We are glad to be able to report baby Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Cameron, who has been under the nurse's and doctor's care, able to play around again.

Mr. and Mrs. Huggard, of Heathcote, spent the week end with friends here. Mr. G. W. Graham and sister, Jean, returned home with them.

Mrs. Robt. Phillips and little son, Albert, of Toronto, visited with Mrs. A. Hoy.

The many friends of Captain Ellwood Purvis, Private Will Campbell and Pte. Henry Tudor are glad to hear that they are improving.

Power House and Vicinity

Mr. Hogg of the H.E. P. C., Toronto, visited the power house lately.

Mrs. L. Badgerow, of Portlaw, visited with friends in this vicinity.

We are very sorry to report Mr. Robt. Campbell on the sick list. His many friends hope to hear of a speedy recovery.

Plans are being made to put an addition to the power house.

Mr. J. Latimer and son, Mr. J. Fawcett, of Eugenia, are busy making improvements on the yards and surroundings at the power house. Mr. Latimer had a narrow escape from being badly hurt, falling about thirty feet down over some rock near the power house. Mr. Latimer said "he had his eye on a porcupine."

Singhampton

The first memorial service for fallen soldiers ever held in this village was condncted by Rev. J. B. Lamb in the Methodist church on Sunday morning, May 13th, when the village and community turned out in large numbers to pay a last tribute of honor to Christopher Edwards and Gordon McKinnon, two heroes of the Battle of Vimy Ridge.

The church decorations were unique and effective. In front of the pulpit was a banner of white silk on which was hand-painted, the work of Miss Nellie Taylor, the inscription, "In memory of Our heroes." Surrounding the banner were small flags and at its base, on the communion table which was draped in black, were placed photographs of the two boys, each in his uniform. The pulpit and table also held standards of pure white flowers, the gift of sympathetic friends.

Rev. J. B. Lamb preached a forceful sermon, full of comforting thoughts for the sorrowing ones also full of inspiring messages for those who are compelled to remain at home. His text was, "He that loseth his life shall save it." Rev. R. Dinnen was not able to be present, but sent a message of consolation which was read by Mr. Lamb.

The musical part of the service was very impressive. Misses Eva Hammill and May Morrison sang sweetly and tenderly the duet, "Some Day 'Twill All be Over," while the choir rendered the anthem, "Cast Thy Bread On the Lord." The congregation joined heartily in the hymns, the closing one being "God Save Our Native Land," followed by the National Anthem and the playing of the "Dead March in Saul." Altogether the service was one which will be long remembered.—Bulletin.

Notice to Soldiers

The Advance has for a long time been sending about twenty copies to our soldier boys across the sea. We would like to know if these papers are being received regularly. If they are not there is no use of continuing the outlay. Will those receiving the paper send us a card. Others will be discontinued.

Durham

Mrs. Campbell and daughter, Miss Islay Campbell, returned Monday from a fortnight's visit with Toronto friends.

One at a time is good fishing. especially when the one is as big as the trout Shirley McIntyre caught a couple of days ago. It measured a shade over 17 inches long, and tipped the scale at two pounds and five ounces. This is the biggest we have heard of this season.

Dr. Jamieson had part of his front lawn ploughed up and placed under cultivation. The idea is a good one, but few with a good lawn would care to have it disfigured. The hoe will now take the place of the lawn mower.—Chronicle.

Walkerton

Four hams were hanging in a row in Wingefelder & Krueger's smoke house, when a thief came, and then there were but three, briefly explains what happened to the hind end of a pig one night last week. For the most heavily churched town in Bruce, the amount of thieving that is going on here is a caution.

Never since Haman was hanged from his own gallows has the irony of fate been greater exemplified than in the case of Richard Thomas Jones of Bruce Twp., who after drawing stone to build the Walkerton jail over forty years ago, found himself committed to the punishment plant on Monday last as a vagrant. In crossing the threshold of the local bastile the aged prisoner confided to the Chief that when drawing those stones as a young man he little expected they would be sheltering him in his old age. But it is this uncertainity of life that make the drama interesting, and causes one to wonder whether he will go out like Lazarus picking up crumbs or be down looking up like Dives and clamoring for a drink.

In the suit brought by Mrs. Ida May Greaves against her husband, Ezekial Greaves, of Greenock, and which was aired before Mr. Justice Sutherland at the High Court here on Wednesday, a settlement was effected between the parties whereby the wife gets $1500 alimony to be paid inside of a month, together with part of the household furniture, a $350 piano and the custody of her three children, two girls and a boy. —Bruce Herald and Times.

Kimberley Budget

Leaves have there time to fall and flowers to wither,
But thou hast all seasons for thine own oh death.

The whole community was plunged into grief on Tuesday morning last when it became known that Mrs. Wm McClung had died suddenly from heart failure. Deceased, whose maiden name was Susan Fawcett, was in her 63rd year and was a daughter of the late John Fawcett, of Collingwood township. She is survived by her loving husband; three sons—Samuel, Joseph with the 248th Batt., and Amos of the 11th line, Euphrasia; three daughters—Mrs. John Wyville of the 11th line, Euphrasia, Mrs. John Gibson of Flesherton, and Mrs. John Burrell of Markdale. Five brothers also survive—William, John, Henry, Isaac and James; and two sisters—Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. Snell Deceased was held in high esteem by everyone and hadn't an enemy. The funeral was the largest known in this part for many years. The remains were interred in the Thornbury union cemetery on Thursday last.

We are pleased to see the genial face of Mr Henry Hurd in our midst once more, he having arrived home one day last week after an extended visit with friends in the West. He was accompanied by Richard Howell, who was a former resident of our burg.

Harold Ellis, Ernest Proctor and wife, and Harold Kerr motored over to Port Elgin on Saturday last and made a pleasant visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Fawcett of that town.

We are sorry to report Dalton Ferguson on the sick list, but hope to soon see him around again

Stanley Lawrence is on a business trip to Toronto at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Lawrence and son, Laurie, are visiting with their daughter, Mrs John Taylor, at Owen Sound.

Thomas Jamack has purchased a Ford car.

Died—At Powassan, on Wednesday, May 16. Mrs. Drinkwater, of Detroit, Michigan, United States, America. Deceased was formerly Miss Christina Ellis, a sister of William and Albert Ellis of this part.

On Monday morning Mr. John D. Ross, of the 6th of Egremont, met with a very bad accident. He was standing in front of three horses attached to a cultivator, holding them by the head while his son, Hazel, went round to get the lines. One of the horses was a fractious colt, and something startled the horses which ran away, and passed over Mr. Ross who was then caught by the cultivator and dragged fifty or sixty yards. The injuries sustained by Mr. Ross are very serious. Six ribs were broken and driven in against the lung which was badly lacerated. As we write, on Tues., his condition is regarded as very critical, but we hope developments may be favorable and his life spared.—Confederate.
