Sad Drowning At Sudbury

A Respected Osprey Couple Suddenly Called

A telegram was received here Monday morning announcing that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brackenbury of Coniston, near Sudbury, had been drowned. No particulars have been received. The body of Mrs. Brackenbury had been recovered but that of her husband had not been at the time the telegram was sent.

Mr. and Mrs. Brackenbury went from Osprey to Coniston a year or so ago. He was an engineer by trade. Mrs. Brackenbury was a Miss Alta Heron, daughter of Mr. Addie Heron, Shackleton, Saskatchewan.

A couple of relatives went up from Feversham to Coniston Monday to look after the affairs of the deceased.

The sad affair has cast a deep gloom over the community where the unfortunate couple resided and their numerous friends were terribly shocked when the sad news arrived.

Machinery is Working Well

Successful operation of the machinery placed throughout the country for the enforcement of the Military Service Act is reported from all points. The rush of the men in the first class to be medically examined and to get into touch with the authorities began as soon as the medical boards were established and has continued ever since.

Since the proclamation was issued, on October 13th, the men have been going to the Post Offices in large numbers to comply with its requirements.

As was expected, a large number of men are seeking exemption. A comprehensive system of handling these exemption claims has been established and it is expected confidently that no trouble will be found in dealing with each case satisfactorily. The officials charged with putting the Act into operation—and, in this connection, the post masters of the country are playing an important part—will be exceedingly busy until November 10, the last day for answering the call.

Coleridge---McTavish

A quiet but pretty marriage was solemnized at the residence of Reeve McTavish, Flesherton, on Wednesday May 29th, when his eldest daughter, Muriel Amanda, was married to John George Coleridge, D.D.S., of Windsor, Ontario.

The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. A. McVicar, took place at noon, the bridal couple standing under an arch of white lilacs and green leaves, and the rooms were beautifully decorated with roses and carnations.

The bride, who was one of Flesherton's most amiable young ladies, wore a tailored travelling suit of a soft sand shade, and was the recipient of many handsome presents.

After a dainty repast was served, the happy couple left in their new Chevrolet car for Windsor expecting to visit many points on the way. Dr. and Mrs. Coleridge will reside at 37 Randolph Ave. Windsor. Mrs. Coleridge will be much missed for her social and musical qualities. Hosts of friends here, including The Advance, wish them all the joys and prosperity possible to a happy married life.
