This community was shocked when on Sunday evening it was made known that Mrs. Royden Gibson had passed away at 5 o'clock after only a few days illness with pneumonia. On Monday noon train her father, Mr. Firness and son, arrived. The body was taken to Toronto on Monday evening train for burial. Her husband, who was also ill was able to accompany the body down. Mrs. Gibson was of a very bright, cheerful nature and loved by all. She was a very energetic worker in the "Willing Helpers" here, never tiring in her efforts to promote the Society and do her utmost for the boys at the front. She will be much missed. To her husband and friends the sympathy of the community is extended.

Martin Phillips held a very successful sale on Monday.

Teachers' Convention

The forty-eighth annual convention of North Grey Teachers' Institute in union with the teachers of East and South Grey was held in Owen Sound collegiate on October 10th and 11th. The usually large attendance with the exceptional program made this convention a decided success. The cordial hospitality of the Owen Sound people toward the visiting teachers will not soon be forgotten.

The Convention was opened by devotional exercises conducted by Rev. Cadman, who gave a brief address that was appreciated by all. The teachers of each Inspectorate then went to separate rooms where committees were appointed and officers chosen.

In the afternoon the convention was divided into three sections—the Primary Intermediate and Senior section. In the Primary section Miss Lang spoke on 'The child's first year in the primary class'. Miss Annie Herron and Eula Arbidge on 'Language work in primary class' and Misses Jackson and Muter on 'Busy work for primary pupils'. In the Intermediate section Miss Graves and Mrs. Huff gave helpful suggestions on Art. In the Senior section Messrs Jas. Shaw and Geo. Jolley spoke on History, and Messrs Morton and Allen on High School Entrance Examinations.

One of the leading speakers was Dr. Dandeno, of Toronto. The teachers of the three Inspectorates met in the Assembly Hall to hear his instructive lecture on 'The value of an Agricultural Education.'

Another important speaker was Mr. S. J. Stubbs, B.A., of Toronto, Normal School, who spoke on 'The teaching of Geography' reminding the teachers that Geography should be taught by observation, by problems and by comparison.

Thursday evening the teachers appreciated the musical program arranged by the Victoria School staff. Principal Grant of Upper Canada College gave an interesting and helpful address on 'Language.'

Grinder Blowup In Feversham Mill

Feversham Cor.

Monday evening the grinder in the Feversham Osprey farmer's mill blew up, scattering pieces of metal about the mill and sending some of it up into the second storey. In fact it went flying in all directions about the mill, but the miller and his helper luckily escaped being hurt by the flying pieces. The grinder is a mass of scrap iron. A span of horses belonging to Mr. Wiseman of Gibralter was standing at the door while he was loading his chop and ran away when the noise of the crash came and ran around the mill shed, hitting Will Alexander, knocking him down and running over him. His collar bone was broken and he was otherwise injured. We understand Mr. Alexander is seriously injured.

A large number of friends and neighbors gathered to pay their last respects to the late James Douglass on Sunday last. Mr. Douglass passed away on October 15 after a few weeks' illness, although he has been in poor health for a number of years. He leaves to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father, his wife, two sons—Melvine and Morris—at home, and Mrs. Jeffries of Edgar, Montana. The sympathy of the community goes out to the sorrowing ones.

Mrs. Jeffries of Edgar, Mont., attended the funeral of her father, Mr. James Douglass.

Messrs. Nelson and Johnson of Elsinore spent Sunday at R. Henderson's.

Mr. John Thompson of Agincourt attended the funeral of Jas. Douglass on Sunday and is visiting with his brothers and other friends in this vicinity at present.

John Stoutenburg, wife and little daughter, visited at J. A. Davidson's on Sunday last.

Mrs. Will Coulthard has returned to Toronto after spending a week with her brotherinlaw, H. Coulthard.

SHELBURNE

Larry Gould, alias Kelly, who was tried in Orangeville recently before Judge Fisher, on the charge of breaking into Shelburne station last April and stealing a number of tickets, was up again before the Judge on Tuesday of last week. He was sentenced on Friday to serve six moths at the Guelph jail farm.

Five Bulgarians belonging to the C.P.R. construction gang, which has been employed on this branch of the C.P.R. during the past summer, were brought before Judge Falconer on Thursday evening of last week charged with neglecting to carry their registration papers. The law, it seems, emphatically states that papers must be carried on the person. In this case the Bulgarians had left their papers in the boarding car and were unaware of the presence in town of the military detectives. Each were fined $50 and costs, amounting to $56. The money derived from these fines accrues to the town funds.

The charge of forgery against Joseph Ritchin of Amaranth, entered by the military authorities, was heard at Orangeville before His Honor Judge Fisher on Tuesday of last week. The case arose out of the fact that Mr. Ritchie signed papers, using the name of Dr. Smith of Shelburne on them, showing that he was a victim of rheumatism and otherwise unfit for military service. The accused pleaded guilty to the offence, but on account of a largely signed petition in his favor and evidence as to his splendid character given by Rev. Bell and also on request of the militia and civil authorities, the Judge suspended sentence—Free Press.

PROTON

The Misses Clara Binnie, Gertie Lyons and Minnie Galbraith of Toronto are at their homes here.

Miss White, the missionary on furlough who is supported in China by the Leagues of the Owen Sound district, was a guest at the home of R. G. Acheson on Thursday and Friday.

