PRICEVILLE

Seeding operations are considerably retarded by wet weather.

Hay seems to be a scarce article in the market.

Real estate deals—

Louis Frook has purchased the "Moss Lake Farm" from D. McLachlan.

McTaggart Bros. have bought the House and lot opposite the postoffice, formerly the residence of the late F. Wait.

Don. McLachlan has purchased the Hincks property opposite the school grounds.

Angus McLachlan, who underwent an operation in Fergus hospital some weeks ago, was taken home last week and is improving the last few days.

The teachers and pupils spent a good part of Arbor Day in tidying up the school room and grounds.

Glenelg ratepayers are placing a $1200 granite tablet in the porch of the new township hall that will be built this season. The memorial will have the names of all the soldiers fromthe township who went overseas.

On the evening of May 3 a reception was held in Watson's hall for Pte. John McTaggert, who had arrived home from overseas a few days previously. Rev. Mr. McCarten, Reeve Nichol and whatever other local talent could be secured for the evening, assisted in the program, and a pleasant tims was spent. An address was read to the young soldier and a purse of $25 given to him Don't you think Priceville compares favorably in such matters ?

[We do. Every citizen of Priceville ought to be proud of the record of its sons in this war.—Ed. Advance]

A couple of weeks ago G. Wellington Tryon quietly and modestly informed some of our citizens that from his pen of four pullets and a cockerel he gathered eight eggs almost daily. We would like to call around and get a statement, also an affidavit fyled, but we are waiting for a reporter for the Associated Press to appear in our midst and write up a statement of the breed and strain of these biddies, the material fed and the method of feeding, also complete poultry house equipment, because such a record breaker will excite nation wide, yes international, interest in egg production.

The county road builders invaded our village a faw days ago and on a straight stretch of road cut two ditches that are very little straighter than a dog's hind leg, but we trust that it is only some temporary work and may be rectified later.

Miss Mary Stewart, who had been living with her brother, Alex., one and a half miles northeast of the village, had not been in robust health during the past season, but her friends were in hopes that when she survived the winter season she might improve, but pneumonia set in and she passed away on May 2 in her 57th year. Rev. George Kendall conducted the funeral services at residence and in Priceville public cemetery.

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. S. Whyte died at the Sick Children's Hospital and was brought here for burial on May 5th.

POWER HOUSE

Our town again.

We are glad to report Mrs. Frank Weber able to be around again after a serious illness.

Miss Clara Koshiniski has returned to her home in Toronto after visiting the past two months with Mrs. Harold Proctor.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Badgerow of Port Law spent a day with S. Campbell and wife.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. W. Mathias, on May 9, a son.

Mrs. R. Brady of the 9th line was a visitor with relatives at the Power House.

Guess you will be saying the Power House cannot play ball. Take notice of the color of their suits—red for danger.

Miss Phoebe Mathias of Parry Sound is the guest of her brother, Operator Mathias, and wife.

Wilfred Campbell spent a couple of days at his home in Owen Sound.

Does Your Label Say 1920 !

EAST MOUNTAIN

R is for the rivulets now streaming,
A is that it's always wet out here ;
I is for the indolent sun not beaming,
N is that it's never bright and clear.

Mrs. R. McMullen is visiting at the home of her mother, who is not well at present.

Victor Ford paid a flying visit to Owen Sound last week. There must be some attraction.

Wm. Humberstone had a valuable horse hurt last week. A lady was driving. Mr. Humberstone will now be a firm believer in the saying that "a woman's place is in the house."

Our new teacher, Mr. Amos, has taken up his duties in our school We wish him every success.

We were sorry to learn that Wallace Graham's barn was burned to the ground last week.

Wm. Orr, who has been ill for the past two weeks, is recovering.

Victoria Corners

Last Sunday, May 4, being so very stormy, the sacrament was postponed at Inistioge till yesterday, May 11. when it was connected with Mothers' Day services. Mr. Eagle gave an excellent sermon in tribute to the mothers of the Bible and of today. The church was appropriately decorated with pink and white flowers.

On Wednesday night, in connection with the Junior League, the election of officers for the Sunday school was held. The day of the garden party and children's service was fixed for June 1.

Corporal Herbert Lee visited with his brother, Robert Lee, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Armstrong and Wesley Armstrong of Flesherton, also Lieut. Harold Mathewson and bride of Toronto, visited at Thos. and Milton Bannon's last week.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. Thos. Bannon is around again.

PROTON

A splendid Mothers' day program was carried out in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening. Members of the Sabbath school gave the different recitations and Scriptnre lessons, the choir rendered suitable music, and Mr. McVicar's address to the mothers—and fathers—was most instructive. The beautiful, pure white flowers were also a gentle reminder of mother.

Wm. Hazen. who a few weeks ago returned from overseas, is undergoing treatment in Burlington military hospital.

Mrs. Brown visited for a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Still. We are pleased to know that the latter's little girls are both better after quite a serious illness.

Harold McLean, who has just returned from his journey over the pond, was in town with his happy smile renewing old acquaintances.

Bon fires and rainstorms seemed to be the order of the day last week. They may not sound good together but nevertheless both prospered nicely, particularly the latter.

We firmly believe the farmer's earnest plea of last week was "Rain, rain go away, come again some other day", and 'twas little that fellow knew how true were his words when he invented that saying "It never rains but it pours."

Mr. Wauchob lost his horse the other day when the animal deliberately choked.

Miss Mabel Nicholls, who has for over a year been one of our Proton girls, has taken a situation in Dundalk.

