In a sad and lonely graveyard
Many miles across the sea,
Lies our loving son and brother
Where he fought for liberty.
Just two years ago today
Since our dear Earl was called away.
We loved him, but God loved him best,
And took him home with Him to rest.
Sleep on, dear brother, in a] soldier's grave,
Your life for your country you bobly gave.
God took you home, as He thought best,
To give you everlasting rest.

W. I. Convention

Durham Chronicle Report

The 12th annual Women's Institute convention of Grey county was held in town hall, Hanover, on Wednesday, Sept. 18, with an attendance of 80 delegates from the various branches throughout the county. The afternoon session opened with the Opening Exercises followed by an address of welcome given by Miss Jamieson of Hanover. Mrs. Brandon of Owen Sound made a suitable reply.

The President, Mrs. (Dr.) Easton of Ayton, after making some remarks called on Mrs. Gardiner of Owen Sound for the minutes of last year's convention. Discussion and business along different lines being transacted, Mrs. Rogers of Holstein, representative speaker from South Grey, gave a paper written by Mrs. Patterson of Dromore on Salvage of War Time, which was followed by a solo by Mrs. Brock Brandon of Hanover. Miss Sutherland, government speaker, was next called and gave an address on Red Cross Work, and the value of the work being done by the Institutes throughout the country.

Mrs. James Airth, Chatsworth, representative speaker of North Grey, gave a splendid paper on Patriotism. The afternoon session was dismissed with the singing of "Till the Boys Come Home.

Dr. Taylor, Hanover, chairman of the evening session, opened the meeting with an address on The growth of the Institute, which he pointed out has 900 branches with a total of 30,000 members.

Mrs. Magee of Hanover gave a reading which was followed by a review of the year's work by the President. There are 45 branches, 1200 members. Last year they had raised $13,000 for Red Cross work, knitted 10,000 pairs of socks, made 500 garments. North Grey raised $2500 besides the amount mentioned above.

Miss Sutherland was again called upon and spoke on Child Welfare, which was followed by a reading by Miss Lilian Meades. Mrs. Down of Maxwell, representative speaker for Centre Grey, gave a splendid paper on "The bright side of life." A trio by Mesdames Clark, Graft and Armstrong, brought the program to a close The evening session was dismissed with the singing of the National Anthem. It was decided to hold the convention at Flesherton next year.

A mare belonging to C. Montgomery strayed away from Dundalk three weeks ago and was found at Chesley, about 45 miles distant. The animal (10 years old) was raised in that district and returned to its old home after an absence of six years.

Three airplanes from Camp Borden visited Dundalk Monday evening, two going by in the clouds and one descending after circling the town four or five times to find a good landing place. As darkness was approaching and the clouds were hanging low he decided to stay over night. In the morning he failed in starting the engine and had to send to camp for assistance. An officer and a cadet arrived a little before noon on Tuesday, landing their plane in James Carson's field. The engine trouble was soon overcome and shortly after one o'clock made a splendid ascent and was on its way to its home roost at Camp Borden. A half hour later the other plane, carrying the two men, made a good get away and disappeared in the east—Herald.
