VICINITY CHIPS

Robins are with us.

Pigs were $10.25 on the market here Tuesday.

The Orangemen of Orange Valley held an "At home" on Friday evening last.

Gordon Cutting, a recruit at Shallow Lake, pleaded guilty to burglary and was let off on suspended sentence.

Mrs. John C. Milne and Miss Daisy Ferguson, of Maxwell, visited with Miss Hewett, near town, one day last week.

Mr. R. Stuart, of Thornbury, was a pleasant caller on Saturday. Mrs. Jas. Stuart, of Kimberley, accompanied him to visit relatives here.

The U. and D girls are holding a sale of home made baking this coming Saturday in their club rooms. Sale commences at 2.30 p. m.

Orangeville's chief constable shoots all dogs running loose at sight. It is not stated whether he is practicing for future work of a like nature in France.

Rev. Mr. Steward of First street Methodist church, Owen Sound, preached two admirable missionary sermons in the Methodist church here, on Sunday.

Corps. Joe LeGard and Tom Chard, of the 147th Batt., who have been taking a six weeks' N. C. officers' course in Toronto, spent the week end in town while on their way to rejoin the force at Owen Sound.

Port Law Red Cross Society will hold a Shingle Social on Monday evening of next week, at the home of Mrs. J. Taylor. A committee of young ladies are making preparations to ensure a good time, so come.

The Women's Institute will meet in the High School on Wed,, April 5, at 2.30. Vegetables--by Mrs. Hickling. Dishes to take the place of meat—by Mrs. W. Moore. Lunch will be served. —Mrs. W. A. Hawken, Sec.-Treas.

Geo. Johnston of the 8th line, Collingwood, died very suddenly on Thursday last. He had taken a load of chop to Thornbury and was seized with a weak spell. He went to a doctor but was only in the doctor's office a few minutes when he expired.

The Owen Sound Advertiser now states that it was Feversham, not Flesherton, which supplied the text for its recruiting homily, referred to in last week's Advance. As Feversham is eleven miles away we can breathe easily once more, Owen Sound's bomb thrower having turned its muzzle another way.

In the matter of enlistments for active service, Flesherton's honor roll now numbers thirty-two, which must be a very large percentage of the eligibles. The late Lieut. John Field—a most efficient and popular officer—had much to do with the developing of the fine military spirit indicated above.—Clarksburg Review.

About forty friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilcox, West back line, on Friday evening last and presented Mr. R. Wilcox with an address, a valuable wrist watch and shaving outfit. Richard has joined the 147th Battalion and will report for duty on Saturday of this week.

According to Hicks, warmer weather may be expected from Wednesday, Mar. 27, and continue mild next week with rainfalls Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, April 2, 3 and 4. Following these expect snow or sleet. A storm period begins on the 6th to continue until the 11th. Watch these things and see if they come out right.

On Wed. night of last week there was an interesting hockey match played between the High School and Town ladies. Both teams were well matched and the score came out 2-1 in favour of the former. During the game Miss Muriel McTavish who was playing for the town, fell and a skate cut her face below the right eye, necessitating a couple of stitches to close the wound.

Hound lost—On Saturday, March 25 black and white hound, mostly white, some yellow on head, answers to name Smoke. Communicate with T. Fisher, Flesherton.

For the past few weeks so many addresses have been handed in that we have found it impossible to print them, much as we would like to do so. So many soldier boys have been "watched" and "addressed" that we could fill the paper with such matter, and have therefore to cut them all out for a short time at least. When the Grey Battalion has left for the front this will be eased off and normal conditions return. Other local papers are in the same position and have been obliged to adopt a like attitude.

Proton Guild visited with the Guild here on Tuesday evening of last week, when a very enjoyable evening was spent. There was a contest on between the boys and girls of the Guild here, covering a period of four weeks, in which the girls were victorious and the young men had to supply the lunch. There were 24 visitors present. This visit had been promised for some time but weather conditions interfered. Mr. Frank Duncan, President of the Guild, occupied the chair.

Mr. J. C. Crane, of Owen Sound, received word a few days ago that his son, Pte. George Crane of the 20th battalion, formerly of Hanover, had been wounded at the front in France but a card received later gave the information that the wound was not of a serious nature and that after a few days in the hospital he was able to return to his post. The wound was in the back where he was struck by a piece of shrapnel. Young Crane is a nephew of Postmaster Trimble.

