Why does Canada Raise Money by Selling Bonds?

BONDS are issued payable in ten or twenty years, as the case may be. It means that repayment of the money will be spread over ten or twenty years instead of being raised by taxation to meet current expenditures.

To raise by taxation all the money as fast as it is needed to carry on Canada's share in winning the war, would be an unbearable burden upon the people.

It would mean that more than a million dollars a day would have to be raised right now.

But to raise money by selling Canada's Victory Bonds means that those of the next generation who will benefit by the sacrifices this generation is making;

—who will share in the freedom this generation is fighting for and largely paying for—will also pay their share.

★ ★ ★

And when you buy Canada's Victory Bonds you make a first-class business investment in a security that is absolutely safe, likely to enhance in value after the war, and bearing a good rate of interest.

You help the country by keeping open the British market for Canadian products and this helps the general welfare in which you share.

★ ★ ★

And again, every Canadian who buys a Victory Bond becomes a financial partner or backer of Canada in the war.

When you buy a Canada Victory Bond you give a personal pledge that you are going to help to win the war.

Every man and woman in Canada can help to win the war by buying Canada's Victory Bonds. And Canada wants the personal, individual interest and co-operation of every man and woman in the country.

The buying of Victory Bonds by the whole people unites them in a determination to win the war.

Every purchase of Canada's Victory Bonds is a blow for freedom against the tyranny of German Kultur.

Every bond sold is a new guarantee that Canada is in the war to the finish, until victory is with the Allies and the world has been made safe to live in.

Every bond you buy is a new pledge that Canada will remain true to herself, the Empire, the Allies and to freedom's cause.

So it is both patriotic and good business to

Held over last week

The farmers and some villagers have been harvesting some fine crops of potatoes. At the end of the week about 50 per cent. still remained in the ground.

Rev. P. N. Jones, pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the preparatory service in St. Columba Presbyterian church last Friday afternoon and the congregation seemed highly pleased with the sermon.

Karstedt Bros. shipped a car of potatoes this week. G. W. Tryon is also on the market buying up a carload of potatoes.

The remains of the late Robert Blakeston of Stratford arrived here on the 4.20 train Saturday of last week, accompanied by the eldest son, W.J., teacher in Shakespeare school, Stratford. The deceased was 88 years of age and received an injury by a fall which resulted in congestion of the bowels, which medical aid failed to remove. The funeral started from the residence of his daughter and son in law, Mr. and Mrs. John Williamson. The services at residence and cemetery were conductrd by both the resident clergymen. Interment took place in the new public cemetery. The floral tributes were numerous including those from the family and fraternal societies, the teaching staff of Shakespeare school, the Shakespeare Ward Mothers' Club, Mr. Blakeston's pupils and several from prominent families in Stratford. The youngest son, Sidney, is farming in the West. The mother, one son and infant daughter who lie in the old village cemetery will be removed to the new.

Pte. Donald Cameron of the 48th Highlanders, who has been at the front for ever two years, was injured several times and had some very narrow escapes, was at one time a Priceville boy. He came up from Toronto to visit friends, and was banqueted by the citizens on the evening of the 15th.

Rev. Campbell of Brantford was a caller on old friends in the village on Monday last and Mrs. C. sent some tulip bulbs and other plants to be placed on the grave of her father, the late James Brander.

Look to the First Class

Ottawa, Oct. 28—Preparations have been rushed to take care of the first men called up under the Military Service Act, since all indications point to a heavy response at the very first. It requires a huge organization throughout the country to take care of the operation of the Act.

The Governor General's proclamation was printed in all the newspapers of the country on Oct. 18, calling up the first class. This includes all male subjects between the ages of 20 and 34 who were unmarried on July 6, 1917, or are widowers without children. All such men must report for service on or before November 10 next, if application for exemption has not been made in their behalf before that date.

Since, by this time, the country has been fully informed as to each man's duty under the Military Service Act, and knows the severe penalties provided for those who try to evade the law, a speedy formation of the required reinforcements to the number of 100,000 is expected from the first class called.
