He flew home, circled ever the village and landed in one of the familiar fields of the farm on which he was born. People flocked from miles around to see the aeroplane. Talk about home-comings! No boy, even in a dream, ever had anything to beat that.

Donald McKinnon Killed

Donald McKinnon, son of Postmaster McKinnon of Priceville, has been killed in action in France. The sad news came on Monday. Donald was the first of three brothers to enlist, and threw up his situation as mail clerk on this line of railway in order to serve his country. Neil was returned invalided and Hector is at present in England attached to the Flying Corps.

Sergt. Donald McKinnon was wounded on September 10 and died on the 13th. He was a member of the 10th Battery C. F. A. He enlisted in 1915 in the Army Service Corps and joined the Engineers as sapper in the Signal section. He sailed for England in January of 1916 and went to France in May of that year. In England he was promoted to a Sergeant and was transferred in Feb. of this year to the 10th Battery C. F. A.

Letter from Harold Phillips

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Phillips of the Collingwood gravel received this week a letter from their son, Harold, who was wounded by a gunshot, which has given them great relief. The letter was dated August 31 and reads in part as follows:

France, Aug. 31, 1917.

Dear all at home:—Well here I am once more only under entirely different circumstances than I was when I last wrote. I think I was in gay Paris when wrote you last and I was nine days away from the front or rather the Battalion. But times have changed since then, and now you find me at the Canadian Casualty clearing Station slightly wounded; it isn't very bad, only slight, so don't worry in the least for I am all right. I got it in the neck, but not before I got three of them so that isn't so bad. We were having a real hot time but I tell you there was something superhuman working just then and I was lucky. We are having pretty fair weather here just now, nothing to complain about. The mud is all dried up once more.

The late Mrs. Fred Martin

A sad gloom was cast over this vicinity when it was known that Mrs. Fred Martin of Eugenia had passed away. The deceased had been in failing health for some time and all that could be done was done to spare her life but to no avail. She quietly passed away on Wednesday last, Sept. 12. Her maiden name was Ina Magee, daughter of Mr. Jas. Magee of Eugenia, and she was married six years ago She leaves to mourn her loss a kind, affectionate husband and two little children—Lorenzo age 5, and Irene age 3. The service was held in Eugenia Methodist church, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Rev. Dinnick conducted the service and the "Glory Song," favorite of the deceased, was sung by the choir. The flowers which covered the casket were most beautiful, which showed she was held in high esteem by her many friends. Interment was made in Flesherton cemetery, there to await the glorious resurrection.

Cecil Haley, a brakeman of Sarnia, getting off his train while it was on a bridge at Bronte, fell 75 feet into a ravine and broke his neck.

The House of Refuge

Every ratepayer in the county has more or less interest in the county house of refuge, though doubtless many of them have never even visited the institution. There are at present fifty inmates—29 male and 21 female.

Mr. Sinclair, the manager, with his wife as matron, a nurse and two female helpers and a hired man, comprise the staff, who, together with the assistance some of the inmates can render, perform the onerous duties of this humane concern.

Both the farm and the premises present an attractive, thrifty appearance, while a closer inspection reveals commendable system and capability on the part of the manager. The products of the farm go a long way in feeding this large family.

There are this season 15 acres of hay, 18 of oats, and 13 of roots, an excellent yield in every case; also 13 cows. These latter furnish milk and butter for the "boarders," which number from 45 to 60.

It is certainly gratifying to know that this important public institution is so capably and economically managed—Merford Mirror.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dearly beloved son and brother, Pte. Orin Earl Parliament, of the 19th Batt., who died for his king and country September 16, 1916, aged 26 years.

Far off in France he lies—
He fills a heroe's grave,
And we are left to mourn.
His cheery way, his smiling face,
Are pleasant to recall,
Now there's nothing left to answer
But his picture on the wall.
Soldier of Christ, well done!
Praise be thy new employ,
And while eternal ages run
Rest in thy Saviour's joy.

Father, Mother, Sisters and Brother.
