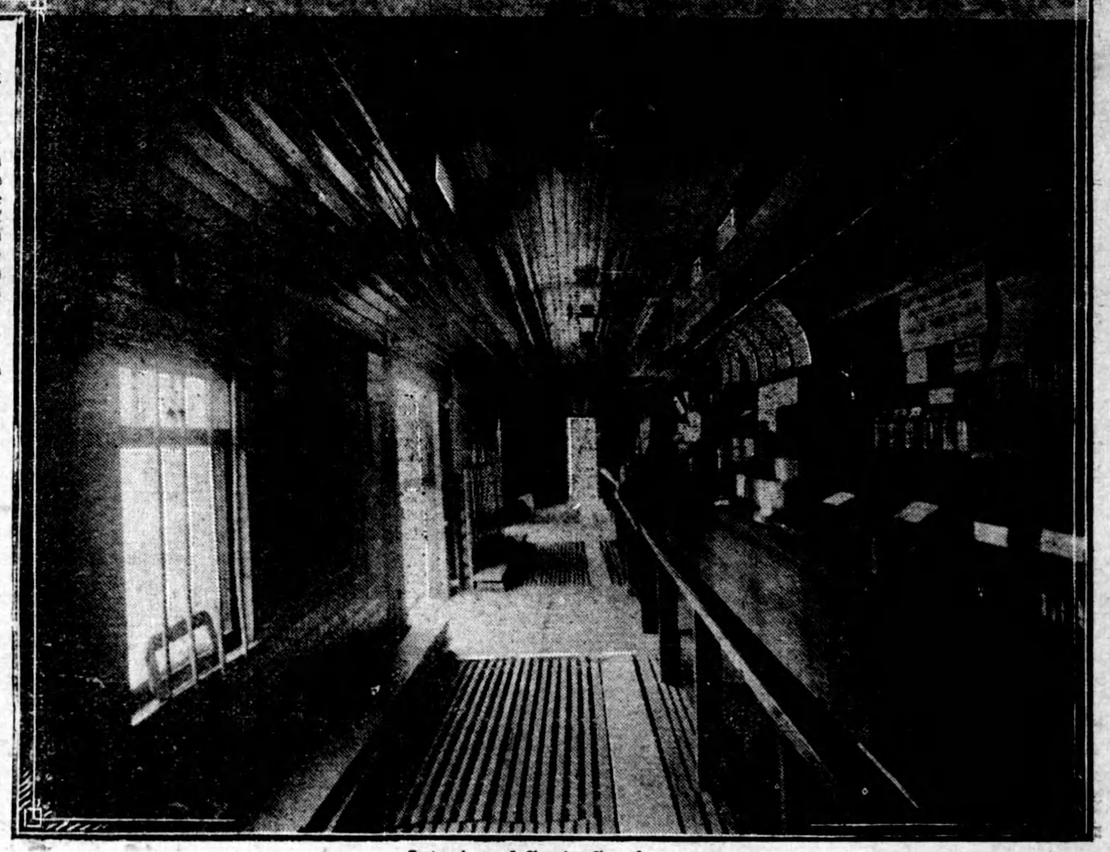
Farm College on Wheels

The group of experts outside stock car.



Interior of Grain Coach.

THE Ontario Department of Agriculture has been operating a couple of demonstration cars over the C. P. R. lines in Ontario. The results following the instruction of two years ago, and the appreciation shown by the farmers, inspired the Department to hold evening meetings at most places, with moving pictures as a leading feature.

The work began on October 4th and continued until November 15th Thirty-seven places were visited, a whole day being spent at each point for the inspection of the cars. Not only the farmers, but the women and children found much of interest in the exhibits and literature distributed.

The train included a live stock coach containing animals exhibiting desirable characteristics, of heavy horses, beef and dairy cattle, poultry, swine and sheep. To add interest arrangements were made to have some stock belonging to the farmers in various localities brought to the train to be compared with that furnished by the Department. Another coach was devoted to exhibits illustrating seed selection and improvement, identification of weeds, testing of seed, drainage, soil moisture, growing alfalfa corn, insect pests, protection from lightning, dairying, poultry raising, etc.

Capable and experienced men accompanied the train for explaining and lecturing purposes and to demonstrate the judging of live stock.

Since the inauguration of the "Better Farming Special" three years ago, the scheme has had extensive developments. Not only the people of Ontario, but the rural districts throughout the whole Dominion, have benefited. The Provincial Governments, with the assistance of the Agricultural Colleges, have used the "Farm College on Wheels" as a means to educate the farmer, his wife and children to higher standards of farming, and have met with considerable success. The "better farming" methods demonstrated by the professors who were on the train were listened to with great interest, and the questions asked by the farmer were further evidence that the visit of the "special" was doing incalculable good.

The experts on the train were drawn from the Agricultural College at Guelph, one of the most up-to-date in the country. An interesting incident occurred during the tour. A thoroughbred Shropshire ewe gave birth to a lamb on board the train, and the question arose as to who it belonged to, whether the C. P. R., the Guelph Agricultural College or the Department of Agriculture should have the ownership. After much discussion it was decided to raffle the little animal and devote the proceeds to the Red Cross Fund.

Columbia Grafonolas

Records, Needles, Catalogues

The Columbia is the perfect talking machine. Compare all others, then hear this and we are not afraid of the result. We can sell machines on easy terms to responsible people.

