VICINITY CHIPS

There will be no Advance next week.

Give the Victory Loan canvassers a hearty reception.

Mr. C. C. Sproule spent the week end at Elmvale.

George McTavish went to Toronto on Monday to bring back his car which was damaged in a recent street car accident.

Owing to sickness on the staff last week the Markdale Standard was not issued until Saturday.

Sunday was the first churchless Sunday that Flesherton has experienced since it was Artemesia postoffice.

Rev. and Mrs. Lowndes, of Brantford, are the guests of their daughter, Mrs (Dr) Murray.

Mr. Mark Wilson has a young wolf which he will try to raise. The animal is six months old and was caught up in the vicinity of Cochrane.

Mrs. C. Munshaw was relieving at Arthur during the past week, as the "hello" girls there were laid up with the influenza.

It is now a good deal easier to get to work at 7 a.m. than it was a week ago. But say, ain't the evenings terribly long since getting back to Father Time's old schedule?

The plant of the Thornbury Herald was destroyed by fire recently. The loss is heavy as the office had installed considerable new equipment. It is understood that the fire started from a gasoline tank.

Word was received here last week that Pte. Wm. Goldhawk had been wounded. Will enlisted from Flesherton with the C.M.R. at Hamilton over two years ago. His aather, Mr. R. H. Goldhawk, moved to Seaforth soon after his joining the army.

Mr. Harold Hill of Markdale succumbed to pneumonia following influenza on Friday of last week, at the age of 37 years. The deceased was unmarried and lived at home with his widowed mother. He was not a member of the firm of Hill Bros. but was employed in the Markdale store and was well known by the general public.

R. A. Pringle, the paper controller, has given manufacturers of newsprint paper permission to load another increase in prices on the consumers. The price of papers is now just 99 per cent. higher than it was when war commenced. In addition to the high price, newsprint paper is getting very scarce and supplies for only a week or two ahead can now be secured.

A letter received on Thursday last from Lieut. Joe LeGard says:- "Just a note to let you know that I am back in England again. I was slightly wounded by a machine gun bullet in the abdomen at Cambrai, but I am feeling pretty good. Old Fritz got me quick, but believe me, I got rid of a dozen or so of them before I got hit. I am still in bed, although I don't feel bad. I got up this morning, but the Sister promptly hustled me back to bed and told me to stay there, so I guess I will have to do as I am told, for a while, anyway. There are two of us in the same hospital from our battalion, so you see we have company, anyway."

The late Capt. Robert Pollock, who died recently for his country in France, will be long remembered here as he will in all quarters by those who knew him. In the early days of the war, when the 147th Battalion was being recruited, he attended the fall fair here, with others, in order to secure recruits, and well we remember his impassioned speech on that occasion. One thing stands out especially in his speech that marks the man he was in the light of his subsequent actions. "Boys" he said, "I do not ask you to go, I ask you to come with me." A good many of the young men present could not resist that appeal, and some of them have followed him all the way on the road he has trod. Others have come home and can say nothing but good of this hero who has given up his wife, child and life for his Country.

Mr. Wm. Martin has returned home from Muskoka Falls, where he has been employed by the Hydro.

Only two Flesherton people went to the hunting grounds this year, Mr. Geo. Mitchell and ye editor. They were joined by others from other points, making up a party of ten or eleven.

Mrs. Wells of Markdale died Monday of influenza. She leaves seven children and her husband is overseas. This is the second death in Markdale from this scourge, and there are others seriously ill.

Mrs. Wm. Purvis died at the home of her son, Mr. Robert Purvis, Eugenia, on Saturday last, at the advanced age of 87 years. No data is to hand regarding the old lady's life. The funeral took place on Monday to Salem burial ground.

Mr. W. H. Bunt, undertaker here, has officiated at seven funerals of old people since April 1 last, the united ages of whom amounted to 582 years. There were:—Margaret Wright 81, Jane White 71, John Gibson 89, John W. Benson 76, Susanna Calbeck 100, Margaret Purvis 87, Elsie Pedlar 84.

One day last week the team belonging to Mr. John Abercrombie, Kimberley mail courier, while standing in front of the post office took it into their heads that it was time to go somewhere, and without waiting for the driver proceeded to put the idea into execution. They got as far as W. J. Bellamy's residence when they collided with a tree. Result—a smashed wagon tongue, broken harness and a dampening of the equine ardour. The Kimberley mails were late that day, but repairs are proceeding all round.

