LIFE'S LIKE THAT

By Fred Neher

"Maybe the reason I don't feel like goin' to the store is because I haven't had any candy to give me energy."

MOPSY by GLADYS PARKER

VOICE OF THE PRESS

"Okay" And "Nokay"

Foreign Minister Molotov coined a word during his last session with the British and American representatives. He had observed the way they indicated approval by nodding and saying "Okay." Later when Molotov wanted to indicate disapproval, he shook his head from side to side and declared: "Nokay."

Mule Models

The first kick out of a car which hadn't been cranked since 1941 breaks the driver's arm. Mule power, rather than horse power, was the chief feature of these primitive models.

—Hamilton Spectator.

Effective Will-Power

A will of his own helps a young man, says an educator. And that of a rich grandfather doesn't hurt any.

—Saskatoon Star-Phoenix.

Age of Knowledge

We don't understand this move to fix the voting age at 18. It was at 16, we recall, that we knew everything.

—Edmonton Journal.

Taking Ways

Taking his oath at his Nernberg trial wouldn't bother Goering, who has always taken anything he could get his fat hands on.

—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

Profitless Business

Italians are complaining that they got little out of the war. Well, we can't think of any nation offhand which profited by it.

—Peterborough Examiner.

First Aid For Weary

Thi is a wonderful age for those who are born tired. An improved wheelbarrow has two wheels with caterpillar treads which climb bumps with minimum pushing. And there's a new stoop-saving contrivance on which a field hand may lie comfortably while being carried across a field to gather such low-borne items as melons, cucumbers, strawberries, potatoes.

—Pittsburgh Press.

Natural Action

Reports from Taranto, Italy, tell of women sacking a flour warehouse. It is, after all, quite the natural thing to do with flour.

—Windsor Star.

Burn 'Em Up

If, as reported, Cousin Winston intends to write his memoirs in bed, the underwriters will doubtless have something to say about the cigar. This, however, is not nearly as likely to start things scorching as when he gets around to the chapter on the late Hitler and Mussolini. At that point, firemen will enter the room, wearing gas -masks.

—Ottawa Citizen.

Before He Strikes

It is truly amazing to read that a father in Boston is paying his 16-year old son $1 a day to go to school. Looks as if an old-fashioned "woodshed" session is in order, before the lad makes a demand for higher pay.

—Kitchener Record

THEY'LL ALL HURRY HOME if you serve Maxwell House. This extra-delicious coffee is bought and enjoyed by more people than any other brand of coffee in the world.
