Walkerton

The following happened in a Walkerton store last week.

Customer—"A package of Old Chum, please."

Soldier standing by—"Don't sell it to him, he's not eighteen."

Customer—"Yes I am."

Soldier—"Well, why don't you enlist, then?"

Mr. S. Fedy, merchant of Mildmay, and Mr. A. Bergeman, grocer of Chesley appeared before Magistrates Jas. Tolton and Robt. Richardson in Walkerton on Thursday afternoon to answer to a charge of selling adulterated maple sugar, preferred against them by Dominion Food Inspector H. J. Dager of Toronto, who visited their places of business and purchased a quantity of the sugar. These samples were then sent to Ottawa where they were analyzed and found to be highly adulterated. While the spurious article was not greatly injurious to health yet the selling of it as maple sugar was a deception to the public for which a heavy fine is provided. The merchants, in buying this stuff, were bunoed into thinking it was the real thing, and it was not until the analysis from Ottawa showed it to be a grossly adulterated brand, that they recognized how sadly they had been stung. As there was nothing to do but admit the sale, they pleaded guilty to the charge and were fined $25 and costs or a total assessment of $49.50 each for the offence—Bruce Herald and Times.

Taylor—Wright

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Wright of Wareham, was the scene of a very happy event on Wed. March 29th, when their only daughter, Lillian, became the bride of Mr. Fred Taylor, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, Port Law. At 5.30 p. m. the bridal couple took their places in the parlor, the bride entering on the arm of her father to the strains of "Lohengrin's" bridal chorus, played by Miss Lila Hargrave. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Tiller Maxwell, in the presence of about 25 invited guests.

The bride, who was unattended, was attired in cream brocided silk, with shadow lace and gold braid trimmings, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses and maiden hair fern. After the ceremony and congratulations, the guests sat down to a sumptuous tea in the dining room, at which the tables were tastefully decorated with daffodils. Toasts were proposed to the bride and groom, and the company spent a very enjoyable evening in games and music. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful presents. The happy young couple left Thursday morning for a short honeymoon to Toronto and Markham, the bride travelled in a suit of navy blue serge and hat to match. On their return they will take up their residence on the groom's farm at Port Law. The young couple are both very popular in this community, and their many friends join in wishing them a happy life voyage.
