THE MIXING BOWL
BY Anne Allan
HYDRO HOME ECONOMIST

Hello Homemakers! After collecting everything required for a picnic and after an hour in the country, people "build up" appetites as ravenous as though they had been digging in the garden all day. Whether or not this is partly a matter of imagination the fact remains that picnickers look forward to being fed The good homemaker remembers to bring along satisfying picnic dishes and the requisite utensils.

If there are cooking facilities at the picnic grounds, plan to serve a hamburger surprise . . . Holiday Hamburgers; The peppy flavour will please everyone. Fresh fruit with a cup of steeped coffee will complete the meal. However any sunny day have supper on the back porch, or in the backyard, or the park. Make a combination salad, butter hot tea biscuits and take along with the thermos filled with chilled fruit juices.

We maintain that a simple but ample lunch eliminates fuss and bother. The items that are frequently overlooked are salt and pepper shakers; we sometimes forget to take off the caps, stick in a bit of wax paper and screw tops on tightly to prevent spilling.

DENVER HAMBURGS

3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup chopped cooked ham
1 tbsp. finly chopped green pepper
2tsps. minced onion
½ tsp. salt
⅛tsp. pepper
Toasted bread

Combine all ingredients except toasted bread and drop mixture from tablespoon on to greased frying pan and spread to make flat cakes. Brown on both sides and serve between slices of toasted or untoasted bread or rolls
