In Memoriam

In sad but loving memory of our dear husband and fathor, William J. McKenzie, who died at his home on the 12th line, Osprey, Jan. 12, 1917.

One year is past, we love you still,
But, Father, we bow to thy will.
But O for the touch of s vanished hand.
And the sound of a voice that is still.

A bitter grief, a shock severe,
To part with him we loved so dear.
Our loss is great, we'll not complain,
But trust in God to meet again.

'Tis hard to part with those we love,
Though parting days will come,
Yet let us hope to meet again,
For this is not our home.

—A Loving Wife and Family.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Joseph Radley, who died Jan. 3rd, 1915.

—The Daughters.

We often sit and think of you
When we are all alone.
Your memory is the only thing
That we can call our own,
Like ivy on the withered oak,
When other things decay,
Our love for you will still keep green,
And never fade away.
When days are dark and friends are few,
Dear Mother, how we long for you

Colquette—Alexander

On New Years Day at 4 o'clock a very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alexander, Feversham, the occasion being the marriage of their eldest daughter, Lila Maud, to Mr. Wm. R. Colquette, Feversham, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Ida Osborne of Maxwell. The bride was escorted to the parlor by her father, who gave her away. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Forth of Maxwell, beneath a beautiful evergreen arch. The bride looked charming in a beautiful dress of rose satin de chene. After the usual congratulations a sumptuous and elegant dinner was served in the dining room. The wedding gifts to the bride were numerous and costly, showing the high esteem in which she was held by her many friends. Among the wedding presents were handsome cheques from the groom's father and also from his brother, R.D., of Winnipeg. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful pendant and chain, and to the pianist a brooch. The young couple's many friends wish them bon voyage through life.

The Department of Agriculture have sent out sixty farm tractors to the Soldiers' Vocational Training Schools at Whitby, Guelph, London and Kingston. The soldiers will be instructed during the winter months as to their proper attention and operation. Next spring the government will have 130 farm tractors working, and returned men will be given the preference when it comes to selecting their crews.

Sad, indeed, is the passing of the family of the late Duncan Hunter, of Egremont, the last member of which, Gilbert, died at the home of his aunt, Hunter, in this town, Wednesday of last week. The parents first succumbed to the white plague, then three sons and three daughters followed, one after another until all have passed away. The aunt, Miss Hunter, waited faithfully on the stricken young folks and is held in high esteem therefore as well as having the sympathy of the community.—Mt. Forest Representative.