Subject to Artemesia Board of Health regulations, all public gatherings have been withdrawn until further notice.

The Chautaqua festival at Mt. Forest has been cancelled on account of the influenza.

KIMBERLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Eagles are visiting at present with friends in Sunnidale township.

Messrs. Fred Hoy and Thos. Eastland of Thornbury made a business trip to this part on Wednesday last.

George Cornfield has bought the Thurston farm on the 4th line north.

Died—At Owen Sound on Sunday, October 20, Josephine Ferris. The interment took place in Markdale cemetery on Monday, October 21. Josephine spent her childhood days on the farm about a mile south of our village. She was of a genial disposition and beloved by all. To Mr. and Mrs. Ferris and their daughter, Elsie, we extend our deepest sympathy. Death was caused bp pneumonia following influenza.

Mrs. Ed Hammill and family of Toronto are renewing old acquaintances in our burg at present. Mrs. Hammil was formerly Miss Maggie Thompson of this part.

Elsie Plewes, who has been visiting friends in Toronto returnsd home one day last week.

Quite a number of our local nimrods are getting ready for their annual trip to the northern wilds in search of the fleet footed antlered beauties.

Well, we didn't hear the Gospel according to St. John in the Methodist church on Sunday evening last. On account of the epidemic the church has been closed for a month. Rev. St. John of Thornbury was to conduct the Thanksgiving service in the church. We hope to hear the rev. gentleman sometime in the near future as he is a very able speaker.

Thomas Cameck lost a valuable steer one day last week.

Messrs. Wm. Flood of Thornbury and James Waddell of Parry Sound visited with the former's son, Wm., in our burg on Wednesday last.

Many Boys are Home

It is said that forty of the original members of the first Grey Battalion, the 147th, have returned to Canada within the past few days, many of them severely injured and all of them unfit for service. Many more have already returned as the result of wounds and sickness and a lot more will never see the front again on account of wounds received in the recent heavy fighting. The men of the 147th have been in the thick of all the fighting since they first started to filter into France about Christmas, 1916, and they have earned a name for themselves that will not be surpassed by any unit. The old battalion has paid a heavy price for its unvarying successes and there are very many homes in the county of Grey where a father, or a brother or a son, is mourned amongst the fallen. They gave their services to their country and the great cause, without stint, and with the full realization of the possibilities, and those who have fallen gave up their lives with the hope that their sacrifices would not be in vain and with no regrets for having offered their services. They died the death of heroes, every one of them. To those who have returned the country owes much that will never be repaid, but theirs is the satisfaction of knowing that they have done their duty wholeheartedly.—Owen Sound Sun.

PRICEVILLE

In the first week of October a message announced that Robert E. McLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. McLean, was seriously wounded. Friends and villagers generally lived in hopes that he would improve, but on the afternoon of the 10th the sad and disappointing message was received that he had passed away on Sept. 30, the next day after being wounded. Deceased was married and leaves a wife and child two years old, residing with friends at Berkeley. Robt. enlisted with a western battalion that went overseas in 1916. He was slightly wounded in 1917 but was soon back in the firing line again. Two brothers, Allan and Donald, have been wounded and are convalescing in English hospitals.

Pte. Angus McLean, who has been in training for the air service, was home with his mother for a few days lately, and on the evening of his return to Mohawk camp our civic officials presented him with an address and wrist watch. It is pleasing to see that many of our young men who have joined the colors have seemingly merited the favor of our town fathers and have been recognized in the above manner, but if we are not mistaken we could refer to several village boys who have joined the colors and gone away without any civic recognition whatever. Perhaps our officials know the reason for so doing.

Dan McKinnon, who has been out west in the country north of Moosejaw, has returned home and is again assistant postmaster.

Neil Shortreed, R.A.F., Camp Leaside, came home for a visit a few days ago.

Mrs. Brawley has been over to Detroit to visit her son, who expected to go overseas in a short time with American forces.

Pte. Stanley Ferguson, who has been training at Burwash Hall, Toronto, since the first of September, and later with a machine gun company, at Niagara, started via C.N.R. for the Pacific coast Tuesday of last week, his ultimate destination being Siberia.

The churches and public schools are closed here until further orders, but we have no cases of "flue" here at this date.

PORTLAW

The opening of the new hall and fowl supper which was announced for Thursday evening at Mount Zion has been indefinitely postponed.

A large congregation attended the anniversary services a week ago Sunday. Rev. Mr. Laidlaw preached edifying sermons morning and evening. At the evening service the choir was assisted by Miss Edna Acheson of Proton, who gave a solo, and Mr. and Mrs. Large, who gave a duet. These numbers were very much appreciated. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Haney of Toronto visited last week with friends on the Centre Line.

Miss Viola and Master Murray Cornfield of Toronto were home for Thanksgiving.

Born—On Thanksgiving Day, to Mr. and Mrs. R. Allen, twins—a girl and a boy. Congratulations.

Miss White, a returned missionary who has been in western China as a representative of Owen Sound district, gave a very interesting and instructive address, illustrated by lantern slides, at the Epworth League last Friday night. The speaker took her audience with her on an imaginary trip to her distant field of labor and made the journey appear all so vividly real that some of us have not got back yet, but fancy we are still mingling with those people to whom the light is breaking; enjoying (?) a meal in a tea shop, spending a night at an inn, or jolting along a narrow street in a ginrickishaw.
