DURHAM

Wm Clarke had a close call in the cement works on Friday. He and James Vollet were engaged in removing a guy wire, which came in contact with a live hydro wire. Both mon were knocked down. Mr. Clarke's arm from the shoulder to the hand was severely scorched but Mr, Vollet was unharmed, except from the shock.

Wilmer Snell, a young lad who had been engaged on the bus and express delivery business for J. Whittaker, left unceremoniously on Sunday morning last. It is alleged he took some of the funds and we learn he was apprehended yesterday at Palmerston and will likely be brought back and made to stand trial. —Chronicle.

A stallion belongin to John Cannawin of Orangeville broke loose and got into a box stall where a light horse was tied. The big horse made a vicious attack on the lighter one, which finally broke its halter and escaped into the yard. Once in the open the light horse showed its willingness to fight and take care of itself against its heavier opponent. Fortunately the two horses were separated and captured before they did any serious harm. The fracas caused some excitement.

A 19 year old youth was arrested at Walkerton for being unable to find work.

WODEHOUSE

The continued wet weather of the past week has somewhat delayed harvesting operations, but was just what was needed to renew the pastures and put new life in dusty sun-scorched world in general. A few days if favorable will wind up the harvest in this section which has been good.

Mable Irskine, of Rocklyn, visited over the week end with her friend, Miss Ellie Wiley.

Mr. Heron and sister, Mr. Brownridge and Mrs. R. Weller, all of Maxwell, were visitors recently with John Wiley and daughter, Mary.

J. W. Wiley was at Toronto the past week shipping his car load of fat cattle. R. D. Carruthers was also in the city.

The August meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Wiley with an excellent attendance of eighteen, twenty being on the roll. The members are indeed very grateful for the results of their Red Cross collecting. $71.35 was realized, forty of which has already been invested in yarn to continue the good work of knitting for the boys overseas. The next meeting is at the home of Miss Iva McNevin on Sept. 5th.

Miss Elsie McNevin, of Toronto, is holidaying with her many old friends.

Wedding bells are ringing in our burg this week.

Willard Wiley has purchased a Ford.

Masters Harold and Russell Fawcett have returned from a week's holiday with their uncle in Proton.

Miss Millie Harris, of West Toronto, who has been visiting in Kimberley for the past six weeks called on relatives here one day last week. Her brother, Walter, who was also up from the city for a few days, accompanied her.

James Watson, accompanied by his nieces, Nellie Austen and Rheva Henderson, of Dunkirk, N.Y., visited at George Moore's.

In the absence of the pastor the Epworth League took charge of the service on Sunday last at Eagenia and Inistioge. The President, Wm. Duncan, occupied the chair. The lesson, Matt. 26, 36-53, was read by Oliver Cornett. Ada Acheson gave an interesting talk, taking as her subject "The Master's greatness." Appropriate recitations were given by John Duncan and Marion Acheson. Edna and Marjorie Acheson sang a sweetly rendered duet, and Edwin Fowler gave a beautiful solo in his usual pleasing manner. Prayer was offered by some of the League members. Altogether the service wes effective and beneficial.

TRYON

Harvest is in full swing and everyone is reaping a bounteous crop.

James Findlay of Markdale spent Sunday with Alex. Morrison and his brother, Alex.

Our boys still make an occasional trip to Brewster's Lake, and always report a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. A Sornberger and Mrs. and Mrs. Ed. Pedlar, spent an evening with the former's daughter, Mrs. Mort Sayers, at Feversham.

A number of our boys having got their leave extended are now busy with the harvest. May the angel of peace spread its wings over the land so that these boys may never see the bloody fields of France and Flanders.

FEVERSHAM

The farmers are nearly through cutting their grain and will finish harvest in a week or ten days if the weather keeps good.

Eli Robinson has purchased a new Chevrolet car.

What mean those strange noises, as it were of cow bells and tin pails, rattling in the dead of night, disturbing the peaceful slumbers of our villagers.

The Late Samuel Colquette

Mr. Samuel Colquette, beloved husband of Susan Ottewell, passed away on Friday morning, August 2nd, at the Western Hospital, Toronto, with empyemia. Mr. Colquette had been in poor health for the previous four months and bore his weakness and suffering with great patience, but in spite of all that could be done he slowly sank, until on Friday morning he passed peacefully away. Deceased was born near Bowmanville 64 years ago and moved to Artemesia with his parents when 4 years old, where they lived one year, then moved to Osprey, where he resided until fourteen years ago, when he moved to Flesherton and then to Toronto. A very appropriate service was held at his home on Sunday evening, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Emory, which was largely attended. The funeral took place on Monday to Flesherton cemetery on the arrival of the noon train, and the remains were laid to rest by the members of Feversham L O L No 1085 of which he was an honorary member. Among the beautiful floral tributes was a wreath from the Shedden Forwarding Company, where the deceased was highly esteemed as an employee; a star from L O L No 1085; a spray from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Horton, and a pillow from the family. The pallbearers were Bros. A.J. Conron, Ira Perigoe, James Sayers, James Speers, Samuel Park and Wm. Kaitting. The deceased leaves to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father, his wife, and two daughters—Florence (Mrs W. W. Marr) of Toronto, and Miss Bertha at home.

Coaled Justice

The coal dealers have more to cope with than the critical fuel situation. An Alliston dealer, J. P. R. Beattie, was struck over the head with an umbrella in his own office by an angry woman, Mrs. Annie Thompson, and then he was hauled into the police court. The woman disputed the coal bill and while she was proceeding to give Mr. Beattie a piece of her mind he undertook to eject her from his office. It was while he was putting her out that he got the blow with the umbrella. She brought him to the police court on a charge of assault, claiming that she had received injury to her arm by being shoved against the door frame, and she claimed he had no business to touch her. The magistrate, however, in giving judgment, observed that a man's house is his castle and in it he has certain rights which must be respected. The case was dismissed and the costs were charged to the lady.

Some miscreant at Belmore, near Walkerton, cut the sheaf bands on a whole field of oats which had just been stooked.

Try Potato Bread

Every household where homemade bread is baked can save wheat flour by an increased use of potatoes in the bread and still have a most appetising loaf. Save the left over potatoes from dinner, including the water in which they were boiled—unless it happens that you have boiled them with the jackets on. In this case it is better to use fresh water. Mash the potatoes thoroughly while they are still warm and freshly cooked, and a small quantity of lukewarm water in which the yeast has been dissolved, with the required amount of salt, and set aside until next morning, then mix into a stiff dough in the ordinary way Set aside again to prove, and when light knead down once, then let the dough rise until light and mould into loaves. Put into pans. Let the loaves rise again until light. Bake in a moderate oven. You can use potatoes up to 50 per cent. of the total amount of dough required, but when a large proportion of potatoes is used the dough must be very much stiffer accordingly.

The car load of confiscated liquor recently seized at Guelph by License Inspector O'Brien has been shipped in all directions. Acting on instructions from the License Department in Toronto received on Saturday, the Inspector despatched the liquor to hospitals and asylums in the province from Penetang to Brockville. The Guelph hospitals received their share, and no less than 10 Toronto hospitals got in on the "melon cutting." Like the feast of old, when all had been supplied it was found that there were still fifteen barrels over and these were shipped to the Department in Toronto and will be sold to licensed vendors.
