Eugenia Paragraphs

Are we going to have winter now?

Miss Virgie McMullen of Markdale visited at home.

Mrs. Jacob Williams and daughter Hilda are visiting in Toronto.

The Hydro people intend holding a banquet in the Power House on Thursday of this week.

Miss Elva Lever spent the week end at her parental home, Flesherton.

Mrs. D. Mc Tavish of Flesherton visited friends here recently.

Mr. Russell McMullen who has been working in Kimberley has returned home.

On Nov. 2 the Misses Neah Williams, Leone Pedlar, Marjorie Park and Barbara Armstrong of Eugenia collected money from the many friends of Messrs. Ernie Morgan and Charles Walker and purchased wrist watches for them. The following address, written by Miss Elva Lever, was read by Miss Leone Pedlar at Mr. Morgan's home where the many friends gathered.—

To Messrs. E. Morgan and Charles Walker,—Since you have answered the call, "Your king and country need you," and have had your names placed upon the Roll of Honor, we, your friends and neighbors, have assembled here to-night to bid adieu to you before your departure from our midst. As you both have made many warm friends in Eugenia, it is with deepest regret and sorrow that we say farewell. We are glad to think that both of you are willing to give up your lives in showing your true British patriotism. On this we congratulate you. We trust that you will carry the happy memories of Eugenia with you and be able to relate to us the story of the battle when you come back. As a token of our good will and best wishes for your future success we ask you to accept these wrist watches. Signed on behalf of—Your Friends and Neighbors.

Died of Hydrophobia

Andrew Quinn died at his home on the Gravel road, Melancthon, early on Tuesday morning under distressing circumstances which have cast a gloom over the locality and deep sorrow is the home. The particulars are as follows: On Sept. 18th the deceased was bit on the right wrist by his dog. The dog had been away from home for three days but returned home on the above date. When he arrived at the home Mrs. Quinn petted him and thought she would tie him up in the stable. She took him to the stable and the dog immediately attacked a rooster. When Mrs. Quinn scolded him he ran where the men were working and went first to Warren Quinn, who was driving the binder. He stopped and petted the dog and after getting on the machine again the dog went to Mr. Quinn, who was stooking grain in the next field. Deceased went to pat the dog on the head and was grabbed by the wrist and a bad wound was inflicted. The dog, after biting his owner, growled in a ferocious manner and appeared as if he would attack him again. Deceased started for the house and the dog ran in circles around him until Warren called him off. Warren ordered the dog to lie down which he did—then he killed the animal with a fork. Deceased had the wound dressed by Dr. S. T. White, who suggested that the dog might have rabies, but deceased thought there was no danger. The wound healed up satisfactorily and no trouble was anticipated. On Saturday last deceased complained of a pain in his shoulder and on Sunday morning of a constriction in the throat which made it difficult to swallow. Dr. White was called in, and thought he had probably caught cold at a threshing on Saturday. He shortly after got worse and as soon as Drs. White and Davis arrived, after being sent for, they strapped him to the bed and he remained in that position until he died early on Tuesday morning.—Shelburne Free Press.

Quite a number of men are working on the street poles for the Bell Telephone Co. and are registered at the McLauchlin House.

Mrs. McMillan and little son, John, are visitors at Mr. McMillan's on the South Line, the latter being very ill.

R. Cook was at Owen Sound Monday attending the trial of T. Mighton.

Miss Kate Muir had the misfortune to break both bones of her arm while driving home from church one Sunday recently. The horse, while going down hill, kicked over the dashboard, some part of the harness having come undone.

James Radley returned from the West on Monday.