Mr. Harry Piper's horse ran away at the station one day last week, becoming frightened when crossing the railway track. It ran into and smashed Radley's pump. The cutter was smashed and Mr. Piper was pitched out and had his shoulder dislocated. He was also otherwise injured and is under the doctor's care. The accident was a bad one and much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Piper, who has had his share of accidents. It is only a year since Mrs. Piper suffered a broken limb, from which she has scarcely yet fully recovered.

The box social held by the U. & D. girls in the town hall on Friday night last was quite successful, considering other engagements in the vicinity. The boxes were auctioned off by Miss Lowndes of the public school staff, and Miss Hazel Henry of the Club occupied the chair. The program was excellent and consisted of solos by Miss Edna Acheson and Miss Binnie of Proton, readings by Harold McLean and Marjory Acheson, and a playlet by Inistioge young people. The proceeds amounted to $36. There was considerable amusement surrounding the disposal of the boxes. One Markdale young man, who was somewhat enthusiastic over a certain kind of box, put up $2.25 to secure it, and considered, quite justifiably, that he got a bargain.

Present Arms Inoculation Drill

Owen Sound, March 21.—Inoculation, which has proved to be such a troublesome proposition in so many training camps, is proceeding merrily in the 147th Grey Overseas Battalion at Owen Sound. The men are treating inoculation and vaccination in a light vein and everyone, officers and men in the ranks alike, have been taking the needle with a smile. In fact a visit to the town hall on an evening when inoculation is going on is as good as a concert, and the occasion always gives birth to a number of original jokes on the subject of the Medical Officer and his little hypo machine, in addition to the usual stereotyped jokes. But then a company of soldiers is always in good spirit, at least the 147th boys are. There is nerve to spare among them, and it is indicative of the spirit which pervades the battalion to find the officers and men of the battalion mingling together for their inoculation, jollying one another with the greatest good will and camraderie, making an enjoyable evening of what might otherwise be a long and tedious undertaking fraught with misgiving on the part of any who might unfortunately be somewhat loath to be inoculated. Taking as a typical example Tuesday evening when "B" Company, Captain Mercer, was pumped full of anti-typhoid germ. On this occasion the Medical Officer, Capt. Boys, assisted by his dispenser and by Lieut. Joyce inoculated over 200 men in an hour and a half or a little better. A dab of iodine on the left upper breast and the squirt of a cubic centimetre of the preparation, one half billion of germs, an absolutely painless operation, and it was all over. In a week or 10 days the next application will be given and with a billion beneficent little germs rushing through their healthy, robust bodies, the soldiers of the 147th will be able to laugh at typhoid fever, one of the fatal scourges among the diseases which strike armies.

It is worthy of note that in this battalion the process of inoculation is carried out much more speedily than in probably any other battalion in the district, everything being thoroughly prepared beforehand, and owing to the fact that the soldiers have been carefully warned what to do after getting the shot of germ there has been virtually no after trouble. The men are given 24 hours off drill following their inoculation and this gives them time to recover from any effects, though, as a matter of fact, about all that happens after anti-typhoid inoculation is that the person taking it may become drowsy for a short time, an hour or so.

It is hardly necessary to remark that the men who have been inoculated make much of it at the expense of those who are still to have it, and when discussing it with those men the ones who have been "needled" exaggerate the effects both immediate and ultimate and great is their joy if they can find a rookie whom they can impress sufficiently with the gravity of the operation, but it is good natured ragging and is enjoyed.

No one in the battalion is exempt from the needle, from Col. McFarland down everyone must take it, and when one of the officers is being inoculated advantage is taken of the occasion by many of the men to offer him advice, such as, "Hold your breath, it won't hurt half so much then." "It's all right when he don't run the needle straight in." "He has a double dose for you, he told me he had." "You are a big fellow, it will take a billion for you," etc.

The village of Cookstown stands out prominently as the most patriotic spot in the province. With a population of about 500 they had an honor roll of 85 men who are in the King's khaki, and 10 more signed up Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The success of recruiting in Cookstown can be attributed very largely to the fact that the local Recruiting Committee is on the job all the time and take their duties seriously. When the local authorities are active and aggressive they always produce results, and other Recruiting Committees would do well to follow the example of Cookstown.
