DURHAM

A little four year son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Griff, who is the local representative of the Bell Telephone Co. outside service, narrowly escaped death by drowning on Friday afternoon of last week shortly after 4 o'clock, but was pulled out little the worse of his ducking by Messrs Norman Zimmer and W. J. McGirr. The little fellow was having a slide on the ice and slid off into the running water in the centre of the stream and was being fast carried down stream. The young lad, who is not yet old enough to understand the seriousness of his predicament, was not even scared by the accident, and was up and about the next day as if nothing had happened. The sagacity of man's best four-footed friend, the dog, was again demonstrated, when Mr. Griff's dog, a collie, jumped in after his young master and made frantic efforts to pull him ashore, but in vain. The next day the dog was the more used up of the two, but when the young lad was ready to go out his faithful friend was ready for the trail again. Mr. Griff says that the dog is getting old and that he had thought of making way with him on several occasions. He has now changed his mind.

The meeting called for last Friday afternoon in the Library to discuss the Memorial Monument question was a successful one in that they came to a definite decision that a monument will be erected in Durham, possibly in the early spring, and commitee consisting of W. Calder, T. McAlister and B. Coutts was appointed to make the purchase. The committee have secured from the Town Council the land adjacent to the Fire Hall and Hydro Sub-Station and will place the monument here, and at the same time fix up the grounds as a park. Estimates have already been received from different firms who specialize in this kind of work and we are informed that the monument will be a credit to the town and vicinity.—Chronicle.

The people of this vicinity were greatly shocked last week on reading from the Toronto dailies of the shocking accident in the flour mill at Dresden, Ont., by which the 9 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Francis lost his life by being caught in the gearing in the mill and the young life crushed out in an instant.
