VOL 36 No. 50 Flesherton, Ont., Thursday, May 3 1917 W. H. THURSTON EDITOR and PROPRIE

Kimberley Budget

A very cold backward Spring.

Mr. John Stuart and daughter, Lottie, visited in Flesherton on Saturday last.

At Thornbury on Wed last, Mr. Fred Eagles, one of our prosperous agriculturists and Miss Pollie Bowie of Union were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Your correspondent joins with their many friends in wishing them a long and prosperous voyage through life.

Since our village was incorporated I tell you we've got to walk like straight-laced Puritans. Any cow going through the village at less than a 2.40 clip and with the owner over two feet from her, will be fined. This is the law of the Medes and Persians which altereth not. I guess we can stand this till the New Year and then ring out the old, ring in the new.

James R. Fawcett is visiting this week with his son, J. H.,, Collingwood.

A memorial service for the late Corp. Arthur Walters was held in the Methodist church on Sunday last, when the pastor, Rev. Lane, occupied the pulpit.

Martin--Lever

A very pretty house wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening, April 28, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Lever, when their eldest daughter, Elva Mildred, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Charles H. Martin, a popular young man of East Mountain, Kimberley. The wedding took place at 5.30 p m., the ceremony being conducted by Rev. James Dudgeon, pastor of the Methodist church. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Harold, entered the room to the strains of Mendellsohn's Wedding March, played by Mrs. Emerson Wickens. The bridal party stood under an arch of evergreen's, which was appropriately decorated. The bride was prettily attired in a dress of cream silk enriched with silk embroidered net trimmed with pearl ornaments. She wore a wreath of orange blossoms, while the groom wore a bouquet of the same. The bride's bouquet was composed of carnations, sweet peas, roses and maidenhair fern. The bride and groom were unattended. After congratulations about sixty guests entered the tea room, which was handsomely decorated, and partook of a dainty wedding repast. The young couple will reside at Eugania. The presents were numerous and costly, showing the esteem in which the young couple are held. Among those present from a distance were: Misses Nettie and Cora Martin of Owen Sound, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lever and son, Harold, and Mrs. Sheridan Herry, Markdale; Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMullen and daughter, Mildred, of Duncan; Mr. Nat Caswell of Proton Station.
