We shall be satisfied! How sweet the thought;
Impatient heart, look up, be still;
The sun still shines in never ending day;
Then trust, and wait thy Father's will.

CATARRH.—A new treatment has been discovered whereby a permanent cure of this hitherto incurable disease, is absolutely effected

LOCAL NEWS LETTERS.

PROVIDENCE.

The anniversary of the Sunday School here will be held on Sunday and Monday June 21 and 22nd. Further particulars in due time.

NEW HAVEN.

Mr. Ira Pearce is the first in this neighborhood to report having finished seeding—all done last week.
Miss Lee, of Newcastle, is visiting at Poplar Grove.

HAMPTON.

The sale of lots advertised by Mr. H. Elliott, Sen., took place at Burketon station last week; about half of the lots were sold realizing upwards of $700.

We hear that a branch of the "Home Circle" was successfully organized in this place last Friday evening, with sixteen charter members.

Time-pieces in this vicinity seemed to very considerably Sunday morning! was the congregation too slow, or the pastor too fast?

House cleaning not done yet, visiting this week, even Pastors are timed above calling.

Mr. John Clayton, who has been sick all winter, died Saturday morning. The funeral Sunday was largely attended, carriages present nearly sixty in number, Rev. J. Whitlock officiating.

Oshawa must have a poor class of ministers this year, as some of their young men come all the way here to listen to the eloquence of our esteemed Pastor. We can't think of anything else that would bring them all that distance.

TYRONE.

Rev. T. Ferrier took the highest stand at the conference examinations, and not second as was stated last week.

Mr. W. Allsworth was taken suddenly ill on Sunday last but is improving a little.

Our citizens are making a commendable move towards improving their surroundings, by clearing up debris, putting up new fences and ridding up generally.

Rev. J. J. Ferguson favored us with his presence at prayer meeting last Tuesday evening.

We regret the approaching departure of Mrs. and Miss Gibbard from our midst, as they are much esteemed and will be greatly missed in church and Sabbath School work.

The church has had some very needful repairs this week. There is room for many more yet however.

Wanted: immediately, two or three young ladies to act as waiters at the S. S. anniversary. Any reasonable amounts will be paid those guaranteeing satisfaction.

Vegetation is progressing rapidly. The maples on Front St. present a pleasing appearance.

Hartford vs. Dominion Grange.

To the Editor of the Statesman,

DEAR SIR,—Mr. Horace Moulton in your last issue I see has laid the Old Hartford Insurance Company right out. I expect he thinks that it can pick up and leave at once, as nobody will insure in it now. Well, just imagine the check that he has to compare the losses and expenses of a company that covers all kinds of hazardous risks with one that does farm risks only. But if he must compare them, for any sake, let us have a fair one, and compare one year's expenses with one year's business. I see in the first place he compares our expenses to our losses which are: Losses, $714,15.14; expenses, $4,765.51, now, their last year's losses are $5,762.64; expenses $5,110.15; now, if out expenses were anything like theirs it would be over $60,000 instead of the above. Horace tries hard to make farmers believe that he does all his part for nothing. Anyone that knows him will not believe it, as they well know that he is as tight as the bark to a tree and likes money too well to do anything for nothing.

We will now make a comparison which is the only fair test of a company's economy and good management. The Hartford last year took new risks and renewals $14,031,520.00; expenses of management $4,765.51. Now, the Dominion Grange in the last report took and renewed $1,911,202.00; expenses of management, $5,110.15, so this shows that the Old Hartford could run the little Grange business for about $500, which now costs over ten times that amount, and if the Dominion Grange would only fill in a place in the report (which they are ashamed to fill) and always leave blank, that is (Agents' commissions and fees) they would show even worse than that. For the Hartford's business is nearly all yearly, and there is no fees charged on yearly policies, while nearly all the Grange business is three and four years with a policy fee of $1.50 printed on each of them. Horace makes an awful fuss about the Hartford paying $16,332.95 for commission and brokerage on over $14,000,000.00 insurance. Now, suppose that poor Horace only gets the fees, that is, $1.50 on each policy, as they would be $2,341 on $1,911,202 insurance, which will be equal to all the commission paid by the Hartford on that amount of insurance. Another comparison that he makes, is the Hartford's liabilities to the interest that his company paid. I don't see what the one has to do with the other. The Hartford has over 14 millions at risk and their liability to assure this in case anything happened the company would be $74,066.98 and they have $100,000 deposited with the Government to pay that with. Now, the Dominion Grange has at risk $6,855,428.00; liabilities—nothing. A mutual company does not need anything, for when anything happens them we find the notes all in some bank and the insured gets a card stating that if he wants to be safe he had better insure in some other company. I can hunt up dozens of these cards for poor Horace, if he has not seen them, and from companies that made just as much blowing as the Grange company is doing now. Another thing that I can tell him is that he cannot get one of these parties to give a Premium Note; for in every case when this happens they have to pay it in full. I think that poor Horace sent up the wrong company, as I have over 1,300 farm risks and not half a dozen of them in the Hartford; so all this powder is lost. Try again old fellow; I have thirteen other companies.

