The heaviest snowstorm of the winter blew down on us Saturday and continued Sunday, reaching its climax Sunday evening when it took hurricane form. About a foot and a half of snow fell, giving us more snow than we have had at one time this winter. It made the roads very heavy for teaming.

Miss Holmes, who has been at her home in Winchester for two weeks, fighting the influenza, returned Saturday and entered once more upon her duties at the high school on Monday. Anniversary services will be held at Rock Mills Baptist Church on Sunday, March 16th, morning and evening, when the Rev. McDonald, late pastor, will conduct the services. You are invited to attend. The Township of Osprey will vote on the question of erecting a memorial hall and the location of same, voting to take place on Monday, March 24. The questions are : "Are you in favor of raising $6000 to build a memorial hall?" "Where?—Feversham, Maxwell, McIntyre." Place your cross opposite the name of your favorite location. In this connection The Advance will make one little suggestion. Of course it is none of our business, and we know it. Still there is just one reason why we would like to see the hall at Maxwell, and may we be permitted to name it ? Maxwell is on the inter-county highway which is extensively travelled and more tourists would see it there. It is also central for the township. That is the way we look at it. Feversham would also be a good location, but lacks this one advantage. The result will, however, undoubtedly lie between these two points, as McIntyre is not nearly so centrally located as either of the first two named.

Miss Zella Bentham visited with her friend, Miss Victoria McMillan, near Priceville, over the week end.

A number from here attended the Owen Sound-Markdale hockey match on the Markdale rink on Monday evening. The latter won the match by the score of 11-6. Lieut. Hancock of Owen Sound refereed the game.

Among these are some beautiful things for presentations. There are also Bibles for old people with large print, pocket testaments and Psalms. Come in and look at them.

Leg Broken Skating

Lillian, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. Taylor Abercrombie of Kimberley, had her leg broken in a peculiar manner Saturday. She put on her skates and proceeded to a piece of ice near the road and in some manner twisted her leg, breaking it between the ankle and knee. She was alone at the time but a neighbor woman fortunately came along and took the helpless child to her grandfather's home at Kimberley, when a doctor was summoned. The child has since been removed to her own home.

That Memorial

Editor of The Advance.

Dear Sir—Would it be too much to ask of you a little space in your valuable paper to set forth some views I have heard expressed, with regard to a suitable memorial to our brave heroes of war, and which thoroughly coincide with my own views.

I believe is has been intimated that our municipal representatives-Artemesia and Flesherton—will co-operate in erecting a monument on the site of the present municipal hall, the said hall to be moved further back on the lot and repairabed and renovated to look respectable (?)

An ordinary monument would be very ordinary indeed ; and several thousands of dollars would be required to erect a suitable memorial, one of which we would not be ashamed.

Would not the same expenditure erect a new municipal memorial hall and be much more appropriate ; as well as beneficial to the whole community.

So far as I can learn from our boys who have returned, I believe the majority would prefer no such elaboration, well knowing that the best memorial of all is the love which will always live in our hearts for them,

Such a building could be arranged with suitable rooms set apart as public library and reading rooms, etc. The main hall as an assembly or concert hall, would bring revenue to the municipality, and suitable tablets could be inscribed with the name of those who fought for the cause of Freedom and the advancement of Civilization.

Perhaps others may have more practical suggestions to offer ; now is the time ; do not wait until the work is completed and then say it is a disappointment and that something else would have been more appropriate.

Thanking you Mr. Editor, I am
—Pro bono Public.
