FAST HANDLING OF FREIGHT

The most modern freight yard in North America, the Canadian Pacific Railway's new $12,000,000 St. Luc "hump retarder" freight terminal at Montreal, which will speed movement of goods through that busy seaport and railway centre, was officially opened by Canada's Transport Minister, the Hon. Lionel Chevrier, K.C., (right of inset) shown as he inspects the retarder controls for the yard with N. R. Crump (left vice-president, Canadian Pacific Railway, and J. O. Asselin (centre) president. executive council, City of Montreal. The main view shows the classification yard from the crest of the hump, depicting cars in motion down the hump and showing the car retarders in the foreground. Moving down the hump under the force of gravity, the cars are electrically switched and braked, coming to a stop in their pre-determined position in the classification yard. The Canadian Pacific was the first road in North America to adopt the automatic switching principle. The yard also boasts such modern railroading innovations as an under-track inspection pit to enable all rolling stock passing through the yard to be examined for defects; an automatic track weighing scale that weighs cars in three-and-a-half seconds while they are in motion down the hump; a 37-stall enginehouse, equipped with direct steaming apparatus to eliminate smoke; and 100-foot towers mounted with floodlights and placed at strategic points for night operations. In all, over 75 miles of track, capable of holding 4,869 cars, were required for the terminal, which actually is a series of three operational yards with ther auxiliary yards and which measures over three and a half miles in length and over a square mile in area.

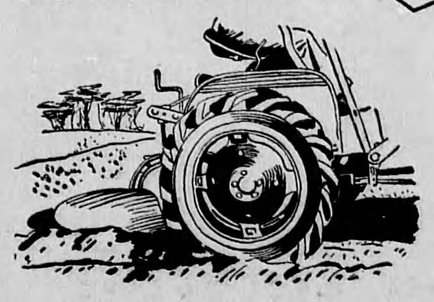
KNOW YOUR SOIL TYPE

SUCCESSFUL FARMING



Poor yields make a farmer poor . . . and it's often unnecessary. In most cases, if you but knew what your soil lacked, you could do something about it.

Now-a-days this expert knowledge is available to every farmer in Canada. If your yields are below par it will pay you to ask your nearest Experimental Farm or Agricultural College for information re soil testing.

Once you learn what your land requires, there may be another stumbling block in your path—lack of ready money to go ahead and make the suggested improvements.

Maybe we could help you here, with a Farm Improvement Loan. For 95 years this bank has been helping to finance responsible farmers. In that time, we have helped many along the road to greater prosperity. We would like to help you, too.
