Harvesting and berry picking is the order of the day.

Mrs. Pritchard and daughter, Lilian, also granddaughter, Marjorie Laidlaw, of Toronto, have returned home after visiting with the former's cousin, Mrs. Robt. Richardson.

Ptes. Wm. Davis and Roy Lever spent the week end at their parental homes.

Our neighborhood was saddened on Thursday of last week when the news spread that Miss Bella Brown had departed from this life. Bella had been ailing for some time with Bright's disease. She was taken to Owen Sound hospital on Wednesday and at 2 o'clock the following day peacefully passed away at the early age of 41 years. The funeral service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. A. McVicar of Chalmer's church, of which she was a member. The body was interred in the family plot, Orange Valley cemetery. Beautiful and many were the floral offerings. Among them were; a wreath from her brother, Fred, a wreath from the neighbors, a wreath from the Ladies' Aid, also from the Women's Institute. She leaves to mourn her loss one brother, Fred, who lives on the homestead here. To him we extend our deepest sympathy. We all must remember "The young will die; the old must," and in the end our hope is to meet in the beautiful land beyond.

Mrs. McIntyre and children, Donald and Bruce, of Toronto, are visiting the former's brother, Mr. Robt. Richardson, (Cozy Nook Farm.)

A number from this vicinity intend going West on the harvest excursion. We wish them success.

Miss Elva Lever visited Heathcote friends recently.

Mrs. G. McKee and children, Kathleen and George, of Toronto, are visiting the Lever families here for a few days.

We are pleased to report that Mr. T. Lever is able to resume duties again after being laid up for some time with a sore foot.

Munitions Falling Behind

"The deliveries of munitions from Ontario are running far behind the quantities promised, and we are seriously apprehensive if the existing conditions cannot be bettered."

Such is the statement of the Imperial Munitions Board to the Provincial Organization of Resources Committee, which has been conducting a preliminary investigation into labor conditions in munitions plants in Toronto, Hamilton and other Ontario cities.

This shortage in production has been largely due to the fact that there has been a very inadequate supply of labor sufficiently skilled to make deliveries effective. This has hampered factories turning out steel forgings and operations at the machining and assembling plants. But these, also, have been unable to make deliveries as scheduled, even when they are fully supplied with forgings and component parts, largely owing to the shortage of labor.

The Provincial Committee, therefore, in bringing these facts to the attention of the public, desires:

1 To call the attention of all those engaged in the munitions and allied industries to the importance of their service and the great responsibility resting upon them as individuals to co-operate and do all in their power to secure a steady and increased supply of munitions for our forces at the front.

2. To urge upon all those who are ineligible for overseas service and who are anxious to voluntarily do their best in this great struggle, (especially those now engaged in non-productive work or in the production of commodities which are luxuries more or less,) to consider employment on munitions as their next best service to going overseas.

3 To urge Women's Emergency Corps to register women for munition work or for work which will release men for the munitions industry.

There is no need to emphasize the importance of the highest possible production of munitions. The lives of our boys and the success of their endeavors depend upon it. Statements from the highest authority in Great Britain and from the front bear no small tribute to the part that munition workers are playing in bringing the war to a successful conclusion.

The Officer Commanding a brigade of Canadian artillery, who returned from the front last week said: "The Germans will never break through now. Before they had munitions, guns equipment—everything but the 'nerve.' All we had was 'nerve.' But now we have good guns and plenty of good ammunition. Whereas formerly we were limited to 10 to 15 rounds a day, now we use 500 to 1,000 a gun, and one week lately kept going all night and day. Its all important that the supply of munitions be kept up and increased."

Efforts to use women in munition plants are meeting with good success. In a number of places women have registered, and are waiting to be called to work as soon as necessary arrangements have been made. In Welland, for instance, 95 women responded last week to the call of a factory there which needs 150 to 200 women. Fifty per cent. of those who answered the call had never been in regular employment before.

Wages in munition plants should be such as to attract a large number of workers. Four to seven, and even ten dollars a day is not uncommon, for men employed on the piece-work basis.

"If you can't be the man behing the gun, be the man behind the man behind the gun."

Five times enlisted and five times deserted; with the theft of a $12.00 waterproof, a shotgun, a six cylinder Smith & Wesson revolver to answer for; suspected also of the theft of a Coronation medal and accompanying bars; and with a charge of forgery pending against him, Pte. H. W. Green, who wears the uniform and the badges of the 176th Niagara Rangers, was remanded to gaol at Owen Sound last Friday morning for one week, pending enquiries concerning him, by the local police.

The Mitchell Advocate had the following recently: A case that aroused a good deal of interest came before the Police Magistrate on Wednesday. Wm. Honey had John Burch arraigned for pruning trees frontiag his house. Burch is employed by the town, and the chairman of the Park and Shade Tree committee gave him instructions to cut the trees. The trees, in all cases, are owned by the persons whose property they front. Mr. Honey swore the trees were ruined. The pruning was done without the authority of council by resolution, and the Magistrate felt that the statutes were not complied with. A fine of $5.00 and $3 75 costs were imposed.

