All honor to Reggie Campbell, a Swinton Park lad, who is the only student in all Grey County to take honors. His ability and application have been amply rewarded in this proud distinction and in the fact that he wins the School Board's scholarship for highest from 2nd to 3rd form, entitling him to free tuition the ensuing year. Reggie is sweeping all before him, winning the scholarship last year for highest 1st to 2nd form, and Dr. Jamieson's medal for highest in South Grey at the Entrance exams. in a previous year. A brilliant career should be his.—Durham Review.

A Clock Company with a capital of $250,000 wants to locate in Orangeville, possibly because a good deal of business is done on tick there They want a loan of $15,000 repayable in 15 years without interest, to be secured by a building to be erected worth at least $30,000. The expense of the by-law, if successful, will be borne by the Company, and if defeated, by the municipality.

A lot of nonsense is spoken and written about city people going back to the land. Farming is a highly skilled occupation and it is more reasonable to think that a farmer can be put in a factory or office and be expected to perform the work efficiently than that a mechanic or clerk can go on a farm and make a living. There must be long and careful training in order to succeed, the training that comes through experience and ability to make use of the experience of others. Farming is really a profession as much as is law or medicine and the occupation will come into its own when it is fully recognized as such, and provides as high rewards in income, in social enjoyment, and in recognition of fitness for public service.—Mount Forest Confederate.

The late P. T. Barnum said :—"If you have $19 to use, put $10 of it into advertising. I can out talk any man but a printer. The man who talks every week to a thousand men while I am talking to a few is the man I am afraid of, and I want to be his friend. Trade with the men who advertise and you will get bargains and the worth of your money." Patronize your paper as you wou'd any other enterprise because it helps you and not as an act of charity. The local weeklies are religiously read and are the very best avenues for imparting to customers or producers simple but extremely important information. Shop where you are invited to shop.

On Sundoy evening, 16th inst., while motoring home from Owen Sound, Capt. Langford and party of Port Elgin collided with a cow resulting in the death of the animal. The motorists were going down a steep hill near Elsmore, when the cow was seen dashing towards them, chased by a dog. The car was stopped, but the cow blinded with fury came on and struck the car in the centre of the radiator. The car was a heavy one and the animal was thrown into the air and lighted on its head breaking its neck. The animal belonged to Mr. Stanley Porter.—Tara Leader.

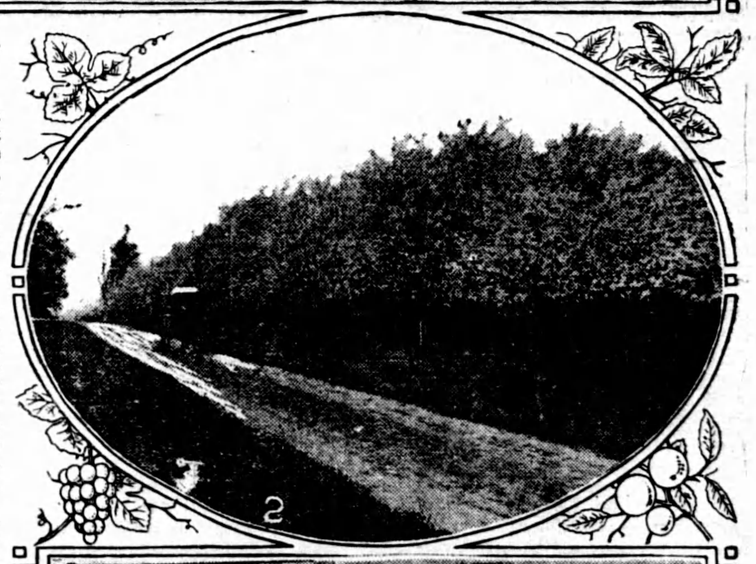
J. Youngblut, butcher, met with a peculiar and very painful accident last Friday which narrowly escaped being serious. He had been using the telephone and when turning away from the instrument was seized with dizziness which caused him to lose his balance and topple over against one of the big hooks used to hang quarters of meat on. The point of the hook caught him behind the ear and tore a deep gash clear to the top of his head, which bled profusely. Fortunately a customer was in at the time and 'phoned for a doctor, who arrived at once and found it necessary to place about 15 stitches in the wound. Had the hook caught lower down in the neck it might have proved fatal.—Rep.

