Miss Stafford of Kimberley called in on Friday to make the 39th payment of subscription to The Advance for her family. They have always taken it since the first number and have only missed one or two copies through the mails in all that time. The family is rather proud of this record and we are proud of our old subscribers of this long standing, of which we have several on our list.

Died—At her home at Cherry Creek, New York, on Jan. 18, Mrs. Harry Kofoed, nee Ida Harrison, youngest daughter of Mrs. and the late Ward Harrison, formerly of Artemesia. She had been ill with the influenza, but was trying to help the rest of the family, who were also sick. She had been out but was worse when she came in, and while they were working over her she looked up, smiled and was gone, after less than a week's illness. Her sorrowing husband and four children are left.

At a meeting of the citizens of Owen Sound last week the following resolution was passed : "That this joint meeting of representatives of the Owen Sound Town Council, Soldiers' Aid Commission and Great War Veteran's Association endorse the plan of a County Memorial, and suggest that it take the form of a Memorial Hall, to be erected in Owen Sound and in which would be placed tablets containing the names of all the men from the different municipalities of the county who fell in the war ; and further, that we undertake that any sum granted or raised by the County, amounting to $25,000 or over, will be duplicated by the citizens of the Town of Owen Sound, and that the Town of Owen Sound will be responsible for the maintenance of the Hall."

On Friday night last a bunch of very enthusiastic youngsters drove all the way to Chatsworth to play a game of hockey, notwithstanding the fact that not one of them had had a hockey stick in their hands this winter. The result was a foregone conclusion, of course, but the lads took their beating cheerfully and arrived home at 4 o'clock in the morning. We almost forgot to say that the score was 5 to 11, as near as we can make out. The two competitors have engaged the Markdale rink for a return match on Friday evening of this week. Without practice it is rather a forlorn hope for hockeyers.

Organized agriculture has received the unstinted and loyal support of the Weekly Sun, Toronto, during the past twenty eight years of its existence. It is today giving generous and hearty support to further the interests of those engaged in agriculture. Those farmers who wish to keep in touch with the co-operative movement among agriculturists in Ontario, should read it every week. The women of the farm will be particularly interested in the Women's page, specially written for The Sun by a woman living on a farm.

Notice to Subscribers

For the past four years The Advance has been working against heavy odds with the all round increase of everything that goes to make up a paper and living in general. Notwithstanding this great loss we have consistently set our face against raising the price of the paper to our subscribers, and it still remains at one dollar per annum, but unless a lower trend in prices comes within a reasonable time the price will have to go up. In the meantime we have decided to place a premium for prompt paying subscribers—who are many—by placing an additional fifty cents on all who allow their subscriptions to run six months or over. Hereafter all subscriptions six months or more overdue will be charged at $1.50 per annum. This leaves everybody the chance to get in on the dollar rate. A number of subscribers this season have paid two and three years in advance, which is good policy, as it ensures them the dollar rate for that length of time. Remember, The Advance is one dollar per annum or one dollar and fifty cents if not paid within six months. Better be prompt and not run the risk of forgetting.

Was Shot Down In Mesopotamia

Mr. J. Grummett, of R.R. 2, Proton Station, received a letter from his son, Will, who is with the British forces in Mesopotamia, in which he described the death of Flight Lieut. Joe Allison, of Maxwell, whose death was announced last summer. Lieut. Grummett says :

I heard Joe Allison was given the M.C. for his last fight, but am not sure. I hope it is true. All the flying men I have met lately say he deserves it for his work. He was shot down by Major Schultz, as far as they have heard at the R.F.C., but at the time had been attacked by five Hun 'planes. Schultz claims that he brought him down. Joe was flying a bombing plane at the time and was not in a position to make much of a fight. The two flying 'planes escorting him did not apparently see the German 'planes coming up and were unable to save him. They turned to fight the five as soon as they saw what had happened, but the Huns did not care to take on men who could put up fair fight, even if they did outnumber the British 'planes by five to two, and made their escape.

Fined For Not Affixing Stamp

Two of the local merchants were assessed fifty dollars and costs recently for selling goods liable to war tax without affixing the necessary stamp. A government spotter, described by government officials as an Inland Revenue employee, purchased taxable goods in Hanover, Wiarton, Owen Sound, Chatsworth, Markdale, Flesherton, Dundalk, etc and in every town with the exception of Flesherton, caught offenders under the act. The Chatsworth cases were tried before Magistrate Armstrong of Markdale. No defence was offered and the minimum fine of fifty dollars was imposed.—Chatsworth News.

Suicided With A Razor

Neil McDonald, son of Daniel McDonald of the 19th con. of Proton, a young man 23 years of age, committed suicide on Friday morning of last week by cutting his throat with a razor. He got up about 4 a.m. and went out to the bush where the rash deed was committed. No cause has been assigned. His parents say they did not notice anything out of the ordinary with him. He was a quiet, industrious young man and highly respected by all who knew him.

Library Meeting

The annual meeting of Flesherton Library Association was held last Friday evening. Reports by the Librarian, Treasurer and Secretary were read and adopted. There are 1080 books on the shelves, and $33 remains to the credit of the Association after all last year's debts were paid. There are now 53 members. The report of the Board, read by the Secretary, was optimistic but urged the objective of the Department—a healthy reading public for the development of an intellectual, clean Canadian democracy. The new Board consists of Mrs. H. S. White, Miss M. Holmes, Messrs. C. N. Richardson, Geo. Mitchell, H. S. White, A. Hawken, G. McTavish, and Revs. C. A. Belfry and A. McVicar. The first meeting will be held in the reading room Friday, Jan. 31, at 8 p.m.

We want readers, readers who will demand the very best and thus help to build up an ideal community. If the aged will not change let the youthful at least keep pace. Reading many writers' works is likely to develop a wide outlook, aids in conversation and on the platform, gives life variety, freshness and a sphere of thought extending beyond domestic and local limits. The old notions we do not condemn as wrong, but in some things at least they are outgrown. Membership fee $1 a year. We need catalogues, help us to get them.
