The presentation was made by Misses May Cornfield, Iva McNally and Lizzie Thompson during a verbal address by T. R McKenzie. The company spent the evening singing, games and an address by Albert Arnott. The following evening a large company met at the home of Mrs. Wm. Fisher in honor of her son, Harry, and Charles Wilkinson, who were each presented with a wrist watch, safety razor and pipe. The address was read by Mrs. A. Blackburn and the presentation made by John McKee. In each case the boys made very suitable and appreciative replies. The good wishes of all go with them.

Two young lads from Priceville were stealing a ride on a C.P.R. train and were taken off at Durham. They were let go on parole.

Eugenia Paragraphs

On Victoria Day our village had, as usual, its full share of visitors. The garden party held that afternoon by the Methodist church was accordingly a success. Quite a crowd of interested spectators watched the baseball match between the Power House and Eugenia Grays, the former being successful. Afterwards the ladies served supper and in the evening a concert was given in the church. Much appreciated were the vocal selections by Mr. and Mrs. Large and family, also by Mr and Mrs Dinnick and the Misses Nichol, while everyone was pleased with the recitations so well given by the Misses Marjorie and Emily Acheson and Mrs Dinnick. The total proceeds of supper and concert amounted to over $88.