Alfred White, a sixteen-year-old Barnardo boy living with Mr. Ansley Culham of the 10th line of Sunnidale, committed suicide by hanging himself in the barn on Tuesday morning. The boy had been with Mr. Culham for some months and was usually bright and cheerful. On this occasion, however, it is supposed that he became despondent in regard to some little matters in which he was connected and while suffering from melancholia committed the deed. No inquest was held, and the body was buried in Stayner cemetery the same afternoon. He has no relatives in Canada.

At the meeting of Masonic Grand Lodge at London last week a re-arrangement of districts was made by which Georgian, No. 9 A, disappears and a new district, Grey, No. 26, was formed of the lodges in the following places: Owen Sound, Markdale, Flesherton, Dundalk, Shelburne, Orangeville, Erin, Grand Valley, Arthur, Mount Forest and Durham. This arrangement is in accord with the representatives of the various D. D. G., No. 2, who regarded the grouping of No. 9 A, as impractical and inconvenient. Mr. C. H. Mills of Shelburne, was elected D.D.G.M.

Lewis Menary had a narrow escape from a very serious accident at his farm in Amaranth. A pulley on a hay fork broke and falling about 40 feet struck Lewis a glancing blow on the forehead There was sufficient force to bowl over Mr. Menary, make him a bit dizzy and split the skin for a couple of inches. A doctor gave him attention and brought him home in his motor.

IMPORTANCE OF FRUIT INDUSTRY



(1) Gaspereaux Valley, King's Co.
(2) Starr's Point, King's Co., N.S.
(3) Packing Room at Hillcrest. N.S.

IT is said $140,000,000 has been invested in Canadian fruit production so that this is one of our great national industries. In a year of average production 15,000,000 bushels of Canadian apples are marketed, of which Ontario alone ships on an average 1,300 car-loads into the prairie provinces.

Most famous of all orchard areas is the Annapolis Valley in Nova Scotia nine miles wide and eighty miles long. With the Dominion Atlantic Railway running through the valley the growers have ideal packing and shipping facilities. 60 p.c. of the crop being handled co-operatively by one central association. Plums and pears are also grown here on a commercial scale.

Ontario is the proud possessor of the original McIntosh Red Tree which still stands at Dundelas. Large apple orchard districts are found (1) Along the lake shore line of the C.P.R. (2) West of Toronto bordering on Lake Erie and Lake Huron. (3) In the Georgian Bay District, and (4) in the Niagara Peninsula which also produces 95 p.c. of the grape crop and at least 75 p.c. of the Ontario peach crop. Plums and pears are grown wherever apples are produced in Ontario.

British Columbia has developed its fruit industry during quite recent years, the number of fruit trees increasing from 650,000 in 1901 to approximately 3,000,000 in 1913; and the production of apples from 210,000 bushels in 1910 to 787,750 bushels in 1915. The principal fruit-producing section of the Province is the Okanagan Valley, where fruit is packed and marketed largely in a co-operative way, similar to that in vogue in Nova Scotia. There is also a large apple section in the Kootenay Lake District and on the Lower Mainland. Pears and plums are also grown very successfully in these sections of the province already mentioned, and peaches have been planted quite extensively in the southern part of the Okanagan Valley.

Between 1,250,000 and 1,500,000 barrels of Canadian apples are consumed outside of Canada every year, and most of these in Great Britain. The growers of Nova Scotia and Ontario cater especially to the Old Country market, though some British Columbia fruit also reaches it. Nova Scotia has been developing, for some years past, a trade in South America and South Africa, with very satisfactory results. British Columbia exports considerable quantities to Australia and has even experimented with China and Japan.

Should any pressure of circumstances interfere with the export fruit trade, a very serious situation would present itself, for it would be necessary either to double the consumption of fruit in Canada, or to allow tremendous quantities to waste in the orchards. The severity of the situation would only be lessened by concerted co-operation on the part of the consuming public and those who cater to its demands.
