Mr. Geo. Hacking writes The Advance from Spence's Bridge, B. C., a most chatty letter, from which we glean the following: "Spence's Bridge is 183 miles from Vancouver, right in the fruit belt, and the climate here is the best possible; excellent fishing, both salmon and speckled trout in abundance, can be caught from the Thompson River, which is located but a few yards from the depot. We have been using new potatoes for the past week or so. The cherry crop, which was a heavy one, is about over. While we were at Vancouver two weeks ago, we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. W. Irwin whom I believe you know quite well. Mr. Irwin has changed but little since leaving Flesherton and his happy and congenial countenance bears evidence of a prosperous and contented life."

Edward Graham of Eugenia was up before Magistrate McMullen on Thursday afternoon last charged with using seditious language and injuring recruiting, the complainant being Pte. Ernest Morgan. It was alleged that Graham said the war would last six years, when Morgan informed him that if it did then there would be conscription and he would have to go. In reply to this it is alleged that Graham answered, "If I do the first thing I would do when I get over would be to shoot an Englishman." Graham denied the charge. He was sent up for trial. The Owen Sound Advertiser, referring to this case says:—"Graham is the first man to appear in Grey County on the charge preferred against him, and his probable penalty, if convicted, will be a just warning to anyone else with a mind like Graham's."

A Good Example

One of our esteemed subscribers who had fallen a few years in arrears, when asked for payment, showed a magnanimous spirit seldom shown by persons who become delinquent and are requested to pay up. He wrote the editor a very nice, courteous letter in which he says he owes us an apology for his neglect of payment and expressed appreciation of our "unlimited patience." He enclosed enough money to pay in advance to January 1, 1920. These kind words and such a kind act are worthy of all praise. He used our money a few years and now gives us a square deal by advancing his money for us to use until the subscriptions expire year after year. This friend evidently believes that one good act deserves another.—Bowmanville Statesman.

Memorial Services

A memorial service for the late Lieut. Arnold Thurston was held in the Methodist church Sunday evening when Rev. James Dudgeon preached an appropriate and touching sermon from second Timothy 4th chapter and verse 7. "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith." The sermon was a most comforting one to all, knowing as we know from his own life that Arnold was prepared for any eventuality. A letter written to be read after his death said that he died in "the old, old faith."

In deference to the wishes of the family, the church was modestly decorated with flags and banks of white flowers. The seating capacity of the church was filled.

The sermon was based on Paul's warfare against sin and the present horrible war was likened unto his campaign. Our young men are at war against the vampire of cruel, brutal and ferocious militarism, so utterly dishonorable, unscrupulous and pitiless to the last degree, which is sucking away the life blood of unoffending nations. A mighty foe has arisen and is attacking the citadel of our faith, and it is by God's grace, to slay this hideous monster that our sons, brothers and fathers have marched forth in countless thousands—this unutterable creature, this hideous monster, the violator of womanhood, the desolator of homes, murderers of the old and feeble, the killer and maimer of babies in their mother's arms and of helpless little children, which has shocked the conscience of all mankind. This war, cost what it may, must not stop until that vampire of deviltry lies once and for all beaten to death at our feet.

The preacher paid a high tribute to the character of Lieut. Thurston and his life work during his short span of 25 years.

Dr. Murray, Mr. Holland, Mrs. Mark Wilson jr. and Miss Agnes Henderson gave a beautifully rendered quartette, "Some day we will understand." The boy scouts and a sprinkling of soldiers, who where home over Sunday, occupied the front seats.

A gentleman living about two miles from Flesherton, who attended the service, remarked to a friend after church that if his son had not already joined, and would not do so after hearing that sermon, he would be ashamed of him. How many fathers are in this category?
