Faweett—McMullen—A happy autumn wedding took place on Tuesday, Sept. 30, at 5 30 o'clock, just as the shades of evening were drawing nigh, at the home of Mr, and Mrs Robt. McMullen of East Mountain, when their eldest daughter, Jessie Mildred, a highly esteemed young lady, became the bride of Mr. Alexander Fawcett, a popular young Kimberley man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. McVicar, pastor of the bride, in the presence of about 60 of the immediate friends of the contracting parties. The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father. She took her place under a beautiful curtain arch, artistically decorated, while the wedding march was played by Miss Muriel Carruthers, cousin of the bride. The bride looked [illegible] in a gown of white silk eolian [illegible] over a silver organette crepe overskirt, beaded in [illegible] She wore a long embroidered veil and a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of maiden hair fern and carnations. Her travelling suit was of navy blue satin de chene with hat to match. While the register was being signed Miss Mae Carruthers sang sweetly "Oh Promise Me." The groom's gift to the organist was a sunburst of pearls and to the bride a sett of furs. After the ceremony they were ushered to the dining room, which was decorated for the occasion, where all enjoyed a sumptuous wedding supper. The presents were numerous. The happy couple will reside on the groom's farm at Kimberley.

C. W. Chadwick Dead

Mr. C. W. Chadwick, an old time citizen of Artemesia, passed away at his home at Islington on Wednesday, Sept. 24. Referring to his death the Mail Empire said:

"Another prominent figure in the financial world has been removed by the death of Mr. Charles W. Chadwick, president and manager of the Colonial Realty and Securities Corporation. The deceased was born in Artemesia township, Grey county, 65 years ago In his early days he was a school teacher and afterwards an inspector Relinquishing the educational profession he entered upon a financial career on the staff of the Dominion Life Assurance Co., resigning therefrom to join the organization of which he was president at the time of death. He was a member of Parkdale Methodist church, of the Masonic order, I.O.O.F. and A.O.F. His wife predeceased him in May last and his son, Flight Commander Arnold J. Chadwick, D.F.C., was drowned off the Belgian coast in July, 1917. His daughter, Mrs. [illegible] B. King, Islington, is the sole survivor." The funeral took place Friday to Prospect cemetery. Deceased was a brother of Mrs. Bulmer, Flesherton.

Reply to Mr. Lucas

Mr. Editor,—The United farmers of Centre Grey wish to reply to Hon. I. B Lucas' manifesto.

In the first place, nearly the whole document is untrue and misleading. His account of the U.F.O. convention at Rocklyn has scarcely a word of truth in it. He says a few, to be exact nine, U. F. O. officials met and decided to bring out a candidate. This is untrue, as the first meeting was called for the purpose of finding out the wishes of the people, and there were more than nine; and the delegates represented the whole riding. The writer represented a club of more than 400 members. Other delegates represented almost the whole riding, and on the strength of their representation Mr. Parkinson called the convention to decide whether or not we would nominate a candidate. At the second convention, Mr. Lucas says, that Mr. Donald Palmer of St Vincent moved that the U.F.O. place a candidate in the field, which is correct and effectually contradicts his first statement, as it would not be necessary to decide that question twice. He says, I am told that more than 40 of the 97 delegates were sent by one club, which is correct except as to the total of delegates, as there were more than 97, and the club in question has over 400 members. He complains that nobody but a U.F.O. man could be elected a candidate. Surely he knows that it was a U.F.O. convention and would not be expected to nominate anything else. He says nobody else could speak or vote at the meeting, which is not true, as two ladies spoke there, and there were delegates who did not belong to any club and were entitled to both speak and vote. Delegates were chosen by the clubs, and any locality not represented by a club had the opportunity of meeting and choosing delegates, and many of them did so. He says the meeting was not an open, representative meeting of the farmers of Centre Grey, which is not correct, as when D. J. Palmer's motion was put it was an open meeting and everybody voted regardless of credentials, and there were only six dissentient votes and they were not all delegates. There were seven men nominated at the convention, and the club with over forty delegates nominated Mr. George H. Jolley, who in the past has been a Conservative and all his family have been the same. He withdrew in Mr. Carmichael's favor when he learned he was a soldier and had fought for his country. The Liberal party had absolutely nothing to do with Mr. Carmichael's nomination. He was nominated by his neighbors, 87½ per cent. of whom were Conservative. Hoping that this may correct any false impressions created by the misleading statements in the manifesto of Hon. I. B. Lucas,

Yours truly,
—D. J. PALMER