According to figures recently prepared Toronto's expenditure for war purposes amount to $66,046 per month, or $1.50 a minute, or 14c a month for every man, woman and child.

Walkerton

Walkerton, which proved such an easy mark for Sheldon's blind pool fake, the Melancthon coal mine deal, and scores of Western wild-cat schemes showed last week that it is still in the succor belt by purchasing heavily from a street corner vendor, who put on a Punch and Judy show to amuse and hold the crowd that were biting at his bait. Watches with no works in them, and which would go when you moved and stop when you did, found ready buyers in the "come-ons," who were out to be stung. More money than brains featured the buying as the locals exchanged perfectly good cash for the trashy imported junk. The outside artists made a beautiful clean-up, and Walkerton again went down in history as one of the easiest "Mr. Good Thing" on the map.

As a result of the admission given by Jas. McCaughey after his trial, when he stated he had been furnished with liquor by Mr. Val. Hahn, of the Hahn House, the latter party pleaded guilty to the charge on Saturday last and paid a fine of $300 and costs. Constable Arrowsmith laid the information and is doing his part in keeping the town clean, over $1400 having been added to the town treasury by fines since his inception of office 18 months ago.—Durham Review.

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE
OTTAWA.

Last week County Constable Archie Moore rounded up in Campbellford Willis Bigham, who is charged with the abduction of Lily Martin, aged 14, from the home of James Sampson, Dummer, on July 9th. He was lodged in the jail.

Peterboro Examiner—William Crowe, of Warsaw, sold $100 worth of huckleberries quicker than scat on the market Saturday morning. He left home with two waggons piled high with one hundred pails of berries; he was on the market only a short time when the hundred pails were empty and his pockets bulged with one hundred iron men.

We agree with with Mr. Robson, secretary of the Canadian Forestry Association, that it is foolish to speak of the blessings of the recent disastrous Northern Ontario fire. It is true that some agricultural land may have been cleared, but much more land whose only possible crop is timber has been robbed of the possibility of such a crop for many years to come. The loss resulting from such a fire is a very serious one indeed, and, say what you will, it is a preventable loss. Stricter regulations as to settlers starting fires, such as prevail in other parts of Canada, would help a great deal. Why Ontario does not adopt such regulations is difficult to understand.—Guardian.

Though munitions of war are being turned out in hundreds of Canadian factories few but the men actually engaged in the work know anything of the system employed, the process being one of the most closely guarded of war secrets The veil will be lifted when the Canadian National Exhibition opens on Aug. 26. Permission has been obtained from the War Office, through the Canadian Government, to show the process of manufacture and several machines operated by skilled workmen, will be engaged for the two weeks turning out shells and projectiles for delivery to the Huns through the gun muzzles of the Allies.

On Monday of last week a son about 14 years of age of Thos, Patchell's, Dobbington, while driving a hay rake in the hay field met with a bad accident. The rake caught in a fence rail which scared the horses. The tongue of the rake broke and the boy fell off the seat the teeth of the rake pulling him along. The team ran a considerable distance and finally jumped the fence which released the boy who was terribly bruised and cut and had to be kept under morphine.

The Bolton Enterprise says that potatoes will be almost a complete failure in this district owing to lack of moisture.

SAVE THE CROP OF WESTERN CANADA

(1) Threshing Wheat, Carman, Man.
(2) Loading Wheat in Manitoba.
(3) Reaping at Carberry, Man.

STATISTICS from the Government authorities show that the wheat crop this year promises to be greater than ever but the problem that is troubling the minds of the farmers in Western Canada is how can the crop be harvested? That is the predominent problem of to-day in Canada apart from recruiting for overseas. The railways are providing special excursions to carry the men to their destinations but the effort will almost be fruitless if the labor does not come forward for the work in view. There is no disguising the seriousness of the situation this year so many men having gone to the front or are on their way. Despite this fact, however, there should be no lack of men to gather in Canada's greatest asset if the country is to still continue the good work of the past two years in helping the Mother Country in the greatest war the world has even known. While Canada has sent some hundred thousand men to the war there are still hundreds of thousands more left who have not enlisted and who are not assisting in the making of munitions. These have now an excellent opportunity of doing a little bit at home to help the war abroad. Canada's crop is of vital necessity to Great Britain and her Allies so that everyone who helps in gathering in the harvest will in some measure be assisting in carrying on the war to a successful issue. The effort will not only be a health giver but give excellent remuneration.

You who are not helping your country directly are invited to take the trip West for a couple of months and not only earn three dollars a day and board but also feel that you are helping the powers to end the war successfully for our side. Any railway agent will furnish you with all the information to enable you to go to Western Canada and do your little "bit" by helping the farmers to harvest the great crop on which so much depends.
