Misses Olive and Hazel Henry came home from Toronto last week, where they have been during the past winter, on account of their mother's illness.

It has been announced that practically all of the 147th Battalion have crossed from England and are now in the firing line.

Among the casualty list we noticed the names of three Grey boys, N. H. Campbell of Owen Sound, a brother of Lieut. Stan Campbell of the 147th, who was killed in action a short time ago, C. W. McNally of Durham and F. Bassett of Harkaway. All three were wounded.

The contract for erection of the new Eugenia school has been let to Mr. Card Graham for $3,375. This includes thoroughly completing the building—everything excepting the seating, which will be extra.

Last Wednesday evening, it being Mrs. Dudgeon's birthday, about twenty-five members of the W. M. S. met at the parsonge and presented her with a Life Membership Certificate. Mrs. Dudgeon was wholly taken by surprise, but replied in a fitting manner. Lunch was served and a pleasant evening spent.

A cable was received by his father on Monday stating that Arthur Walters of Kimberley had been killed by gunshot. No other particulars are to hand. Arthur was a popular, manly young fellow, the second son of Mr. Will Walters. He was a member of the 147th Battalion.

A couple of oil men have been in town for the past week and are getting the machinery on the ground preparatory to boring. The big boiler and other material was brought in last week. They will bore on a lot owned by W. A. Armstrong at the south end of the village. It is with much satisfaction that the citizens note these preparations to prove what is under us and whether the Karstedt well is a ghost or something more material.

On Friday evening last a little entertainment was held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Armstrong. As the boys lost in the contest against the girls in the Mission Band, they had to act as hosts to the young ladies and also prepare the program. A lively evening was spent in games and contests.

The board of management of East Grey fall fair met Monday evening and revised the prize list. It was decided to give the farmers another opportunity to enter a field competition in oats and mangolds. Any person desirous of entering either of these competitions must notify the secretary at once as the lists will close May 1. There are big prizes given for these competitions and any person who can do so should go in for it and get the thing started here.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church held their Easter Thankoffering on Wednesday of last week; the ladies of Chalmer's and the Baptist churches were present, making an attendance of about sixty. A missionary program was rendered, cordial greetings were received from the two churches and a thankofferine of over eighteen dollars was received, which no doubt will be increased later. Lunch was served at the close.

Col. Rorke has practically completed arrangements for a flight of aeroplanes over Grey Co. touching at different centres, about the 1st of May. This will be the first time an aeroplane has ever flown over any portion of the County and will be of historical interest. There will be 6 machines in the squadron and the people of Grey will have Col. Rorke to thank for this visit of our aerial fighting forces. They are coming directly as an advertisement for the 248th Batt. and practically everyone in the County will have an opportunity to see them in flight. Due notice will be given in the press as to when they will be here.

Miss Susan McKenzie of the gravel road died on Sunday from a paralytic stroke. The deceased lady resided with her brother, Mr. Roderick McKenzie, and was stricken one day last week, passing away on Sunday. She was a sister of Reeve T. R. McKenzie of Artemesia. The funeral took place to Orange Valley cemetery on Tuesday. A peculiarity in connection with this case was the fact that a sister residing in Detroit suffered a stroke on the same day and almost the same hour, and word of her death is also expected. The deceased lady has resided here for over sixty years and was highly respected. She had been in failing health for some time. She was a member of Chalmers' Presbyterian church. Later—Mrs. Taylor died at the residence of her daughter in Detroit on Saturday night. The remains were brought to Owen Sound for interment on Tuesday at the same hour as that of her sister here. Reeve T R. McKenzie attended the funeral in Owen Sound.

Instantly Killed at Orillia

John Holliday, aged 72 years, was instantly killed at the railway crossing at the foot of Andrew St., Orillia, on Monday, April 2nd. Mr. Holliday, who was employed at the Tudhope-Anderson factory, was on his way to work at 12.40. In crossing the G. T. R. tracks he was struck by the passenger train from Toronto and instantly killed. He was hit by the engine and carried 40 or 50 yards before falling from the train, which didn't pass over him. There was an ugly wound on the right side of the head, and his right arm and right leg were also broken. It appears that he didn't notice the train until it was nearly upon him, and, becoming confused, failed to escape before being struck. The engineer was looking from the window on the south side of the train and didn't see the unfortunate man until he rolled from in front of the moving train. Deceased came to Orillia from Bracebridge.

