The program consisted of an address on Purity by Rev. Mr. Dudgeon, a solo—A Heart by Miss Edna Acheson, a selection by Miss Marjory Acheson, and a pantomime "Nearer My God To Thee" given by Edith Stinson, Stella and Sylvia Acheson which left a deep impression of the real value of the purity element in life. L. O. L. No. 1085 Feversham

On Nov. 5th 1915, the brethren of the above lodge, with their wives and intended wives to the number of about 60, enjoyed a very social evening together in their hall, where, after partaking of an abundant supply of roast-goose and other good things, the chair was taken by Rev. Wm. Kaitting and a very nice local program was rendered, consisting of readings, songs, recitations, music. Miss Osborne and Brother James Sayers gave several nice selections on the organ and violin, also Miss Osborne and Brother James Davidson sang several solos. Miss Eva Arnott gave a reading which was splendidly given and well received. Bro. Wm. Brown had his graphophone in good tune and gave us several good selections from it. The Worshipful Master, Bro. Wm. Conn, gave an Orange recitation which was first class, also past County Master Bro. A. J. Conron gave a couple of patriotic recitation suitable to the present times, and last but not least, our worthy chairman gave a couple of excellent songs in his usual style. Everybody seemed to enjoy the evening together, and after singing the National Anthem, all dispersed to their various homes with the hopes that all may be spared to enjoy another fowl supper together again sometime in the near future.

A young Englishman, Harry Winlish, who joined the 33rd Battery at Peterboro last Wednesday, showed his determination to never let the old flag fall. He walked from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., to Coldwater, Ont., a distance of 400 miles. At the time when he decided to enlist he was living in Montana, and from there he sent his wife to the old country, thus using nearly all his money. He had enough left to take him as far as Sault Ste. Marie, after which he walked to Coldwater, where a train man learning whither he was bound, let him ride the rest of the way.

Last week Constable Arrowsmith seized a quantity of whiskey and other intoxicants in the Hahn Stables, and on appearing Monday before Magistrate Laidlaw Mr. Hahn pleaded guilty and was fined $300. Another charge made against E. Bauer for obstructing the constable was dismissed as the constable on seeking admittance to the hotel stable omitted to give his name.—Chronicle

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller of 470 West Thirteenth Street have the sympathy of the community in the loss they suffered on Thursday, when their little son, aged ten months succumbed to the effects of an accident suffered forty-eight hours before. The child was sitting near the stove on Tuesday morning and in some way managed to pull a dishfull of scalding hot water over itself, the upper part of the body being severely scalded. The child was taken at once to the hospital but notwithstanding every possible care and attention died on Thursday morning.

An elderly lady, Mrs. Mortimer of Owen Sound North, was found lying dead in her home yesterday having succumbed to heart failure She lived alone in the and her neighbors knowing that she was not well, visited her each day. Yesterday they went to the house and could not get in. Mr. John Urquhart looked through the window and noticed her lying on the floor. He notified the police and Chief Foster, accompanied by Dr. Dow, went to the house and fond her lying dead. She was about fifty-five years of age.—Sun.

County Council

That the County Council, now in session at the Court House, is in full sympathy with the recruiting work now being done in the County was shown yesterday, when in response to the request of a deputation they made a grant of $300 to the Recruiting League. The resolution to make the grant was unanimouly adopted

The first meeting of the session was held Monday evening with the members all present: and the business included the Warden's address and presentation of communication. The latter included a buuch of accounts, applications for renewal of peddlers' and auctioneers' licenses, Grand Jury's presentment and letter from the Canadian Red Cross fund acknowledging receipt of $2000 voted at the June Session.

At the Tuesday meeting the business was practically all routine. A deputation from the Grey County Recruiting League, composed of Mayor McQuaker, Judge Sutherland, Mr. Jas. E. Keenan, Lieut. Col. Chisholm and Major (Canon) Ardill, addressed the Council asking for financial aid. They asked the Council to pay their expenses to date, $160, and for such further sum as they might be pleased to give. Warden Calder promised that their request would have consideration.

Yesterday's session was also mainly routine, consisting of passing accounts for road and bridge and general work. A resolution to grant $300 to the Recruiting League was proposed, and was unanimously adopted. On motion the salary of Turnkey Wright of the County Gaol was increased $100.

At Friday's session the Council granted another $200 for recruiting purposes, making $900 in all.—Advertiser.

On To Owen Sound

One of the events of last week was the arrival in town on Friday of a tie-tourist, who blew in from the south over the C. P. R. tracks. He said his name was Wm. Graham and that he hailed from Brampton. On being introduced to our mild mannered and benevolent Chief of Police Whitehead, he told his tale of woe. Somewhere between Orangeville and Shelburne he had a desperate fight with four highwaymen, who robbed him of $250.00 in cash. He had put up a big fight and had escaped without a scratch. The Chief in his kindness of heart thought he had better lock the man up or someone might relieve the excited man of the balance of his wealth. He spent the night in the lock up and started next morning for Owen Sound to visit some relatives. In confidence he told the chief that he had spent last winter in the House of Refuge at Brampton but that the surroundings were not to his liking and that was why he was making his way north.—Shelburne Free Press.
