PRICEVILLE

The mild damp weather prevailing a few days before and after Christmas seemed to cause much sickness in this vicinity, but since the cold steady weather has set in there has been a decided change for the better. We have not learned of any new cases during the past week, or more, and the sick ones are convalescing, though some feel weak. All seem thankful that they escaped a less desireable fate

Mr. Geo. Watson and family were sorely hit with the epidemic. The father and mother both stricken down on Dec. 21st and several members of the family later. Mrs. Watson was not in robust health for some time past and during the five days of her last illness the people of the vicinity were in suspense afraid, yet hoping she might recover, but she passed away on the morning of the 26th. The funeral took place on the afternoon of the 27th. Rev. McCarten conducted prayer at the residence. The memorial service was postponed to a later date. The undertaker wheeled the casket to the stairway, and Mr. Watson, who was unable to leave his room, managed to come to the head of the stairs and look down on the face of his beloved wife for a last farewell. Interment took place in Priceville public cemetery. Rev. McCarten read the beautiful burial service at the grave. The family feel the separation of wife and mother very keenly and they have the sympvthy of the community.

Rev. J. A. Matheson and family moved to their new charge, Mono Mills, on Tuesday of last week. On the Friday evening previous, a reception was held in the basement of the Presbyterian church. After several speeches were delivered, a lengthy address was read to Mr. Matheson and family, also a purse containing $210 presented. The ladies also gave a purse to Mrs. Matheson, Miss Matheson and Master Kenneth. Outside readers of last week's "Review" might possibly infer that the purse given Mr. Matheson, was contributed by members of his congregation alone, but we think it no harm to say that the list of names handed in with the cash, shows that every family in Priceville, with the exception of one or two, contributed their mite willingly, not because certain men solicited, but because all the churches loved Mr. Matheson as a pastor and as a private citizen, and we all wish him success in his new field of labor.

Rev. G. Kendall of Dundalk conducted service in the Presbyterian church last Sunday morning and declared the pulpit vacant.

It was announced in the churches on Sunday morning that Mr. John McLachlan had passed away Saturday night, aged 88 years. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon from the family residence, North Line, to Priceville public cemetery. We may be able to give more particulars later.

Stothart and Frook shipped two cars of live stock to the city last week.

A BELATED REPORT

On Dec. 11, 1918, the above lodge met in their lounge room, it being the annual meeting for the winding up of the year's business and the election of officers. There was a good attendance of the members of the lodge and also a few visiting brethren as follows: Bro Irwin Morrison of L O L No 586, Singhampton; Bros Thomas Beatty and Walter Kerton of L O L No 666, Maxwell; and Bro John Hutchinson of L O L 1203, Thornbury. Bro Morrison, on request, took the chair and conducted the election and installation of officers, which resulted as follows: Worshipful Master, Bro James McKenzie; Deputy Master, Bro Bert Conn; Chaplain, Bro. A J Conron; Rec Sec, Bro Wesley Beatty; Fin Sec, Bro T S Wilton; Treasurer; Bro Samuel Park; Dir of Cer, Bro Wm Conn; 1st Lecturer, Bro Thos Conron; 2nd Lect, Bro Charley Howard. Committee—Bros J Ottewell, James Speer, John Elliott, R Alexander, James Sayers.

Among other business disposed of there was a donation granted to the True Blue Orphanage, and also a motion was passed to send letters of condolence to our Worshipful Master, Bro James McKenzie, he having sustained the loss of a loving wife; and also to the wife of our late Bro Harold Smith. Bro Smith and Mrs. McKenzie were brother and sister, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of the 10th line of Osprey. The brother and sister died within a few days of each other and, as the influenza was responsible for their sudden and early call to the great beyond, there was not any church service held at the time, as the influenza was in its worst stage in this township at that time. Therefore there was a memorial service held for both brother and sister at Providence church on Sunday, January 5, when the Rev Bro Forth of Maxwell delivered an excellent memorial sermon, taking for his text the 12th verse of the 14th chapter of Romans, "So then every one of us shall give an account of himself to God." Rev. Bro Holmes of Singhampton was also present and took part in the service. The church was filled with a very sympathetic audience. The decorations were very appropriate for the occasion. The members of L O L 1085 attended the service in a body.

The old saying that troubles never come singly has certainly come true in Mr. McKenzie's case, as one of his little boys has been in the Collingwood hospital for some time undergoing treatment with very slight chanees for his recovery. Mr. McKenzie has the sincere sympathy of all in this community in his great sorrow and solicitude.

DURHAM

Two of aur younger citizens were hauled before the police magistrate charged with being drunk, and the trial took place last Friday morning. The case was prosecuted by Inspector Beckett on information evidently laid by some outside party. As there was no evidence to justify a conviction, the case was dismissed.

A death under extremely sad circumstances is that of Mrs. Herb Dunsmoor, who died on Thursday night last from pneumonia at the early age of 29 years. A daughter, Marion, four years of age, died Friday morning from the same affection, and both were interred, mother and child, in the same casket, Saturday afternoon in the Durham cemetery. Only the Thursday previous to the mother's death a little son was born, who, with another brother about two years of age, and the sorrowing husband and father, is left to mourn an irreparable loss.

After all, the expected has been revealed. Dundalk was short of coal, and the usual methods of getting a supply affording no relief, the local authorities began to be practical. They got the local member of parliament to intervene with the fuel controller and immediately one car of nut coal was sent along, with the promise of two more on the way. Is the fuel problem for every hamlet going to be made a vote getting proposition? Why should it be necessary to get the pull of a member of parliament to keep warm? The fuel controller for the province should sit up and take notice. While Grand Valley has not gone cold or suffered terribly, the shortage of hard coal is acute. Only three cars of this kind has arrived in six months. Should the local fuel controller have to go to John Best, M.P., before we get a square deal?—Grand Valley Star.