Mr. Daniel Young, of town, received word on Sunday that his son, Pte. Elmer Russell Young, is dangerously ill with pneumonia in England. The young man enlisted in Regina with the 1st Depot Batt., going overseas last August, and is now with a Machine Gun Corps. He is 22 years of age. Another brother, Stanley, went overseas with the 147th Batt. in 1916. He enlisted at Markdale, where he was learning the jewelery business with the late Mr. W. J. Shortill.

Around Grey County

The evaporator near Meaford, owned by Reid Bros., was burned to the ground with a loss of practically all the contents. The total loss is estimated at $7000.

The Chatsworth News is raising the price of the paper to $1.50.

Around Tara the "Flu" epidemic has been particularly severe and a step was taken to cope with the disease by converting the old British Hotel into an emergency hospital. A volunteer staff of nurses was secured and the sick are being well attended. A number of patients have died.

All the books in the Owen Sound public library are to be fumigated.

Four Hanover men were up before the magistrate charged with stealing copper wire belonging to the town, and one with receiving the same. Two were allowed off on suspended sentence, two were fined $20 and costs each, and the fifth was fined $5 and costs.

Allan, the ten year old son of William Given, station agent at Elmwood, while passing a team that had become fidgety at a moving freight train, was kicked squarely in the face by one of the horses which let fly both heels at him. His face was badly smashed up by the blow and he was rendered unconscious for nearly a day.

There has been a certain amount of petty thieving at the Grand Trunk station in Owen Sound during the past few weeks, says the Sun, and as a result suspicion was resting on several of the employees for want of knowledge of the real culprit. Last night the real thief was caught with the goods on him and he proved to be a "newsy" on the train A couple of the young men on the staff watched the "newsy" go through the till, saw him pin the money in his coat sleeve and then called the police. The young fellow is from Stratford. It is said that he has admitted ts the theft of about $53 over a period of several weeks.

It is estimated that nearly five million people have died of starvation or malnutrition during the war. This total is more than half the population of Canada.

Was A Prisoner

Mr. Thomas Gamey, late Pte. Gamey of the First Canadian Contingent to go to the front, was in town last week. Mr. Gamey's story reads like a romance. His two sons also enlisted in the same battalion, the 15th, and although a man over 50 years of age and white haired he succeeded in being accepted as a soldier, to accompany his sons, by dying his hair and giving his age as 45. At the Battle of St. Julian, where the Canadians stubbornly stuck it out and saved the Channel ports, he was captured by the Germans and after remaining about two years he pretended that he was demented and actually fooled the German doctors so thoroughly that he was sent to Switzerland where he quickly recovered his sanity. He arrived at his home in Toronto a few months ago. Mr. Gamey has not yet received his discharge. His two sons—Otto and Tom jr.—are still at the front. Otto is a Sergeant in the 15th Batt. and was home on furlough last spring, after being twice wounded. Tom was discharged on account of injury received while in England and came home, working in Toronto for three months, when he again enlisted and is now in France with an anti-aircraft battery. This family appears to have done its full duty to the Allied cause and in the vernacular is "still going strong."

The Victory Loan

The canvas for the Victory Loan opened on Monday of this week and will continne for a couple of weeks. The amount asked for from Flesherton District is $90,000 and the canvasers are Geo. McTavish, Thos. Fisher and W. A. Armstrong.

The cause is urgent and the money is needed to keep the Hun on the move, now that we have got him headed for home. There are few people in this district who cannot buy one or more bonds, and every one should take it upon himself as a patriotic duty to put all they can into the loan. The interest on the investment is good and the satisfaction you will have in knowing that you have helped to crush the foe by your investment would be compensation even without the interest. In this case you get both.

Get your cheque book ready for the canvasser.

Pte. J. M. Bannon Died

The sad news arrived here Tuesday announcing the death of Pte. John M. (Max) Bannon, at New Westminster, B.C., of pneumonia following the influenza. Max was married last summer to Miss Rita Buskin, of Flesherton, after joining the colors. He had volunteered for the Siberian expedition while in Toronto and had journeyed as far as New Westminster when he was stricken with the disease. His relatives here, especially his young wife, have the keen sympathy of all in their bereavement.

At the time of his being called for military service Max was in the employ of his uncle, Mr. W. A. Armstrong, in the jewelry business. Although not of a rugged phsique he was of a cheery disposition and was a friend of all. The young man was about 26 years of age, and the news of his passing away was a decided shock to the community.
