The Second Son

Word was received on Thursday evening of last week from headquarters, London, by Blaney McGuire of Orangeville, that his second son. Lieut R.B McGuire, had been accidently killed in France. Robert Blaney McGuire was in his first year at the Dental College when the news reached his home in Orangeville that his elder brother, Lieut. Harry B. McGuire, had been killed at Langemarch. He announced then to his mother his intentions to take his brother's place and he left for overseas with the first picked group of dental students shortly after Christmas of 1915.

He had not been attached to any of the Battalions at the front for some time but had been engaged in training bombers in England, and had taken two parties over to France. His last letter announced that he had been in France for a month and a half, having gone over with a party men. The fact that his death is stated to have been accidental might indicate that some accidental explosion may have occurred.

Lieut. McGuire was 23 and was a very well liked man in student circles. Principal Falconer had presented him with a ring on the occasion of his going overseas. His younger brother, Horace B., is in the Pay Office, London, being unfit for the front.

Two kegs, one containing dampened grain and the other some sweet liquid, were also found. These appliances were seized and on Wednesday Mr. Coffey was charged before Magisirates Geo. Menzies and Geo. P. Creighton with having these articles unlawfully in his possession, controry to the Inland Revenue Act. A fine of $100 and costs was imposed and as no still was found the usual term of imprisonment which accompany's a fine in these cases was not asked for, there being no actual proof that alcohol had been made. The appliance was verp simple, the tub being the barrel of a patent washing machine. The worm was made of lead pipe formed into a coil around the inside of the tub with a joint made to fit onto a gooseneck, and a bottom discharge. Mr. Coffey is an old bachelor living alone and bears a most excellent reputation in his community. Mr. W. H. Wright acted for Mr. Coffey and Mr. H. G. Tucker acted for the Inland Revenue Dept.—O. S. Sun.

St. Vincent Wins Lawsuit

This is an action brought by the township of Euphrasia against the township of St. Vincent in the Ontario Supreme Court tried before Mr. Justice Clute on December 6th and 7th, 1915. The Euphrasia Council claimed (1) to have it declared that the Walters Falls road leading from the townline southerly and westerly througe the 10th, 11th and 12th concessions is a deviation of the St. Vincent and Euphrasia townline, and (2) to recover $721.74, the cost of past maintenance thereof from the township of St. Vincent. Mr. Justice Clute gave judgement favorable to Euphrasia declaring the Walters Falls road a deviation of the townline. From Justice Clute's judgement St. Vincent appealed to the Court of Appeal, and this latter Court dismissed the action with costs. Euphrasia in turn appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada, and the Supreme Court dismissed the appeal with costs. This means that the township of St. Vincent wins out in this protrated litigotion and Euphrasia must pay all costs of the trial court and of all the subsequent appeals, Messrs. Lucas, Raney & Henry were solicitors for Euphrasia, and Mr. G. G. Albery, solicitor for the township of St. Vincent. —Meaford Mirror.

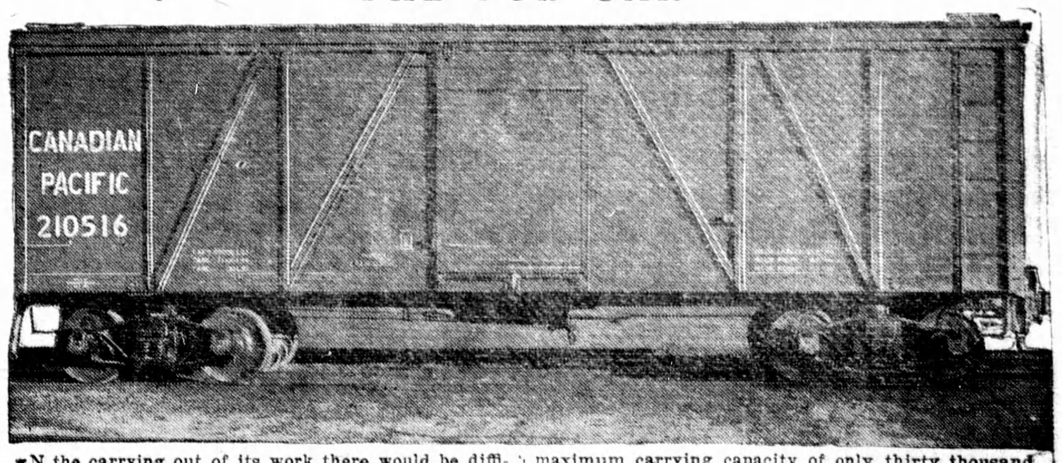
THE "A. B. C." OF RAILWAYS

THE BOX CAR



IN the carrying out of its work there would be difficulty in finding an instrument that has been of more assistance to modern industry than the freight car. Its uses are manifold, from a traffic handling point of view, for it serves alike the shipper of merchandise, the coal dealer and at times the livestock man.

When we consider the history and development of the freight car we find there a reflection of the rapid progress made in the industrial world of recent years. It is but a short time ago, comparatively, when the standard car, of light wooden construction, had a maximum carrying capacity of only thirty thousand pounds, and to-day we have the modern car equipped with heavy trucks and constructed of steel throughout, transporting at high speed a load of from ninety-five to one hundred and ten thousand pounds.

The value of the box car to shipper and railway has increased to a degree commensurate with its development and particularly so during the past few years, when the more expeditious release of equipment after reaching destination, has permitted an increase in car mileage which represents just so much more service to the public.
