WHATSOEVER YE SOW . . .

Germans like the two, above, who search for food in a GI garbage heap near Berlin are learning the torture and tragedy of the starvation they forced upon untold millions of helpless people. People often walk five miles and farther to pick over the kitchen scraps dumped from U. S. Army trucks.

The Other Side Of D.D.T. Story

In the realm of reseach science, we have a warning as to the possibly serious effects of wholesale use of DDT, the new poisonous insecticide created to kill tropical insect life and being used widely now in Ontario, says the London Free Press. From Chicago, Dr. Clarence Cottam, chief of the division of wild life of the Interior Department of Fish and wild Life Service, asserts: "DDT is effective against most types of insects. It is highly effective against flies and mosquitoes. But it will kill a lot of things we don't want killed. Our studies show that five pounds per acre in a forest will either kill birds or drive them out. More than one-half pound per acre is damaging to fish, turtles and frogs. DDT is effective against pollinating insects essential in fruit production. It is highly effective against bees."

KID COBBLER

Cobbling is serious business with 2½-year-old Jerry Roger Nicharot, challenger for the title of the nation's youngest shoemaker. His dad has a shoe repair shop in Cleveland, Ohio, and ever since the boy was a year old, according to the elder Nicharot, he has been a real help, specializing in nailing on heels, as pictured, above.

What, No D.D.T.?

Scientists tell us that a 140-pound man contains enough fat for seven cakes of soap, carbon for 9,000 pencils, phosphorous to make 200 match heads, magnesium for one dose of salts, iron to make one medium-sized nail, sufficient lime to whitewash a chicken coop, enough sulphur to rid one dog of fleas, and water to fill a 10-gallon barrel.

Absence of Gum Puzzles Servicemen

The efforts of certain manufacturers to meet overseas demands during the war resulted in severe short supply in the domestic market, and in the case of Wm. Wrigley Jr. Co. Limited it's entire stock of certain prewar quality ingredients was entirely used up long befor the war's end. However, Canadian men and women received chewing gum overseas through the Wrigley Overseas Gum Plan which was most successfully operated for the folks at home through their retail storekeepers, who forwarded their customers' orders to the manufacturer for direct shipment to Canadians serving Overseas.

Returned servicemen and women are looking forward to the manufacturers' promise to bring Wrigley's chewing gum back onto Canadian retail store counters just as soon as it is practical to guarantee top-quality ingredients and finest flavor in sufficient quantities that most everyone may enjoy some.

Wallboard Made From Wood Waste

Wood waste in the shape of sawdust, shaving and chips is to be converted into wallboard by a simple, quick and cheap method recently discovered, says Marketing. Experiments show that a ton of sawdust will yield 2,000 square feet of board using equipment so low in cost that most sawmills and woodworking plants will be able to realize dividends from hitherto worthless materials. Present manufacture of hard wallboard involves reducing whole logs to fibres before processing, a method requiring a large capital outlay for equipment.

Britain Building Concrete Houses

To speed up housing construction and to save labor a new British structure is being demonstrated at an exhibition of concrete houses near London at Eastcote, Middlesex. Wooden frames and huge moulds for the walls, with the necessary openings fo: windows, doors, water and gas pipes, etc., a-e erected on the site by means of cranes. The concrete is then poured into the moulds, resulting in 12-inch thick, weatherproof and heat-retaining walls. The wooden frames and moulds are then removed by the cranes. The front of the house is built of bricks and the roof is pre-fabricated. It is estimated that the erection can be carried out, to a great extent, by unskilled labor and can be made habitable within a month.

Continued Food Shortage Likely

British Food Minister Sir Ben Smith believes that the world food shortage will continue one or two years or possibly even longer.

He made his prediction in a speech at a victory banquet of the Worshipful Company of Butchers, an organization comprising leaders of the British meat industry.

Smith attributed the shortages to heavy demands of the war and droughts.
