"TRUTH BEFORE FAVOR" — "PRINCIPLES NOT MEN"

Vol. 38, No. 35 Fesherton, Ont., January 30 1919

KIMBERLEY

Mild weather and almost bare hillsides suggest the experiences of many in open winters in the past when work unusual for winter was carried on. Who will be the first to do some plowing before the month of January is gone ?

Our skating rink is very much subject to the moods of the season, mild weather not agreeing with it. However, it has not gone down the river like one in another part of the Valley.

The work of getting a supply of gravel and sand for enlarging the reservoir for the village water works cannot be pushed ahead, as was desired, until the hillsides are again well covered with snow. Who should find fault with the frost and snow of Canada ?

Amos McClung, of Markdale, visited recently with his father, Wm. McClung, of valley road north.

Mr. George Hutchinson and son, Hadden, renewed old acquaintances in Dundalk and vicinity during the past week.

License Inspector Beckett, of Owen Sound, and Constable Cook, of Ceylon, made a business trip to this part on Thursday last.

Jasper Stuart shot a fine fox on Saturday last. This makes 16 for Jasper thus far.

Wellington Fawcett visited friends in Markdale one day last week.

Rev. Lane occupied the pulpit in the Methodist church on Sunday evening last. T. B. Carruthers sang a well rendered solo in his usual pleasing manner.

Mr. Harry Baker, of Vandeleur, and lady friend, Miss Halbert, of Harkaway, were pleasant callers at Mrs. John Stafford's, one day recently.

James R. Fawcett killed a garter snake on Friday last. It is a very unusual to see a snake moving around at this time of the year.

Mr. J. B. Thibedeau, of Markdale, visited at George Cornfield's on Monday last.

Quite a number of the shareholders of the Beaver Valley Municipal Telephone Co. attended the annual meeting at Heathcote on the 27th.

Mrs. John Taylor, of Berkeley, visited at her parental home during the week.

Mrs. David Lawrence, of Mount Forest, accompanied by Miss Wollis, visited at George Lawrences recently.

Mr. Barclay, of Camperdown, was a pleasant caller in our burg one day last week.

Squire Stuart and others have been endeavoring to have a permanent road made from the sideroad at Conn' Landing, at the end of the Valley Road, north to Julian's sideroad. Such a road, if opened and made part of the County Road system, would avoid some very steep hills on the present road to Heathcote and Thornbury.

Much regret has been offered by temperate and thoughtful people at the return of the dance to our neighborhood. Parents whose concern was that their boys might be called on for military duty, are now faced with the blighting influence of the dance. It is severely criticised for interfering seriously with educational, Sunday School and Church work, not only in our own community but elsewhere, for complaints from an adjoining township place considerable responsibility upon us. It is our duty to stand squarely against it now as our best citizens have done in the past. We are glad to know that our best people today are against it as before, and would call on all to use their influence and example against the dance and in favor of a purer type of morals such as people are craving for since peace has returned.

Mrs. Decker of Dunn township near Dunnville, raised two turkeys, which together weighed 59 pounds. The gobbler weighed 40 pounds, while the hen weighed 19 lbs.

PRICEVILLE

January 1919 has been exceptionally fine and mild. Enough snow to make good roads, but some farmers have difficulty getting into swamps to work at timber because the wet ground has never frozen over.

At the postponed school meeting on the 17th A. D. McLeod, who has been on the school board for a number of years, wished to retire and Mr. H. B. McLean was elected to fill the vacancy.

Mrs. McArthur, one of the pioneers of the Glen, a few miles west of Priceville, passed away peacefully on the night of January 21, aged 90 years. She retained her senses until the last ; and was highly esteemed by all who know her. Her husbaad, Angus McArthur, predeceased her 40 years ago.. Rev. McEwen, of Durham. conducted the mortuary services, interment took place in Priceville public cemetery.

On Friday morning of last week our citizens were greatly shocked to hear of the tragic death of Neil McDonald, second son of Alex. McDonald, about 2½ miles south of the village. The young man was just recovering from the flu, his mother and sister also being very ill. Some trouble preyed upon his mind and long before daylight on Friday morning. he was missed at the house, search was made, and some distance from the barn he was found with his throat cut and life was extinct. Neil was dearly beloved in the household, also by a large number of acquaintances, and great sympathy is felt for the family. Rev. J. McCarten conducted services at the residence and at Priceville public cemetery, when interment took place Sunday afternoon last. We might add that the coroner, after an inquiry, deemed an inquest unnecessary.

The postponed memorial service for the late Mrs. Watson, as previously announced, was held on Sunday at 11 a.m. Rev. McCarten delivered a fine comforting address. Mrs. Herman McLean gave a nicely rendered solo, and the seating capacity of the Methodist church was filled with a sympathizing congregation. Among the letters of condolence received, Mr. McCarten read one from Rev. Mathewson, who moved from here to Mono Mills.

EUGENIA

Last week, as was noted in The Advance, occurred the death of Charles Omer Hoy, only son of Pte. C. W. and Mrs. Hoy of Toronto, aged 14 months, the death occurring on Jan. 16 at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R Hoy. Charlie returned from over seas only a couple of weeks ago. He, with his wife and three children, were on a visit to his parents and other relatives, when the baby became ill. Pneumonia developed, resulting in his death after a week's illness. All was done for the child but God thought best and took him home. The remains were interred the following Saturday in Flesherton cemetery, when the service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Belfrey, the pallbearers being four Flesherton Boy Scouts—Wesley Armstrong, Gordon Blakely, Harry Carrington and Clarence Fisher. Much sympathy is felt for the sorrowing ones.

Miss Millie Haney and friend visited friends near Epping recently.

Word has been received here that Pts. Jim Fawcett, Ernie Hopper and Cpl. Josiah Parliament, adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Parliament, have arrived in Germany and enjoyed their trip.

The W. I. will hold their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Parliament on Wednesday, Feb. 5, at 2.30. All members are requested to be present, as there is a special business meeting.

We congratulate Jack Wilson of Kimberley and his bride.

The winter is passing along very nicely and everybody is delighted with the fine weather.

Born—Jan. 19, to Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Eagle, a son. Congratulations.
