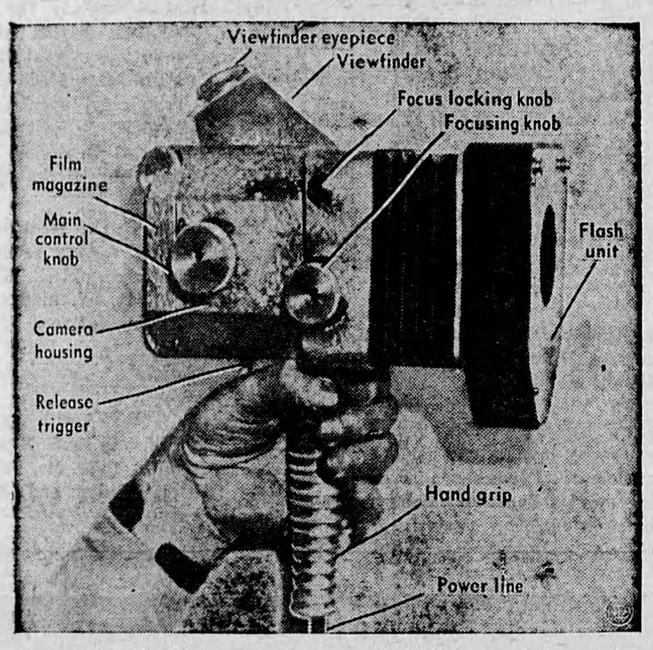
STRIKE BRINGS OUT HORSEY SET

When strike of street car and bus operators in Washington left 500,000 persons without public transportation, A. L. Wade showed unusual enterprise by riding his horse to work. Unheralded transportation walkout started when members of Local 689 of Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees (AFL) voted to stay in continuous meeting until Capital Transit Co. acted on their demand for a 30-cent increase in hourly pay.

ARMY HAS SELF-LIGHTING CAMERA



Many a wounded or ill soldier owes his recovery to the newly-revealed Army "secret weapon" pictured above. It is a revolutionary surgical camera, with a built-in light source—a quartz vapor tube flash unit that produces up to 50,000 flashes more brilliant than sunlight at 1/25,00th of a second duration. Developed by the Signal Corps, the camera uses 35-mm. film, weighs 5½ pounds and is operated from a 27-pound portable pack that may be plugged into any ordinary current line.

PALESTINE—MID-EAST'S PRIME PROBLEM

High on the list of tough problems to be tackled by President Truman and Britain's Prime Minister Clement Attlee in Washington is the Palestine question. Map shows geographic distribution of Jews in Palestine. Inset chart shows relative numbers of Jews and Arabs.

Here's the New 'Reconverted' B-29!

Obsolete materials and parts, once used in making B-29 Superfortresses at the Bell Aircraft Corporation's Marietta, Ga., plant, had been sold to salvage firms in carload lots. But, believing that Bell employees could make good use of the discarded materials, the firm recently opened a retail Salvage Sales Store. Now workers flock in to buy the "junk." Photos below show some of the many practical uses to which they put it. Their ingenuity and skill produced scores of scarce household items. The Occupational Therapy section of Atlanta's Lawson General Hospital uses a good deal of B-29 salvage. Convalescing veterans find relaxation and learn new skills in designing and making useful objects which they can send home.

A transparent "blister" canopy from a B-29 makes a fine bathtub for little Jean Clair Bretherick, pictured with her mother, Mrs. Homer I. Bretherick, in their Atlanta, Ga., home. Inset shows a weatherproof davenport built from salvaged B-29 parts, by William Davis, Bell Aircraft worker. It has duralumin frame and broad, plexiglass arms.

Pvt. John B. Lemoine, Columbia, S.C., displays hot plate he made from B-29 scrap. Such work helps his "comeback" in Lawson General Hospital.

"Don't fence me in," says chubby Karen Sewell, but her daddy, Joe Sewell, Bell Aircraft worker at Marietta, Ga., did—with salvaged B-29 metal.

Cpl. Raymond Watson, patient in Lawson General Hospital, Ga., beats the electric fan shortage with fan made of aluminum scrap.

LAUGH'S ON HIM

Constitution gives the horse laugh to his famous cousin, Shiroiyuki, Hirohito's horse, which Adm. William "Bull" Halsey wanted to ride. New York veterans purchased Constitution from Cal Thompson, Nebraska rancher, and will present him to Halsey.
