Mr. McMaster has been drilling a well for F. G. Karstedt and after going down about 80 feet small quantities of oil were found in the bailings enough to spoil the water for household purposes, and Mr. Karstedt began to think he was hoodoed so far as a water supply is concerned. Mr. McMaster continued drilling into the rock and thinks he can shut out the oil by casing into the rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Down moved to town last week. Previous to leaving the farm at Hatherton Mr. and Mrs. Down were entertained at the home of Mr. James Winters. The former was presented with Masonic emblem cuff buttons and Mrs. Down with two pieces of cut glass. These were accompanied by a warmly worded address of farewell. The Advance tenders its word of hearty welcome to our new citizens.

The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church gave a fowl supper on Friday evening last to a large crowd. The supper was a choice one with any amount of eatables in great variety including duck, goose and chicken, pies, cakes, salads, garnishes, relishes and snow apples on the handsomely decorated tables. A full program was afterwards rendered. The proceeds amounted to over $115.

The canvas for the 1919 Victory Loan opened on Monday of this week and will last for three weeks, ending November 15th. The amount asked for from the Flesherton District is $200,000 and the canvassers are J, A. Legard, G. A. McTavish and T. J, Fisher. Now that the Hun is shelved the government need the money to pay for the war debts. There are very few people in this district who cannot buy one or more bonds and everyone should buy as many as possible. The interest on the investment is good and you have the same security as you have for a dollar bill. Get your cheque books ready and give the canvassers all the help possible.

On Sunday, October 19, following a stroke of apoplexy, William Henderson passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alex. Hastings, Woodstock. He was in his 85th year and was at one time a resident of Flesherton. The Real Reason

Of the numerous reasons advanced for the defeat of the Hearst government the most fantastic comes from the Owen Sound Sun Times. Ia has unearthed the "really truly" reason and this is what it says :

"The incapacity of many of the Ministers of the Government had a great deal to do with the results and the demand for a change seems to have been very general throughout Ontario. The people apparently demand progressive legislation and in this respect the department formerly presided over by Hon. I. B. Lucas seemed to be the purticular target for all opposition. He was flagrantly unresponsive to the call for prosecution of trusts and his inactivity had not only a great deal to do with his own defeat but with the collapse of the government and defeat of so many of the government candidates throughout the province. The form of ballot on which the people were asked to give their views on the referendum was also one of the straws that helped to break the government's back as many temperance people could not forgive the government the evidently well thought out plan to divide the vote. That the province as a whole demanded temperance legislation of the most advanced character was evident from the votes, although some centres of population, where the foreign element is very large, polled heavy votes for the last question on the referendum, with regard to the establishment of government liquor stores."

Samuel Irwin Died

Mr. Samuel Irwin of the suburbs died on Friday evening last after a short confinement to his bed from ulceration of the stomach, at the age of 63 years Mr. Irwin had been a sufferer for some time, although the disease had only recently taken the acute form. He had consulted a specialist and an Owen Sound expert was called in a couple of days before his death. The deceased gentleman was born on the farm where he died. He married Miss Martha Wright of Osprey, who survives him, together with three sons and one daughter—Gordon, Fred, Will and Mabel. He also leaves one brother and two sisters, Oliver of Kimberley, Mrs. Robert Thompson also of Kimberley, and Mrs. Jacob Thompson of the Meaford Road. Mr. Irwin was highly respected and the family have the deep sympathy of all. The funeral took place to Flesherton cemetery on Monday afternoon of this week.
