The Advance has received a very interesting letter from an old time friend, Dr. R. H. Henderson of Toronto, which we would like to print, but our limited space this week prevents. The letter deals with phenomenal weather conditions and quotes from a noted astronomer, who points out that "tremendous things are going to happen from December 17 to 20 and thereafter." On Dec. 17 no less than six planets will be in conjunction—Mercury, Mars, Venus, Jupiter, Saturn and Neptune—the greatest "League of Planets" ever known in the annals of astronomy. This is expected to create extraordinary weather conditions this week, as the whole solar system will be strangely out of balance. As the disturbance may continue for some time we will try to print the Dr's. letter in full next week. It will be interesting to our readers.

The funeral took place on Monday to Flesherton cemerery.

It was decided at a meeting of hockeyists on Monday evening to try to enter a team in the Intermediate O. H. A. Although a little late the boys think it can be worked yet. Our rink is of regulation size and very suitable for the purpose. A list of officers and full particulars will be published next week.

Met Mr. Drury

The Advance had the pleasure on Friday last of making one of the delegation that waited on Premier Drury in Toronto in the interests of Hydro Electric. The object of the convening of 300 delegates was to petition for the appointment of Sir Adam Beck as chairman for a period of six years or more, and a representation on the Board by the interested municipalities. Hon. Mr. Drury expressed a deep interest in hydro and was extremly sympathetic in his reception of the delegation. He would like to see the current supplied to everybody.

There were two things which particularly struck The Advance man with regard to the Premier. One was his extreme youthfulness and the other his very courteous demeanor and easy and correct handling of the King's English. He may not be an orator, but neither is his vocabulary a narrow one. He is a pleasing speaker and a sympthetic listener, as the ladies have already discovered, judging by his apology on Friday last for being so long detained by a feminine delegation whom, he said, "had more to say than he thought they had !"

We doubt if there was a single man on that delegation who was not more than favorably impressed by Mr. Drury's attitude and satisfied that his ideals and ambitions were along the right lines. Also that he has a level head and if allowed to carry out these ideals and ambitions will prove the wisdom of the people in giving him his opportunity.

On Friday of last week no less than three accidents happened in the factories at Walkerton. Lawrence Hesch had a quarter inch stick drove clean through his left hand while working at the Knechtel factory. John Flewelling had a hole bored in his left hand with a rimming machine at the Bobbin factory and Fred Goodwin of the Rattan factory had some glass so deeply embedded in his left hand that he had to have the services of a doctor to have it taken out.

Two Brant men were up before the magistrate at Walkerton last week charged with clipping the main and tai off a horse belonging to Jim Rogers of Maple Hill. Both parties pleaded guilty and were fined.

A contingent of thirty wounded and crippled veterans from the Great War will, commencing with January next take up residence for six months in Walkerton, where they will be taught reed work at the Rattan Factory here, under the tuition of Mr. J. Ferguson, a returned soldier, who has been commissioned by the Government to instruct them in this work. This is part of the Government's vocational training program in an effort to fit the ex-warriors for civilian life again.—Bruce Herrld and Times.

WHAT A NURSE FOUND.

While making her visiting rounds one morning a nurse of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives discovered a particularly sad case.

On a dingy street, in a hovel which they called "home" she found a mother dying of consumption.

The house was in a filthy condition, soiled garments, unwashed dishes, and food, lay about, even in the bedroom itself there stood a loaf of bread and an uncovered bottle of milk.

Amidst it all two children played, both too young to help or to realize that they would soon be left alone. The mother died before an ambulance could be summoned.

This is but typical of the wastage of consumption; the poor are its especial victims. Too ill to work they are unable to supply even the necessities of life. You will wish to help. This can best be done by assisting our Hospital work.

Contributions may be sent to Sir William Gage, 84 Spadina avenue, or George A. Reid, 223 College street, Toronto.

Red Star
Washes Quickly

This machine washes quickly, for it runs at a high speed. The gentlest push on the handle will send the fly wheel spinning, and the gentlest pressure keeps it spinning at this rapid rate until the washing is done. The clothes are swirled through the hot suds at three times the rate they can be washed by hand. In a few minutes the dirtiest garments are snowy clean. The hard work of washing the clothes is abolished. The Red Star Washer is a blessing to any housekeeper.

Call at the store to see this washer or have us send one up.
