It all means PEOPLE AT WORK

Laying underground cable is just one of many projects planned to improve service, and effect long-range economies. They mean work for thousands of people . . . all our present employees plus all those returning from war service.

AFTER FINAL VICTORY, WE'LL STILL BE Busy as Bees

War made it more essential than ever that strategic telephone channels be guarded from interruption by storm and other hazards, and work has gone steadily forward on our great triangular underground cable route between Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal.

As the supply of men and materials increases, more and more open wire will be replaced by underground cable —between London and Windsor—between Montreal and Quebec City—to East Coast points—wherever increased traffic and operating prudence demand it. New areas, too, will be brought into the Long Distance network . . . Here is still another major task ahead of us as part of our post-war construction program.