CEYLON

Mrs. McIntosh (nee Kate Taylor) of Toronto, was a guest of Mrs. D. D. McLaughlin last week, previous to sailing for Scotland where she will join her husband.

Mrs Dinnick and family, who have spent the winter months in Toronto, returned last week.

Miss Margaret Wellwood of Dundalk spent the week end with Miss Ella Whittaker.

Miss Bertha Brooks, who has been visiting for several weeks with her sister, Mrs. D. Wydeman, returned to her home in Elmwood on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. ——— of New York State are visiting their daughter, Mrs. John McLeod.

Melvile Rutladge is spending a few days in Toronto.

We regret to report the little daughter of Mr. T. Genoe very ill. Dr. Ego of Markdale is in attendance.

Mr. Woods very ably filled the pulpit here on Sabbath afternoon last and his discourse was much enjoyed by those present,

Mrs. Dinnick addressed the Sabbath School on Mother's Day on the subject of "Mother." Her address was listened to with rapt attedtion and will not soon be forgotten.

Mr. and Miss Spears of Feversham visited a couple of days last week at Mr. S. Hemphill's.

Mrs. T. Chislett left this week to visit her daughter in Owen Sound.

Was This at Ceylon

Sometimes truth is stranger than fiction, and sometimes fiction is told as truth. Possibly there may be some of both in the ingredients of this story, which was told to the Economist. Of course we want our readers to bear in mind it could not have happened in Markham, as some of them surmise. But here is the story : A certain constable in a certain town at the conclusion of a certain dance invited a couple of tired musicians, who had furnished music for the festivities, to partake of some liquid refreshment—probably coffee, as the O.T.A. was in force—which he happened to know where to lay his hands on. After partaking thereof it was suggested that a bite to eat would taste mighty good. The constable fell in with the idea but knew of no place where a lunch could be secured at thres o'clock in the morning. He said if he took them to his home at that unearthly hour the good wife would raise cain. He scratched his head and evolved a bright idea. He would fasten the two musicians together with a pair of handcuffs and take them home telling the wife that they were a pair of desperate criminals he had arrested, and get her to give them something to eat before going to the lockup. This was agreed to and worked out without a hitch. After lunch the constable and his prisoner guests left the house for the lockup, and after getting around the corner the constable produced his key to unlock the handcuffs. The key stuck and an extra hard twist broke it off short. Then the fat was in the fire, But you could not phaze this constable. He took his still handcuffed guests back to the town hall, and procuring soap and water soaped their hands well and after a couple of hours' soaking succeeded in pulling the handcuffs off, scraping a lot of skin in the process off the one with the largest hands. Now, again we ask our readers, could such a thing possibly happen in Markham ?—Markham Economist.

Lieut. Col. William A. Bishop, of Owen Sound, premier living airman in the British war service, is making $30,000 a month, or thereabouts, in the United States at the present time, was stated in the House of Commons by Gen. Mewburn, minister of militia. The reference came up during the discussion of the bill to create an air board in Canada, when Hon. Mr. Lemieux suggested that Col. Bishop be accorded a place on the board. Gen. Mewburn said, in consideration of the fact mentioned above, that he did not think that there was enough money in the militia department to induce Billy to act on the board now, but probably he would be available later.

EUGENIA

Eugenie would like to be heard from again, so I am sending the following items :

The making of the Park is progressing favorably, considering the weather, and promises well so far.

The Presbyterian W. M. S. will meet Thursday afternoon at 3.30, new time, and the Ladies' Aid at 4.30, new time.

Mr. L. Latimer went to Toronto over the week end and reports his daughter, Etta, as well as can be expected. Her many friends hope for more favorable news of her very soon.

Mrs. W. A Armstrong and son, Wes., also Mr. and Mrs Harold Mathewson, motored out and spent an afternoon with Mrs Adam Smith.

We are sorry to hear of Mrs. P. Munshaw having hurt one of her limbs again.

Miss Mable Williams visited with Mrs. Solomon Turner over the week end

DURHAM

On May 1st, the opening day of the fishing season, Shirley McIntyre landed a nice mess of the speckled beauties, from the Saugeen. He had six of the trout which weighed over 8 pounds, on display in his store window for a few days. The largest was 15½ ins. in length and weighed 1¾ lbs.

Two weeks ago we recorded the disastrous fire at Mr. Hugh Firth's, 6th con , Glenelg, by which he and others were heavy losers The community, filled with the milk of human kindness, got to work to bear part of the burden and in brief time collected $750 in cash and about $100 worth of hay, seed grain, etc., to help Mr. Firth in the emergency, an action reflecting credit on the neighbors and no doubt appreciated to the full by Mr. Firth. Three of the parties who lost horses in the fire were insured in the Grey and Bruce and will get their insurance, a clause in the policy, inserted, we believe by the late Mr. H H. Miller, providing that the insurance follows the horse, if the owner or servant is with it. —Review.

After considerable round-table conversation as to repairs to roads and municipal affairs generally, the Council adjourned.

In Memoriam

In loving and honored memory of Lieut. J. O. Albison, M. C., who made the supreme sacrifice in Mesopotamia on May 15th, 1918.

"Thy soaring soul now hath redeemed its birth-right of of the day,
And who, thro' clouds, to Him its own unfettered way !"

—THE FAMILY

A resident of Haldimand township informs us that he was the witness of a very unique race on Wednesday morning of last week between an aeroplane and six wild geese. The birds appeared to be frightened and when our informant saw them last appeared to be keeping ahead of the plane.—Cobourg Sentinel Star.