The Late Patrick Quigg

Mr. Patrick Quigg died very suddenly at his home, Toronto street, on Wednesday evening of last week, of heart failure, at the age of 83 years. The deceased was born in Londonderry Co., Ireland and came to Canada at the age of 18 years. For two years he lived in Toronto, where he met and married Mary Stewart, who survives him. Together they came to Osprey, where they lived for a couple years, then came to Artemesia, where they also lived a couple of years on the farm now owned by Mr. Geo. Binnie, near Saugeen Junction. They then bought a bush lot a couple lots north on the west back line, from Mr. Thorp Wright, and together tasted all the trials of pioneer life in conjunction with their neighbors, the Parks, Bests and Buskins. Here they raised a large family, every member of whom are highly esteemed citizens where they reside. Several years ago they gave over the farm to their son, Harry, and came to Flesherton to live. Besides the sorrowing widow there remain seven daughters and two sons, viz: Mrs. Andrew Bentham and Mrs. Mrs. E. J. Swift, Toronto; Mrs. Mark Stewart and Mrs. Archie Stewart, Artemesia; Mrs. E. Wurtz, Saskatchewan; Mrs. Ringland, McLeod Alta.; Mrs. A. Brooks, Harrison; Harry on the homestead and Thos. of Alberta. Mrs. John Gilchrist of Ceylon is an only sister, and is nearly three years his senior. Mr. Quigg was always of a cheery disposition and as a citizen was very highly respected. The funeral took place Friday afternoon to Flesherton cemetery and was largely attended by friends and acquaintances.

According to a notice of the Ontario Department of Education there are only 199 teaching days In 1917. The dates of closing are; Easter holidays, April 5 to 16; Summer holidays, June 29 to September y; Christmas, close December 29.

Mrs. Mary White, a women customs inspector who operates all along the Ontario border, moving from town to town, recently made a big haul at Niagara Falls. Secreted upon the persons of members of her own sex she found silk stockings, shoes, and even Easter Millinery and bottles of whiskey. It is something new for a woman customs inspector to unearth bottles of whiskey, and it will occur to some that this was unheard of ere woman suffrage found favour at Queen's Park, while others will recognize in the Ontario Temperence Act and its rigtd enforcement the cause.—Renfrew Mercury.

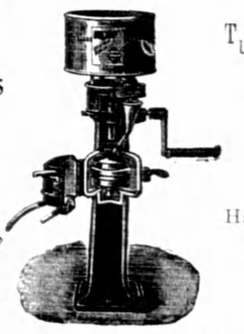
MELOTTE
CREAM SEPARATORS
Are Still Leading

First in 1888
The Mellotte is still
Foremost in 1917

Over A Million In Use



Turns Easiest
Skims Cleanest
Wears Longest

Has To-Day The Largest Sale In The British Empire

Just A Few Words, Mr. Farmer

You have been thinking of buying a MELOTTE Separator for the past two or three years,—or perhaps you did think about it once but was pursuaded into taking some other make guaranteed "just as good and not half the price." Every month the "MELOTTE" is replacing scores of these "Just As Good" machines which find their last resting place on the junk pile.

If you have never used a Cream Separator, don't be a "back number" any longer.

If you are using some hard-turning, troublesome, top-heavy bowl separator which is causing as much waste of valuable butter-fat as the old setting-pan or gravity system,—Throw It Out And Install In Its Place A Money-Maker—the "MELOTTE".

We have a "MELOTTE" here for you, and would be glad to have your nams added to the long list of satisfied "MELOTTE" Users. Just let us know that you are thinking of a Separator and we will be glad to talk the matter over with you.

Keep hens this year

EGG and poultry prices, the like of which have seldom or never been experienced, certainly make it worth anyone's while to start keeping hens. By doing so you have fresh eggs at the most trifling cost. At the same time you have the splendid satisfaction of knowing that you are doing something towards helping Britain, Canada and the Allies achieve victory this year.

Increased production of food helps not only to lower the high cost of living, but it helps to increase the urgently needed surplus of Canada's food for export. It saves money otherwise spent for eggs and poultry at high prices, and saves the labor of others whose effort is needed for more vital war work.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture will give every possible assistance by affording information about poultry keeping. Write for free bulletin which tells how to keep hens (address below).

"A vegetable garden for every home"

Nothing should be overlooked in this vital year of the war. The Department earnestly invites everyone to help increase production by growing vegetables. Even the smallest plot of ground, when properly cultivated, produces a surprising amount of vegetables. Experience is not essential.

On request the Department of Agriculture will send valuable literature, free of charge, giving complete directions for preparing soil, planting, cultivation, etc. A plan of a vegetable garden, indicating suitable crop to grow, best varieties and their arrangement in the garden, will be sent free to any address.