Cook Got His Man

Thomas Mighton of Durham was brought to town Wednesday by High Constable Cooke to stand his trial on a two year old charge of assault and doing bodily harm, his wife being the victim. After the alleged ill treatment of his wife Mighton cleared out and was later located at Winnipeg. Thither Constable Cook travelled, and arrested his man. On the return journey, at Rainy River, the constable fell asleep about five o'clock, after noticing that his charge was sound asleep. When he awoke a few minutes later the prisoner had flown, the hand cuffs were found unopened on the car floor. After a lapse of two years Mighton was located by the Detroit police in that city through a disturbance in which he was arrested. On finding his name tallied with that of a wanted man Mighton admitted his identity and Cook was notified. The latter went to Detroit on Monday and returned with his man, who evidently preferred to take his chances with Canadian justice and came across willingly. On his arrival here yesterday he was committed to jail to stand his trial, and he will probably answer before County Judge Sutherland next Monday. County Crown Attorney Dyre prosecuted, and H. C. Tucker appeared for the prisoner. When coming up on the train, in answer to inquisitive fellow travellers, Mighton jokingly told them that he was wanted for killing four men. This gave rise to the report that a dangerous character had been arrested. Constable Cook says the prisoner has given up the use of intoxicants which were responsible for the trouble he now finds himself in.—Times.

Priceville Jottings

Intended for last week

Alex. McMillan, south line, is very ill at time of writing.

November has been putting up the weather to suit everybody. The farmers are using the fine weather in getting some ploughing done.

A runaway team made a considerable smash in the railing of a new bridge over the Saugeen.

The Hallowe'en social held under the auspices of the Women's Institute realized about $16 for Red Cross.

Donald McLachlan's well is down 150 feet, and will require to go down deeper to secure a supply of water.

M. McInnis shipped a car of live stock on Saturday 6th and J. Stottard a car of cattle and hogs on Monday the 8th.

The new cemetery on the townline is nearing completion, a considerable portion has been graded and the survey of lots will soon be completed. This plot of five acres is a gift to Priceville and vicinity by H. McNeil of Chicago.

John Gilchrist Dead

One of the old settlers of Artemesia passed away at his home at Ceylon on Saturday, 6th inst. in his 85th year, of dropsy and heart affection. Mr. Gilchrist was always a strong, hard working man, and was blessed with a long and useful life. He was born in Co. Fermanagh, Ireland, and immigrated to Canada in 1831, settling first in Bowmanville, and later—in 1865—he came to Artemesia and settled near Flesherton. Mr. Gilchrist was twice married, his first wife being Mrs. Hannah McNally of Holland, by whom he had three sons—Andrew and Thomas of Ceylon and William of North Dakota—all of whom are prosperous and highly respected citizens. Andrew and William are farmers and Thomas is a blacksmith at Ceylon. His second wife, who survives him, was a Miss Mary Quigg sister of Mr. P. Quigg of Flesherton. There was no issue by the second wife. The funeral took place to Flesherton cemetery on Tuesday of last week and was largely attended. An aged sister of deceased, Mrs. Weir, lives at Singhampton.

Akitt---Hanley

A pretty wedding, though a quiet one, was solemnized on Tuesday, Nov. 2nd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hanley, 8th line, Artemesia, when their daughter, Lilian Pearl, was united in marriage to Mr. Walter Akitt of Rock Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Akitt. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. C. Kerr of Flesherton. The bride, who was brought in and given away by her father, wore a beautiful gown of navy blue sateen. The wedding march was played by Miss Zaida Lawlor. After the ceremony came breakfast and its toasts, and Mr. and Mrs Akitt left on their bridal trip to Toronto, Brantford, St. Catharines and Niagara Falls, the bride wearing navy blue velvet with hat to match. On their return they will reside at Rock Mills.

Walkerton

The four Walkerton school boys who on a recent Saturday riddled the windows in Mr. Jacob Sutter's empty house with shot while returning from hunting in the swamps north of the town, settled with justice on Thursday last by paying for the ten broken windows and the costs of the action, amounting in all to $10.50

Wm. Irwin, an hotel-keeper in the local option village of Ripley, appeared before Magistrates Tolton and Richardson in Walkerton on charge of illegally selling booze in a dry territory. As reports of the non-observance of the law in Ripley reached the ears of the department, two spotters were despatched to the scene and succeeded, it seems, without much trouble in getting the moisture from Irwin on two occasions. On being arraigned in Walkerton he admitted the offence, and was fined $235 on the one charge and $500 on the other. As he was also mulcted $400 in Kincardine the previous Tuesday for a similar offence, the fines, coupled with his costs, will likely stick the offender for something like $1300, which is a startling example of high finance for a week.—Times.