All the best appointed city homes have their parlor machines and there is no reason why the farmer should not have the best music of the day in his home, including band music, vocal artists, and performers on all kinds of instruments. You can have it on a Columbia Grafonola, as perfect as the original, and for much less than you would pay for a Common Organ. They range from $20 up.

The Perfect Columbia

Is a marvel of recording instruments and the Columbia records, made in Canada, embrace thousands of selections from which to choose.

The 52 head of cattle which were sold by Messrs. Kuntz & Zettler of Walkerton at their auction sale in Formosa on Saturday last, passed through town on Friday after having tramped all the way from Lion's Head, a distance of 72 miles. The trip, which started on Monday, was made over rocks and hills and almost impassable roads, and the cattle reached Formosa in such excellent condition as to command good prices and look like fair buying at the sale.—Bruce Herald and Times.

Owen Sound held its first reception on Tuesday night of last week for soldiers who returned wounded from the firing line. Lance-Corporal Sam Pearce reached his home on Tuesday night on the 10.30 train and was heartily received. He was the victim of trench warfare, being buried by a shell which exploded on the parapet beside him. He was escorted to the Boyd Street Rink, where a crowd of 6,000 people gathered. Mayor McQuaker addressed the crowd, and speeches were also given by Warden Calder, and ex Warden Wm Breese, of Grey. The welcome was to include Pte. George Willings, a reservist, who returned a week ago, as well as Corp. Pearce. Three hundred men, who have been recruited for a special Grey County battalion, were on the platform.

John Wesley Sheers of Mono townrhip was arrested late Friday night by High Constable Marshall of Orangeville at his home on a warrant charging him with theft of twenty bags of old wheat and four bags of oats from John Geo. McKenna, also a Mono farmer. The alleged theft took place about 4 a.m. Thursday. The constable traced the wagon tracks to Sheers' place. Saturday morning the accused appeared before Joseph J. Kelly, J. P., and was remanded to jail. At the Spring Assizes a grain thief in this county was sentenced to three years in Kingston Penitentiary.

Ten pigs, farrowed on the 5th of June, weighed 2030 lbs. when delivered at the stock yards, Thornbury, on Nov. 9th. They were raised by Mr. Jmes Knott, 8th line, Township of Collingwood. This is surely a remarkable record, but if anyone thinks he can beat it we would like to hear from him.—Clarksburg Review.

"Duke," the popular dog mascot of the 31st Regiment Overseas quota has been equipped with a blanket which he will prouply wear in the pursuance of his official duties. It is of the regulation khaki shade, edged with red and bears on one side the striking announcement "I am ready to fight any time" and on the other "How about you?" The work was done by Mr. Charles Miller and presented to the soldiers free of charge. The Sun's informant in stating that "Duke" was purchased from a farmer was wrong. He was formerly the property of Dr Whitefort, the famous Indian medicine man, and it was from the Indian the boys bought him. The dog is a cross between a Huskin and a Great Dane, and as the boys say, he is "some dawg."—O. S. Sun

Blake a Disappointment.

Sir Joseph Pope in his new book on Sir John A. Macdonald, devotes a considerable space to an appraisement of Sir John's contemporaries. Edward Blake he declares "one of the rarest minds that have adorned the Bar of Canada, or of any other country." Viewed as intellectual performances, says the author, his speeches in the Canadian House of Commons have never been surpassed. In spite of these accomplishments, the author says: "I never recall his memory without a tinge of sadness that so gifted a man should not have accomplished more in the way of constructive statesmanship."

During 1888, when Sir John's health was on the down grade, he confided to his secretary regarding a proposal to resign. "George Stephen keeps pressing me to retire," he said, "and I think I shall. My only difficulty is about my successor."

"Whom do you think of as such?" I asked.

"Oh," replied he, "Langevin; there is no one else."

Registering All Bulgarians.

Orders have been sent out from Ottawa to all registrars of alien enemies, the police who are acting as such, and the Royal North-West Mounted Police in Western Canada to treat the Bulgarians now as alien enemies. They will be registered like the Germans and Austrians, and those who are reservists or are likely to be troublesome will be interned.

There are about 25,000 Bulgarians in Canada. It is thought they are largely located in the cities, few having taken homesteads.

The necessary orders in Council declaring war with Bulgaria and placing the Bulgarians under the various orders in Council which apply to other aliens will be passed at once. In the meantime also orders are being given to stop any Bulgarians from leaving the country. It is not anticipated there will be any trouble with the Bulgarians, as it is believed most of them in Canada are in sympathy with the allies. The experience of the officials after a year's dealing with the Austrians is that they have little sympathy with their homeland, and are anxious to obey Canadian laws and behave like Canadian citizens. The only alien enemies who have caused trouble are the Germans.

Proud and Jealous.

A member of The Toronto Telegram" staff, who is in the fighting line in France, writes as follows to his paper:

"A pretty good story is going the rounds arising out of the rivalry existing between the first and second contingents. An officer of the second remarked to an officer of the first, in London on sick leave—

"'We've had a h-ll of a time living down your reputation in England.'

"'Ah, um,' said the sick man, as he slowly surveyed the spick and span oficer of the second contingent, 'Is that so? Let me tell you, you'll have one h-ll of a time living up to our reputation in France.'

"So you see we are already becoming jealous, as well as proud, of our fighting fame."