THE CHATHAM BINDER

Why Farmers Should Buy the Chatham Binder.

For the last two seasons we have seen the necessity of an adjustable Binder table that the farmer can set so as to meet all the different kinds and conditions of grain. We know all the difficulties to be encountered in going into a field of grain when part is standing and part lodged or, as sometimes is the case, the grain is short and thin, and again very rank. Our adjustable table meets and overcomes all these difficulties, makes the machine more compact, can be easily operated by a boy ten years old; driven through barn doors or gates; can be set to work in a field with the greatest ease and without the driver having to remove a single bolt or leave his seat. Examine for yourself and be convinced that the Chatham Cord Binder is far in advance of anything in the market.

THE ONLY BINDER IN EXISTENCE

on which the driver can sit on his seat and raise or lower both ends of the Harvester; can shift the butter; can lock the harvester down; can tilt the Harvester to take up down grain; and above all can adjust the Binder table to suit any condition of grain. These great improvements place our Binder far ahead of all competitors. It is the lightest in weight, lightest in draught, because the simplest; don't require two or three men to fold it to go through a gate or barn door. Farmers look to your interests and you will buy a CHATHAM.

Read the following Testimonials:

To the Chatham Harvester Manufacturing Co. Cartwright, March 25, 1885. GENTLEMEN:—I purchased a Self Binder from your Agent two years ago. During the two seasons, I have cut over 300 acres without the least trouble, or a cost of five cents for repairs. I cut, in five hours, for my neighbor, Mr. P. Holt, eight acres of lying oats in which his new rake reaper entirely failed to work. In fact the machine surpasses anything I ever saw in the fact it is all that I would desire. GEO. HOOEY.

To the Chatham Harvester Manufacturing Co. Cartwright, March 29, 1885. GENTLEMEN:—We, the undersigned farmers, have purchased the Chatham Two-horse Cord Binders, and having used them two seasons in all kinds of grain, long and short or rough and smooth land, we cheerfully admit that they work to our entire satisfaction. They can be handled with ease by one team. We have seen no other Binder work that can equal the Chatham. JAMES BRADBURN, GEO. MARLOW.

To the Chatham Manufacturing Co. Darlington, April, 1885. We have great pleasure in recommending the Chatham Binder, as Mr. L. A. Tole cut for us last year, a field of oats that would vary from one foot to five inches in height; it being straw broken and badly lodged. He cut right around the field without trouble, binding it all in good sheaves. He also cut and bound five acres of Arnetta Wheat, it raining all the time. We have seen the work was much better executed than could be done by any other Binder that we have seen. DAVID BRUNT, WM. BRUNT, JOHN BRUNT.

To the Chatham Manufacturing Co. Hampton, April 22nd, 1885. DEAR SIR:—I purchased from your Agent, last year, one of your Self Binders, and consider it the best Machine in the market. First, I consider it the Lightest Draught. Secondly, it has improvements equal to any and superior to the most. Thirdly, it is made of first-class material—having cut all my own grain on 150 acres, and some for my neighbors, without any trouble or expense. Fourthly, in heavy and lodged grain it will take up, elevate and bind what some of the machines will not do. To whom it may concern, I would say, buy a Chatham machine, that will give you entire satisfaction. JNO. S. RUNDLE, Darlington, Hampton.

This Binder can be seen at McGaw's Hotel, Bowmanville; F. Rogers' Farmer's General Store, Enniskillen, and at Coulter's Hotel, Williamsburg; Robt. Collocott, Darlington; J. P. Williamson, Orono, are Agents for this County.
