Council the Dominion and Local Goverments have abolished the close season for fish on all the lakes except the Bay of Quinte, and fishermen may now ply their calling uninteruptedly until the ice covers the waters. The change is for the purpose of making cheap fish food during the war. That it will be a wise move, is very doubtful, as the markets are likely to be glutted, and if this is not the case, any advantage in price will accrue to the citizens of the United States where the big end of the catch is shipped.
